Blacksburg Branch (Va.),1926 This collection consists of official records and periodicals from the AAUW, Virginia Tech Chapter and the National AAUW including minutes, administrative records, state and national convention programs, awards and scholarships, publications, and other materials concerning community outreach from 1926-2008.

The History of the American Association of University Women of Virginia ,2014 In March 1925, there assembled in Williamsburg, Virginia, a group of Virginia women, called together to form a Virginia state division of the American Association of University Women. From its formation and throughout its first eighty-five years, AAUW of Virginia has been a major force in the women's movement. The efforts of this organized group of educated women have had a considerable influence on the Commonwealth's history as they continue to promote equity and education for women and girls. Much has been done, but there is still much more to do.--from publisher's description.

American Association of University Women, Pittsburgh, Records ,1967 This addition consists of meeting minutes, AAUW Branch Bulletins, membership, yearbooks, amended by-laws, and CD/DVDs of speakers.

American Association of University Women, New York State Division Records American Association of University Women. New York Division, 1920 The archive of the New York State Division of the American Association of University Women consists of agendas and minutes for board meetings and conventions, information sent to branch presidents, reports, and printed material. Incomplete runs of two of the Division's publications, AAUW New York Leader and AAUW New Yorker are also on file in the Department. The first ten boxes of the archive were placed in the University of Rochester Library by the New York State Division of the American Association of University Women in June, 1977; box 11 was added to the collection in May, 1979; box 12 was added in July, 1986 and subsequently. In 1993 more materials concerning the American Association of University Women, New York State Division were added to the University of Rochester's Rare Books and Special Collections' holdings. Boxes 13-15 continue this collection with correspondence, memos, materials and publications from the National Association. The national association has three distinct sections: Association, Legal Advocacy Fund and Educational Foundation. Each performs a particular function with the common interest of the advancement of women and education. The Association serves as a national network to release information and guidance to promote education and social action at the local, state, national and international levels. The Legal Advocacy Fund (LAF) provides financial aid and a support system for women seeking legal redress for sex discrimination in higher education. The Educational Foundation awards millions of dollars in grants, fellowships, and awards to help women advance in their academic and professional lives. Boxes 16-25 deal primarily with the correspondence, mailings, individual branches projects and publications of the New York

State division of this organization. In box 17 the majority of the material is correspondence (1970-1989) and information of the Corporate Representative- a women faculty member, administrator or alumna to serve as liaison between the institution and AAUW. Boxes 18-20 are comprised of the individual branches throughout the state. The last two boxes contain the programs and letters from the Division Conventions, 1954-1992. In boxes 26-36 the materials are the financial records of the New York State Division of the organization. The majority of the records include the years 1983-1995; although some of the tax returns date back into the 1950's. The information is divided into sections that contain tax return forms (the 990 form which is used for tax exempt organizations), vouchers and disbursements of funds along with reports of branch membership dues. Ledgers were kept from year to year, however most of them are not complete. The Department of Rare Books and Special Collections received these materials on February 12, 2001. Boxes 36-58 include annual reports, meeting minutes, branch initiatives and policy statements.
