A History of Broadcasting in New Zealand: The radio years Patrick Day, 1994 The first of two volumes, commissioned by the Broadcasting History Trust, on the history of a major aspect of twentieth-century New Zealand This volume begins with the early experiments into wireless telegraphy by Ernest Rutherford and ends with the New Zealand Broadcasting Service in the 1950s, just before the advent of television. Topics dealt with are the development and geographical spread of transmission and reception facilities, the political debates about broadcasting and consequential institutional changes, the interventionist role of the state in broadcasting, programming style and content, and the social and cultural consequences of broadcasting. Some of the more flamboyant characters who shaped New Zealand broadcasting are described in this volume: James Shelley (The Prof), the first Director of Broadcasting, Daisy Basham (Aunt Daisy), who woke up the nation with her Good morning , everybody and, of course, Colin Scrimgeour, the populist and controversial broadcaster known to everyone as Uncle Scrim, who stirred up public debate and goaded the government until he was silenced by the jamming of 1ZB on the eve of the 1935 election life.
