When You Die You Will Not Be Scared to Die Lindsay Tunkl, 2018-05-15 This brief artistic collection of fears around dying--and their ultimate futility in the face of the unknown--is a keepsake, a prayer book, a prompt for contemplation, and a gift to give to others to inspire conversations about the liberating power of death and what makes a good life. This small book of 24 meditations on death is intentionally repetitive and hypnotic in effect, and will inspire the reader to list what scares them most, come to terms with their own mortality, and realize what fears are holding them back from living a life fully with 100 percent commitment. It will appeal to anyone who wishes to live with greater intention and purpose and experience more joy and appreciation of the present moment. Buddhists and mindfulness practitioners, people who are aging, people who read the news and are worried, artists, people who are taking care of others who are dying, people who are dying (i.e., all of us ...), Tarot card readers and modern-day shamans will all find inspiration in these terse lists. Young people aghast at the adult world's seeming indifference to our mortality will especially relate to the uncompromising vision of this book.

THE GREATEST LIES EVER SOLD ELIAS DEMETRIOU, 2023-04-28 This book is the story of the Global Elites and their Great Reset. It focuses mainly on Covid-19 but also touches on other aspects of the agenda, including: the Russia/Ukraine conflict, the economic crisis, climate change and Artificial Intelligence. The author has provided much information through painstaking research and has re-written over 100 famous songs accordingly. Also included are dozens upon dozens of fascinating images relating to it all, including self-made memes. All of which are clever, funny and relevant to the cause. The intention is to wake up the masses to the great deception of the greatest lies ever sold.

From murals of the sentient life Tapashya Das Sinha, "A collection of poetic affairs- From Murals of the Sentient Life" "If I could ever have tasted life, I must have spoken of its taste, But life, since times, Have been testing me with its never-ending tests, Resulting, I could merely share the flavours, that discovered, Some unspoken utterance with rustic cover, Hence, I release my empathy of those unsung tales, From the collection of my poetic drawer" The contents of this book are the personal illustrations, illustrated during various experimental phases of life. All the poems are entitled to encourage, motivate and refill the depressed minds with internal motivation and end pessimism. The poems could enact as healer or ointment over certain eternal wounds. The collection of this book are enriched with the utmost extraction of nature and natural phenomenon which often goes unseen. As per my suggestion, 'reading between the lines' could be the greatest key to unlock the emotions of every single poem contained in this anthology.

Ink on paper Vishikha,2020-01-27 Ink on paper is the finest from the pen of a 13-year-old girl. The book is a perfect read for any time. It is a blend of emotions set in rhyme. There is something for everyone. Each chapter begins with a short story, setting the entire aura, and then, presents the poem. Question peoples presence with "Where were you then." Mourn with soldier's poor choice in life with "Regret in wars." Deal with heartbreaks and realize she moved on with "Happier." Each poem is a journey through the best and the worst of Vishikha. Won't you join her for one? "Played by the fools of sham, To find true people, there were none. I did say everyone is wearing a mask, But I never said they were wearing only one."

Dying to Ask Andrea Antinori,2024-11-19 Two writers and an illustrator walk into a book and find themselves with thirty-eight questions about death asked by boys and girls between 5 and 15 years old. How and what will they answer? For mortal beings of all ages comes Dying to Ask, the result of an international project where children were invited to ask questions about death based on a series of workshops. The result? Hundreds of questions from countries all over the world. Herein lies thirty-eight questions that best represented the breadth and depth of children's interest in death and related matters, complete with psychological and scientific proofing. Thoughtful, tender, and surprisingly joyful, this illustrated book is an invitation to talk, think, and ask further questions about death. Some of the questions: Will I die? Where do we go when we die? Will we all become extinct one day? If someone you love dies, how long are you sad for? Why do people say "rest in peace" rather than "rest in fun?"
