Fish Out of Water Eric Metaxas,2021-02-02 What Happens When One of America's Most Admired Biographers Writes His Own Biography? For Eric Metaxas, the answer is Fish Out of Water: A Search for the Meaning of Life—a poetic and sometimes hilarious memoir of his early years, in which the Queens-born son of Greek and German immigrants struggles to make sense of a world in which he never quite seems to fit. Renowned for his biographies of William Wilberforce, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, and Martin Luther, Metaxas is the author of five New York Times bestsellers, the witty host of the acclaimed Socrates in the City conversation series, and a nationally syndicated radio personality. But here he reveals a personal story few have heard, taking us from his mostly happy childhood—and riotous triumphs at Yale—to the nightmare of drifting toward a dark abyss of meaninglessness from which he barely escapes. Along the way he introduces us to an unforgettable troupe of picaresque characters who join this quintessentially first-generation American boy in what is both bildungsroman and odyssey—and which underscores just how funny, serious, happy, sad, and ultimately meaningful life can be.

A Fish Out of Water, Whatever to do? Jade Verrigni,2025-02-24 We are becoming aware that more children than ever before are struggling with their emotional regulation and sensory processing. This book provides a platform for us--the teachers, parents and extended families and friends--to realize that the difficulties our children are experiencing is a real struggle for them. It depicts for the children that they are loved and accepted for who they truly are. It is up to them to accept themselves as they are and choose their path for their present and future! A Fish Out of Water: Whatever to do? is here to show our children that we will support them in any way we can, and we want them to know that! The heartfelt watercolor paintings also show the children that if you look close enough, they will see they are not the only ones having difficulties as they navigate their feelings and senses. The world truly can be theirs to conquer. We can do this!

Fish(y) Out of Water L. B. Carter, 2019-02-25 Suzanna Kane's move to big-city Boston might have been the first failure in Plan: Adult Life that a bottle of wine couldn't fix. The only thing unpacked in Zanna's new post-university, parent-free apartment was her pet fish. And it was dead....As was the body she stumbled over later that night. These feel like omens for something fishier when an anonymous author starts emailing a chapter a day to her publishing firm of a serial murder plot that all too coincidentally seems to mirror her own life, blurring reality and fiction and threatening to leave her belly up in the Charles River no matter how many pets she replaces to appease Karma.
