

We Are Condemned To Be Free

François Raffoul

Bound to Be Free Reinhard Hutter, 2004-07-20 Bound to Be Free explores the scriptural concepts of church (ekklesia), freedom (eleutheria), and truthful speech (parrhesia), showing not only that the proper meanings of three concepts interpenetrate one another but also that rending them asunder lies at the root of Christian division today. According to Reinhard Hutter, the crucial interrelationship of these three concepts has long been obscured by ongoing church division. Separated from each other, many Christians assume that freedom can be maintained and truthful speech preserved only at the cost of unity. Others assume that Christian unity can be attained only if freedom and truthful speech are narrowly circumscribed in their proper exercise. Christian division issues from the all too familiar individualistic accounts of church, freedom, and speech that have haunted modernity and clouded the proclamation of the gospel. This book shows that here, at the beginning of the twenty-first century, it is imperative that Christians attend to this crucial interrelationship and its source in the God of the gospel. Hutter discusses the meaning, role, and importance of each concept in turn, engaging along the way a wide range of classical and contemporary voices in theology, philosophy, and culture that reveal in different ways how church, freedom, and truthful speech support one another. Bound to Be Free is a groundbreaking work that challenges common approaches to ecumenism and points a fruitful new course ahead.

The Origins of Responsibility François Raffoul, 2010-04-13 François Raffoul approaches the concept of responsibility in a manner that is distinct from its traditional interpretation as accountability of the willful subject. Exploring responsibility in the works of Nietzsche, Sartre, Levinas, Heidegger, and Derrida, Raffoul identifies decisive moments in the development of the concept, retrieves its origins, and explores new reflections on it. For Raffoul, responsibility is less about a sovereign subject establishing a sphere of power and control than about exposure to an event that does not come from us and yet calls to us. These original and thoughtful investigations of the post-metaphysical senses of responsibility chart new directions for ethics in the continental tradition.

Born To Be Free Tom Vermillion, 2020-12-31 Experience your true birthright in the Kingdom of God with a balanced biblical theology for healing, freedom, and transformation. A shattered self-image, toxic relationships, emotional brokenness, and a painful past seal us off from the abundant life Jesus promised if left unchallenged by the power of God. Born to Be Free is for those who are no longer willing to settle for life as it is, but who desire to walk in the peace and fullness God has promised—a life transformed by the healing and freedom purchased by his blood for every follower of Christ. Don't settle for a life limited by pain and bondage one more day. In Born to Be Free you will discover: God's promise of freedom and healing at the heart of the gospel. The power and authority given to every believer to overcome the assaults of the enemy. How to experience God in intimate conversation to receive healing. Solid, biblical understanding of the spiritual roots of pain, failure, and broken relationships. How to partner with God through agreement, prayers, and declarations to secure God's healing and freedom that will transform your life. In Born to Be Free, pastor Tom Vermillion shares how the transforming power of Christ, accessed by these principles and practices, has ministered healing and freedom to hundreds of believers who were once bound to a painful past, oppressed by the enemy, and stifled by a broken sense of self. You will find a way to claim your birthright of health and wholeness in Jesus.

Staging Difficult Pasts Maria M. Delgado, Michal Kobialka, Bryce Lease, 2023-12-22 This collection of original essays brings together museum, theatre, and performance case studies with a focus on their distinctive and overlapping modes of producing memory for transnational audiences. Whether this is through narrative, object, embodied encounter or a combination of the three, this volume considers distinctions and interactions between memory and history specifically through the lenses of theatre and performance studies, visual culture, and museum and curator studies. This book is underpinned by three areas of research enquiry: How are contemporary theatre makers and museum curators staging historical narratives of difficult pasts? How might comparisons between theatre and museum practices offer new insights into the role objects play in generating and representing difficult pasts? What points of overlap, comparison, and contrast among these constructions of history and memory of authoritarianism, slavery, colonialism, genocide, armed conflict, fascism, and communism might offer an expanded understanding of difficult pasts in these transnational cultural contexts? This collection is designed for any scholar of its central disciplines, as well as for those interested in cultural geography, memory studies, and postcolonial theory. Eureka! Michael Macrone, 1999

Principles of Subjective Anthropology Binggong Chen, 2023-03-27 This book puts forward the concept of “subjective anthropology” and outlines a theoretical system that will allow subjective anthropology to qualify as a new academic discipline in its own right. In an effort to respond to the field’s proper role as the science of humanity, subjective analysis has been introduced into the study of anthropology. The book fills two distinct gaps in our knowledge and understanding of modern man, offering detailed descriptions of personality and of groups, while also advancing the theory of “structure and choice.” The book formulates seven basic principles of subjective anthropology and divides anthropology into three major branches: subjective anthropology, cultural anthropology, and biological (or physical) anthropology, which can be further divided into sub-branches. The book pursues three key goals: advancing and developing the theoretical system of subjective anthropology, reconstructing the discipline of anthropology, and establishing a Chinese anthropology with Chinese characteristics, Chinese visions, and Chinese styles.

We Wanted to be Free Frances Cavanah,1971

Ethics and the Good Life Brad Art,1993 This work offers an introduction to ethical theory by discussing morality in terms of living the best life. With humour and a jargon-free style, the author examines the methods and central moral questions of philosophy. Readers become involved in genuine philosophical arguments through a dialogue format that includes a series of conversations with resurrected philosophers. In these conversations, readers critically evaluate moral theories as the philosophers articulate their positions.
