DISC: THE COMMON LANGUAGE FOR EDUCATORS Tarkan Düzgünçınar, 2025-10-20 The complex world of adult education presents many unique challenges. The most significant of these are a lack of motivation, low self-efficacy beliefs and learning difficulties. Additionally, the desire of adults to learn by actively participating in training and sharing their own experiences creates a new situation for trainers that needs to be understood. Instructors are expected to find solutions to all these issues affecting the quality of education. Education always requires embracing individual differences. If you treat every participant based solely on what you know, have memorised or seen from predecessors, you become indifferent to different personalities, learning styles and behavioural patterns, and fail to achieve the desired impact of the training. In order to manage these differences, it is necessary to first recognise them, learn their characteristics and understand how to interact with each one. I authored this book to guide instructors through the complex world of adult education. My aim is to offer simple solutions to the daunting questions you face: How can an instructor reach every participant, understand their needs, facilitate better learning, encourage participation and foster classroom harmony? Renowned as one of the personality tests used by Human Resources professionals in hiring, DISC offers a method that will make your job easier in this regard. DISC provides educators with a scientific yet highly practical approach to interpreting participants' non-verbal communication, resolving conflicts in the classroom, tailoring lessons to learning styles and discovering your own teaching identity. This book takes you on a journey through the history of DISC and its modern classroom applications. It challenges the traditional teaching approach of trying to make everyone the same, which often prevents creativity, curiosity and individual potential from flourishing. It whispers to us: 'Every individual speaks their own language. To understand them, you need the key to communication.' iv Each of the four DISC personality types — D (Dominant Personality, or Dominance-Red), I (Influential Personality, or Influence-Yellow), S (Steady Personality, or Steadiness-Green) and C (Conscientious Personality, or Compliance/Conscientious-Blue) — is explained in detail. Alongside insights into how they relate to you and other participants in the classroom environment, it provides tips on how to approach them. Realistic examples in case studies and enjoyable role-plays for use in the classroom help you to understand and internalise DISC. As you turn the pages, you will learn how to use DISC to solve fundamental training problems such as reluctance, loss of motivation, lack of discipline, group conflicts and undesirable behaviours exhibited by adults during training. You will perhaps realise for the first time that the dominating speaker is a 'D' leader, the quiet one an 'S' team anchor, the impetuous one an 'I' driving force and the one debating the rules a 'C' justice warrior. As you understand DISC, you will be able to manage, guide and transform these personalities more effectively. This book will boost your impact in the learning environment and give you confidence. If you're ready, let's begin! Welcome to the fascinating world of DISC... Tarkan Düzgünçinar (Ph.D.)

The Algorithm Hilke Schellmann, 2024-01-02 ANTHEM AWARD WINNER • NAMED A FINANCIAL TIMES BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR 2024 AI is on the brink of dominating our lives, threatening our privacy and human future—if we don't take action now. In The Algorithm, Emmy-award winning Wall Street Journal and Guardian contributor Hilke Schellmann delivers a shocking and illuminating exposé on one of the most pressing civil rights issues of our time: how AI has quietly, and mostly out of sight, taken over the world of work. Schellmann takes readers on a journalistic detective story, meeting job applicants and employees who have been subjected to these technologies, playing AI-based video games that companies use for hiring, and investigating algorithms that scan our online activity to construct personality profiles— including if we are prone to self-harm. She convinces whistleblowers to share results of faulty AI -tools, and tests algorithms that analyze job candidates' facial expressions and tools that predict from our voices if we are anxious or depressed. Schellmann finds employees whose every keystrokes were tracked and AI that analyzes group discussions or even predicts when someone may leave a company. Her reporting reveals in detail how much employers already know about us and how little we know about the technologies that are used on us. The Algorithm tells an even bigger story with Schellmann discovering faulty algorithms and systemic discrimination of women and people of color, which may have already harmed thousands of job seekers and employees. It advocates to go beyond these tools to more thoughtfully consider how we hire, promote, and treat human beings—with or without AI. As Schellmann emphasizes, we need to decide how we build algorithmic tools in any industry and what protections we need to put in place in an AI-driven world. Hilke Schellmann is an Emmy-award winning investigative reporter and journalism professor at NYU. Her work covering artificial intelligence has been published in The New York Times, The Guardian, the MIT Technology Review, and The Wall Street Journal, where she led a team investigating how AI is changing our lives. She has also reported for NPR's Planet Money podcast on fake online reviews and her investigation for VICE on HBO was a finalist for a Peabody Award. Her PBS Frontline documentary Outlawed in Pakistan premiered at the Sundance Film Festival and was honored with an Emmy award.

Flourish Kate Greenstock, 2023-04-20 The only book addressing the stark psychological impact of midwifery work while giving midwives the tools to choose a brighter future. Flourish aims to support you as a midwife to do two things: to name

what's going on around you and within you, then to find and claim your distinctive place in the midwifery world. You might be a newly qualified or early career midwife facing the challenges of finding your voice as well as your feet. Maybe you're an established midwife but feel as though you have lost your way – and with it the energy to reshape either yourself or the environment you work in. Perhaps you're a team leader seeking to find the vocabulary to connect with your team, acknowledge what they might be feeling and reach out for resources and tools to support them to thrive, reflect and grow. As a guidebook, Flourish is a tour of discovery that reveals how 'standard' maternity environments and practices might be impacting you personally, and then invites you to reconnect with the core of your personality and purpose. You'll recognise more clearly the realities of trauma exposure, burnout, compassion fatigue and moral injury, and explore what's really needed for psychological safety. You'll choose from an array of exercises to practice living well in the day to day, and you'll find a way back 'home', to a place where your sense of motivation for being a midwife is rekindled – a place where you can reconnect to your values, strengths and your unique voice. Once there, you will be able to make real, rich choices about your life and your career. Kate Greenstock is a distinctive combination of practising midwife and coach, bringing the flavours of both: reality and possibility; rawness and hope.
