Real Talk: Because growing up feels like falling apart first Gurbani Gambhir, 2025-11-02 Real Talk is a personal growth and self-discovery book designed for teenagers and young adults who are figuring out life in a noisy, pressure-filled world. With a mix of honesty, humor, and hard truths, it tackles struggles we don't talk about enough—comparison, self-doubt, toxic productivity, emotional dependence, and the weight of expectations. Instead of sugar-coating or lecturing, the author speaks directly to the reader, offering both relatability and guidance. Each chapter reads like a conversation with a friend who tells it to you straight but also lifts you up when you're down. By blending personal stories, cultural realities, and thought-provoking insights, Real Talk helps readers embrace imperfection, build resilience, and redefine what it means to live fully. If you've ever felt lost, drained, or "not enough," this book will remind you that you already are.

Resilience for Filmmakers, Creatives & Solo Creators Nikhil Kamkolkar, 2025-10-05 The question: How do creative people keep making courageous work—and even grow—when the industry is unstable and the communities around them feel more draining than supportive? This book doesn't promise shortcuts. It offers a lantern, illuminating field-tested practices you can use the same day you read them. No fluff. No grand theories. Just enough light for the next step. Drawing on two decades in independent film and creative practice, Resilience for Filmmakers, Creatives & Solo Creators distills hard-won lessons into Lantern Learnings™—clear principles for protecting your energy, choosing better partners, navigating politics cleanly, and keeping your art alive when recognition lags. What's inside Act I: Becoming — build a steady base: grace, presence, role, and purpose. Act II: Belonging — navigate partnerships, communities, boundaries, and breakups without losing yourself. Act III: Evolving — practice resilience in the real world: grit to endure and alchemy to turn setbacks into fuel. You'll learn how to Set boundaries without drama and protect your attention. Right-size hustle vs. sacred partnerships and read the politics of the room. Close loops cleanly, recover faster after conflict, and keep creating when recognition lags. Use simple scripts, checklists, and field prompts you can revisit when your focus wavers. Shift from wondering if you'll ever make it to letting your purpose help you make consistently. Resilience isn't firework light. It's lantern light—ordinary, fragile, easy to overlook. But carried through the dark, it is enough. Carry the lantern. Keep walking. Create anyway.

Diary of a Crap Housewife Jessica Rowe, 2019-04-01 Why not cut the crap, take the pressure off and admit to the moments, days, weeks and months when the wheels of the household do fall off? 'Warning: this ain't no recipe book! But Jess's real, raw and often roaringly funny tales will nourish your soul. You'll devour it! And ask for seconds!' - Sarah Harris 'J-Ro's exuberance for this wonderful, sometimes messy and at times chaotic journey through life jumps joyfully out of each page. She's honest. She's disorganised. And she's got a heart of gold. Viva la Crap Housewife!' - Samantha Armytage Why not cut the crap, take the pressure off, and admit to the moments, days, weeks and months when the wheels fall off? In this fabulously funny, down-to-earth book, Diary of a Crap Housewife, Jessica Rowe writes honestly about her talent (or lack thereof) for cooking, about what's really important when it comes to mothering and family, and about her many and varied views, musings and commonsense advice on other crap housewife matters. As an added bonus, there are thirteen crap housewife recipes included, from Jessica's old favourite, spag bol, to a fresh and tasty Waldorf salad, and all so simple you can't go wrong. Being a crap housewife is a badge Jessica wears with pride, and it's a title she invites other women to embrace. The idea of crap lies in the real-life messes, hiccups, disasters and bad meals that many of us dish up and deal with every day. This mum is tired of the photos of perfectly packed school lunches, posts about gourmet family dinners eaten together at the table, and tales of neat, tidy and obedient children with smoothly brushed hair. It's time to reset the bar. Make expectations realistic. Strive to be kind, loving, smart and funny. Perfection is not required. 'Jess Rowe may be a crap housewife but she is a great writer and an even better friend. And she's right: I can be a bit of a smart arse.' - Joe Hildebrand

'This woman has enriched my life. And if you read this book your life will be enriched with honesty and love too!' - Denise Drysdale

It is authored by a Sydney-based doctor who has been to many battlefields around the world. He has seen it all—human cries amidst war, and human hope and resilience in unexpected places. He has even lived in the cold Himalayan caves with a monkey on his lap! Yes, that's his way to seek enlightenment! We all know life is filled with pain. From our first cries to our last sighs, pain is an inescapable part of our existence. If you encounter someone who claims to have never experienced pain, check their pulse—they may be mistaken. However, despite the pain, we continue to breathe, live, and even find moments of joy. This resilience is not mere existence; it's courage in action. Yet, life isn't always easy. Some days weigh heavily on us, and our hearts feel burdened. We may feel trapped in a whirlwind of emotions, with sadness and confusion clouding our thoughts. But there is always hope. For every problem, there is a solution. This book serves as your guiding light in the darkness, helping you navigate life's challenges and discover the path to brighter, happier days. Let us embark on this journey together. Let us face life's trials and tribulations head-on, knowing that joy awaits us on the other side.
