Social Media in South India Shriram Venkatraman, 2017-06-09 One of the first ethnographic studies to explore use of social media in the everyday lives of people in Tamil Nadu, Social Media in South India provides an understanding of this subject in a region experiencing rapid transformation. The influx of IT companies over the past decade into what was once a space dominated by agriculture has resulted in a complex juxtaposition between an evolving knowledge economy and the traditions of rural life. While certain class tensions have emerged in response to this juxtaposition, a study of social media in the region suggests that similarities have also transpired, observed most clearly in the blurring of boundaries between work and life for both the old residents and the new. Venkatraman explores the impact of social media at home, work and school, and analyses the influence of class, caste, age and gender on how, and which, social media platforms are used in different contexts. These factors, he argues, have a significant effect on social media use, suggesting that social media in South India, while seeming to induce societal change, actually remains bound by local traditions and practices.

Imagine That! Lane Longino Waas, 2000 Imagine That Awareness Through Imagery, 2nd Edition, written by Dr. Lane Longino Waas, is a simple, easy-to-use guide to help individuals (PreK-Adult) understand and develop their various intelligences in only minutes a day by using imagery. The clear, step-by-step information contained in this book includes many fresh and exciting new imagery exercises written for people of all ages. It also shows readers how to create their own imagery exercises for enhancing any area of learning. Adding to the established core of knowledge in the first edition, Dr. Waas offers readers interesting new ways to utilize personal or group imagery to enhance all the intelligences. The activities are written so that, with a few changes of wording, each one may be used with/by people of all ages. Specifically, Imagine That 2nd Edition, adds activities which relate to Howard Gardner's eighth intelligence, the Naturalist Intelligence and to Daniel Goleman's Emotional Intelligence. The edition of these two intelligences rounds out current scientific understanding about the ways we think and perceive our world. The direct relation of imaging exercises to curriculum helps readers learn these nine intelligences: -- Logical-Mathematical -- Musical -- Bodily-Kinesthetic -- Intrapersonal -- Emotional -- Verbal-Linguistic -- Visual-Spatial -- Interpersonal -- Naturalist. The activities were designed to: meet an educational or life goal, reinforce one or more of the intelligences, demonstrate imagery use in mental, physical, emotional, and spiritual applications, and most importantly to provide an enjoyable experience for both children and adults. These goals are accomplished by providing over 50 pages of imagery exercises designed to reinforce one or more of the nine intelligences.
