While societies attempt to reconcile their ancient as well as new cultural identities they silently and sometimes turbulently witness a state of dynamic flux unleashing powerful forces of further socio-cultural transition. India reflects a multitude of cultures both traditional and modern, that often blend, sometimes co-exist, at other times clash and at times fuse to give new meaning, form and expression in arts, language and culture. While contemporary Russian social and cultural trends break from the Soviet past, the newly independent States of the CIS in their assertion of national identities are distancing themselves from Russian language, literature, art forms and cultural heroes by either reviving lost traditions or attempting to find new cultural voices. These social and cultural transitions and transformations and the cultural history in the making in India and the CIS, need a close study. This book is a collection of critiques and essays by leading experts from diverse backgrounds from India, Russia and other CIS countries and brings together their insights and views on the rapid socio-cultural transition that these countries are passing through.

The Europa World of Learning 2007 Volume 2 Europa Publications, 2006 This volume is a comprehensive directory and guide to the organizations and institutions throughout the sphere of higher education and learning. It profiles some 30,000 academic institutions and over 200,000 staff and officials.

Mems/Nems Cornelius T. Leondes, 2006 As miniaturization, batch fabrication, and integrated electronics rapidly enable the development of a broad range of smart products, MEMs, MOEMS, and NEMS are creating enormous opportunities for commerce and functionality. This significant and uniquely comprehensive five-volume reference is a valuable source for research workers, practitioners, computer scientists, students, and technologists. The MEMS/NEMS HANDBOOK (Microelectromechanical Systems/Nanoelectromechanical Systems) covers all of the major topics within the subject including design methods, fabrication techniques, manufacturing methods, sensors and actuators, and Micro Optical Electro Mechanical Systems. The many applications of MEMS technology include computer devices, electronics, instrumentation, industrial process control, biotechnology, medicine, chemical systems, office equipment, and communications. More than 100 coauthors from nearly 20 countries present clearly written, self-contained, accessible and comprehensive contributions with helpful standard features including an introduction, summary, extensive figures and design examples with comprehensive reference lists. The remarkable breadth and depth of the topics spanning this diverse field require the 5-volume extent of this notable reference resource that is based on the work of an internationally recognized board of coauthors.

Common European Framework of Reference for Languages Council of Europe,2020 A must-have manual intended to promote quality plurilingual education, facilitate greater social mobility and stimulate reflection and exchange between language professionals for curriculum development and in teacher education. The CEFR Companion volume broadens the scope of language education. It reflects academic and societal developments since the publication of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and updates the 2001 version. It owes much to the contributions of members of the language teaching profession across Europe and beyond. This volume contains: (i) an explanation of the key aspects of the CEFR for teaching and learning; (ii) a complete set of updated CEFR descriptors that replaces the 2001 set with: (a) modality-inclusive and gender-neutral descriptors; (b) added detail on listening and reading; (c) a new Pre-A1 level, plus enriched description at A1 and C levels; (d) a replacement scale for phonological competence; (e) new scales for mediation, online interaction and plurilingual/pluricultural competence; (f) new scales for sign language competence; (iii) a short report on the four-year development, validation and consultation processes. The CEFR Companion volume represents another step in a process of engagement with language education that has been pursued by the Council of Europe since 1971 and which seeks to: (i) promote and support the learning and teaching of modern languages; (ii) enhance intercultural dialogue, and thus mutual understanding, social cohesion and democracy; (iii) protect linguistic and cultural diversity in Europe; and (iv) promote the right to quality education for all.

Youth Policy in Ukraine Ewa Krzaklewska,Howard Williamson,2013 Ukraine is the 19th country overall, and the third of the Commonwealth of Independent States (following Armenia and Moldova) to have its youth policies reviewed by the Council of Europe's interantional review team. Ukraine presented a range of new challenges: it was by far the largest country geographically and it embodied geo-political characteristics (from North t oSouth, and East to West) that are reflected in its philosophy and approach to youth development. This international review explores three issues of particular interest to the Ukrainian authorities: health and healthy lifestyles, employment and employability, and patriotic education and citizenship. In addition, the international review pays special attention to questions of youth participation and engagement, and to those groups of vulnerable young people who are most at risk of social exclusion. The review argues for the establishment of a more open development model for youth policy in Ukraine, supported by a clear strategic vision and the strengthening of its commitment to local capacity and autonomy in shaping relevant programmes and projects. In particular, it also advocates the promotion of more diverse methodologies in the implementation of youth policy, based on non-formal learning and skills-development principles.--P. [4] of cover.
