Is God Is / What to Send Up When It Goes Down Aleshea Harris, 2022-04-05 “Furious and incandescent... Harris writes so blisteringly that the actors could just let the language’s flames carry them along.” —Helen Shaw, Time Out New York on Is God Is An explosive epic that examines the cyclical nature of violence, Is God Is follows twin sisters who undertake a dangerous journey to exact revenge upon their father at the behest of their dying mother. “Aleshea Harris turns theater into a monument, ephemeral but real, to ongoing pain. You can’t tear down a statue that never shows up outside.” —Vinson Cunningham, New Yorker on What to Send Up... What to Send Up When It Goes Down is a play-pageant-ritual response to anti-Blackness in America. It is a challenge to us all: to heal through expression, expulsion, and movement.

seven methods of killing kylie jenner Jasmine Lee-Jones, 2021-08-24 Look it's two-two tweets that helped me vent my frustrations. It's really not that deep... Holed up in her bedroom, Cleo's aired twenty-two Whatsapps from Kara and has cut off contact with the rest of the world. It doesn't mean she's been silent though - she's got a lot to say. On the internet, actions don't always speak louder than words... seven methods of killing kylie jenner explores cultural appropriation, queerness, friendship and the ownership of black bodies online and IRL. Jasmine Lee-Jones's award-winning play premiered at London's Royal Court Theatre in 2019 and transferred to the Jerwood Theatre Downstairs in June 2021.

The Kilroys List, Volume Two Annah Feinberg and Gina Young for The Kilroys, 2020-05-19 The Kilroys: We Make Trouble. And Plays. When I look at the list of women and nonbinary writers included in this volume, many of whom I have mentored or taught, it is a beautiful reminder that we are a community to be reckoned with, and that there is an abundance of vital narratives awaiting a larger audience. While there remains a great deal of work to be done to reach racial and gender equity in the theater, the powerful and provocative writing presented here is part of the inciting incident that will no doubt shake up the status quo. —Lynn Nottage, from her Foreword The Kilroys are back with a new collection of 67 monologues and scenes by women and nonbinary playwrights. This collection includes a monologue or scene from each play from the 2016 and 2017 editions of The List.

Women Experimenting in Theatre Kate Aughterson, Deborah Philips, 2024-11-14 This collection of essays, covering a broad historical range, shows that women working in theatre and drama since the time of Aphra Behn have been engaged in pushing the boundaries of conventional representation and dramaturgical convention. Collectively the authors show that women have used performing spaces as a channel for both political and personal radicalism - one that has demanded and celebrated experimentalism as a kind of survival in a male dominated world.

What To Send Up When It Goes Down Aleshea Harris, 2019 As lines between characters and actors - as well as observers and observed - blur, a dizzying series of vignettes builds to a climactic moment in which performance and reality collide, highlighting the absurdity of anti-Blackness in our society. Through facilitation and dialogue we must decide how to cope, resist, and move forward.

As God Loves Me Jacqueline Hardy Harris, 2018-08 A treasured collection of the sermons of Pastor Jacqueline Hardy Harris, woven together in love and infinite wisdom.

The God I Know Michael L. Harris, 2017-10-25 My 40 year search for God. Is there a God or many gods? If so, who or what is God? Would we recognize God if we met God face to face? If there is a God, why do I need God? How can I know the Bible is true? How old is it and how old is the earth? Science says the earth is billions of years old. The Bible only covers about six thousand years. What is true, science or the Bible? What if they're both true? What about LGBTQ people. Can God possibly love them? Yes! God loves everyone. These and many other questions may be on your mind. This daily reflection is a one page a day, Bible study book that answers many unanswered questions. We seem to live in a microwave age, don't we? Rush here, hurry there. Our time tables require so much of our day; and offer so little time for prayer, reflecting and reading God's word. In 1977, at age 32, I felt as if there was no longer a reason for me to live. I contemplated suicide. I even went to a hardware store and searched out suicide possibilities. I was restless and discontent. I was unhappy. I thought if I got out of my marriage, I could be happy. I divorced a wonderful wife of ten plus years, and left her and our two wonderful children, to pursue happiness. I was a troubled soul and most a miserable person. I experimented with marijuana and drank alcohol heavily, trying to deaden the pain and the void, which I felt inside. The harder I tried to find happiness, the worse my life became. Never the less, the pursuit of happiness became as a full-time obsession. During my struggle to find happiness and meaning, I received a copy of a daily reflection, from a television evangelist, that put me on the path of my spiritual journey and eventual recovery. All these years later, I include a daily reflections in my routine. I read in the morning; when possible. What I found in so doing, was that the daily discipline of doing so, has more or less assisted me in staying on the spiritual path. I never found happiness. I look on it now as a fickle friend. However, I found contentment, which to me is more valuable than riches. Also I found God! I not only found God, I discovered who God is - God's name and nature. I discovered that God desires to have a personal relationship with those searching for God. And that God will go to every extreme measure to help us find God. When the idea came to me to write this book, it came to me as such: wouldn't it be nice if you shared with the people: your struggles and your journey of searching for God in an authentic and honest way. Pulling no punches. The thought also occurred to me to share the hundreds of mysteries to and in the Bible, which I discovered in over 40 years of intense study. These are things I never learned in church or from other preachers or teachers - other than the Holy Spirit God. So I decided to do that and incorporate those mysteries of he Bible and God, in a brief format. Most of us are so busy with our daily lives that we don't have much time for real Bible study. So this book is a one page a day book. The page correlates with the month and day of the year. There are 366 pages, including one for leap year. It takes only a minute or two to read the daily page. There are hundreds of Bible scriptures in this book. Each page generally has one scripture for the page title. However, spread throughout the book are correlative scriptures, which will help drive home the point of the page title. If you don't have time to look up those Bible verses, no problem. You can just read the one written scripture. Do whatever works best for you.
