Animal Farm II - The Machine Crystal-Dawn,2022-08-07 In 2022, a solar flare set global events into effect that would bring about the positive change sought by all. A Canadian Parole intent on writing Animal Farm Part II stumbles upon 1984 in her research of George Orwell. It is believed George's failing health to be cause for the thin veil that existed between our worlds as he tapped into knowledge of the future from the universe. She compares current society with that predicted to create wildlife characters for Animal Farm Part II. Surely with so many decades past, the Farm Animals had all diversified to a wide range of species globally. Ever since the Pigs and Men had met that fateful night on Manor Farm, a terrifying doom faced the Planet as The Machine drained the resources. Could the Machine be stopped? George Orwell gave us the secret in 1984, and in 2022, knowledge from the Akashic Records was ready to be released to the World!

Project Animal Farm Sonia Faruqi,2015-07-15 Sonia Faruqi had an Ivy League degree and a job on Wall Street. But when the banking industry collapsed, she found herself on a small organic dairy farm that would change her life for the better, although it didn't seem that way in the beginning. First, she had to come to grips with cows shocked into place, cannibal chickens, and free range turkeys that went nowhere. But there were bright lights as well: happy, frolicking calves on a veal farm, and farmers who cared as much about the animals as their pocketbooks. What started as a two-week volunteer vacation turned into a journey that reached into the darkest recesses of the animal agriculture industry. Surrounded by a colorful cast of characters, Faruqi's quest to discover the truth about modern agribusiness took her around the world. Lively, edgy, and balanced, Project Animal Farm sheds light on the international agribusiness, with the ultimate goal of improving the lives of farm animals here at home. Using her finance background to forecast the future of agriculture, Faruqi discusses the changes we need to make—using our forks and our votes.

Psychological and Social Control through Net Monitoring: Knowing More about Social Media Addiction and Infringement of Privacy Rights through the Net Dueep Jyot Singh, John Davidson, 2018-04-01 Table of Contents Introduction Computer Access through Downloads The Social Media Addiction The Danger of Search Engines like Google and All Its Based Services, Including Google Apps and Google Play Monitoring through Apps The Danger of Google Docs Monitoring through Smart Phone and Cell Phones Obsessive Control over What You Should or Should Not Watch Knowing More about Net Neutrality Conclusion Limited or no access to sites Author Bio Publisher Introduction This book is for all of those people, who are slowly and steadily getting an inkling about the invidious ways in which the net is being used to do social control, psychological warfare, through illegal net monitoring. Also, it is going to talk about one of the direst problems being faced by millennials and youngsters today, a total addiction to the net, cell phones, smart phones, iPads, computers, desktops, laptops, and any other system which connects you on to the Internet. Not only is this a very dangerous social trend, but it is also going to affect you psychologically, emotionally, physically and mentally. But nobody thinks of these long-term effects because they are so busy browsing on the Internet and believing everything that they read on it. Also, I want to tell you about a more disturbing trend which is being practiced by governments and agencies upon a number of countries all over the earth, including America. That is, that they intend to monitor the sites that you see, decide which sites are all right for public viewing, which sites, according to the government are definitely not suitable for public viewing because they may tell some home truths about what the administration is up to, and such tactics, which put your society on a war holding an emergency status, especially when the government is monitoring everything you do. You may not know it and believe it, but if you have a Gmail address, the government of your country is already monitoring your location. And if you want to know the reason why, there is absolutely no justified reason or proper reason they can give unless of course they want to burble something about national security. Think of the wider picture, in psychological terms. You are under close monitoring CCTV with every single action that you do going without your knowledge to some computer somewhere where it does here is being made upon you. All through your net, your social site links, your tweets, your Facebook account, your Google account, the documents you have uploaded on Google, the comments you have made on sites on the Internet and so on. You may say that I am being paranoid, neurotic, schizophrenic, because I am a fully functioning sociopath like Sherlock. But then, I see further than most other people do and most other people could be bothered about thinking, because they have been taught not to think. According to them, thinking is dangerous, because any sort of initiative, creativity, imagination, wondering why this is being done has been punished out of them, since childhood. And they are living in democratic countries. These are the countries which are supplying their children with drugs so that they do not become rebels when they grow up as teenagers. No wonder with such a paranoid attitude on the part of the administration and the government, is it a wonder that people all over the world are beginning to wonder about this addiction to the social media, and how it can influence you psychologically and emotionally as well as physically and mentally.
