Szymon Wróbel, Krzysztof Skonieczny

Rethinking Materialism Szymon Wróbel, Krzysztof Skonieczny, 2025-07-05 Taking as its starting point the diagnosis that events such as the pandemic, the ecological crisis, and the increasingly volatile international situation have made our relationship to the world problematic, the book aims to survey the ways in which this new situation can be productively theorized. Its three parts focus on: discourses of the “loss” of the world; attempts at resistance to this loss and regaining the “common” world; and discussions of matter as the “stuff” of the world.

Art of Ford Madox Brown Kenneth Bendiner, 2010-11-01 This is the first comprehensive history devoted to the art of Ford Madox Brown (1821-93), in which his paintings establish him as a major figure in the most important new art movement of Victorian England, Pre-Raphaelitism. The book presents a new explanation of the development and basic aims of Pre-Raphaelite art as a whole and offers a revealing discussion of the power and importance of the humor and negative spirit that run throughout Brown's work. It also ties Brown's realist approach to British decorative taste at midcentury and redefines his place in the Aesthetic Movement, a cultural trend that dominated the latter half of the nineteenth century. In addition, the artist's socialist leanings and nationalistic tendencies, expressed in depictions of workers, children, women, and religious scenes, are set out more fully than in any previous literature on the artist.

American Masters: the Voice and the Myth Brian O'Doherty, 1973 An intimate and stimulating look at the private lives and the work of eight famous modern American artists by the editor of Art in America.

The Drawings of Raymond Lafage Nathan T. Whitman, 2013-11-11 List of Illustrations xiii The Life I The Style 19 Contents The Drawings 40 Appraisal and Evaluation 64 Bibliography 79 Notes 82 Index 90 Illustrations vii The French seventeenth century remains at the present moment one of the few areas in the history of later western art which still needs intensive study. Even the work of Poussin, its most outstanding painter and the object of a continuous stream of encomiums stretching back to his own life time, has only recently begun to be explored with the full scholarly apparatus of contemporary art history, and a definitive monograph is probably still some years in the future. Le Nain and the Le Nain brothers have been introduced into the company of great artists only within the past Foreword quarter century, and with significant discoveries still being made complete evaluations are as yet not even to be contemplated. After numerous casual encounters with the frequently handsome if astonishingly varied canvases of Bourdon, one becomes suspicious of the ever repeated dismissal of his work as merely eclectic and longs for a revealing analysis of his purposes and patronage. The harsh Latinity of Valentin, the sumptuous strangeness of Vignon, the audacious languor of Antoine Coypel, these are some of the many topics that still await careful investigation and evaluation.

Making the Marvelous Rori Bloom, 2022-06 Rori Bloom demonstrates that Marie-Catherine d'Aulnoy (1652-1705) and Henriette-Julie de Murat (1670-1716) changed the stakes of the fairy tale: instead of inviting their readers to marvel at the magic that changes rags to riches, they enjoined them to acknowledge the skill that transforms raw materials into beautifully made works of art.
