Quality Control Applications in the Pharmaceutical and Medical Device Manufacturing Industry Carrillo-Cedillo, Eugenia Gabriela, Arredondo-Soto, Karina Cecilia, Palomino-Vizcaino, Kenia, Magaña-Badilla, Héctor Alfonso, 2022-03-18 Quality control in pharmaceutical products and medical devices is vital for users as failing to comply with national and international regulations can lead to accidents that could easily be avoided. For this reason, manufacturing a quality medical product will support patient safety. Microbiologists working in both the pharmaceutical and medical device industries face considerable challenges in keeping abreast of the myriad microbiological references available to them and the continuously evolving regulatory requirements. Quality Control Applications in the Pharmaceutical and Medical Device Manufacturing Industry presents the importance of quality control in pharmaceutical products and medical devices, which must have very high-quality standards to not cause problems to the health of patients. It reinforces and updates the knowledge of analytical, instrumental, and biological methods to demonstrate the correct quality control and good manufacturing practice for pharmaceutical products and medical devices. Covering topics such as pharmaceutical nano systems, machine learning, and software validation, this book is an essential resource for managers, engineers, supervisors, pharmacists, chemists, academicians, and researchers.

Sistemas de gestión de calidad - 2da edición Óscar Claret González Ortiz, Jaime Alfonso Arciniegas Ortiz, 2020-01-01 La calidad de un bien o servicio no se decreta: se crea y se produce. La creación y aplicación de un sistema de gestión de calidad basado en las normas ISO 9000 es la guía para intentar asegurar que un bien o servicio se ha producido con procesos controlados. No obstante, esto no garantiza la calidad. Las normas ISO especifican aquello que “se debe hacer”, pero el “cómo” es la verdadera tarea de quien diseña, documenta e implementa un sistema de gestión de calidad. Este texto es una guía útil para planear el proceso, diseño e implementación del sistema de gestión en una empresa de acuerdo con los requisitos de la norma ISO vigente. El libro contiene conceptos sobre el marco referencial de la norma ISO, ingeniería de calidad, mejoramiento continuo, manual de calidad, auditoría interna, auditoría externa y procesos de certificación. El texto está actualizado hasta la norma ISO 9001-2015 y contiene referencias útiles a versiones anteriores de la norma. Es un texto dirigido a la enseñanza de la calidad en los niveles de pregrado y posgrado en carreras como Ingeniería, Administración de Empresas, Economía, y para empresarios con interés en conocer sobre las normas ISO y los sistemas de gestión.

Biodegradation of Plastics Zhanyong Wang,Fan Li,Aamer Ali Shah,Ken'ichiro Matsumoto,Martin Koller,2023-11-21

The consumption of plastic products has increased significantly with the rapid development of the global economy. The total output of virgin plastics has already reached eight billion tons, and the annual global plastic consumption has reached 2.8 billion tons. In parallel with this high consumption rate, a staggering amount of plastic waste is generated annually. As a consequence of incorrect disposal of waste plastics and plastic longevity, this plastic waste is accumulating in the environment at an increasing rate. Moreover, since most plastic waste is corrosion resistant, these plastics do not decompose in the natural environment and can cause serious environmental pollution. In particular, petroleum-based synthetic polymers, including polyethylene, polyvinyl chloride, polystyrene, polypropylene, polyethylene terephthalate, and polyurethanes need hundreds of years to completely degrade in the natural environment. Moreover, although some aliphatic polyesters, such as polybutylene succinate, polycaprolactone, and polylactic acid are considered biodegradable, degradation of these plastics occurs only under specific microorganism activity and under specific conditions. Sometimes the apparent degradation is initiated by hydrolytic activity and not microorganism or enzymatic activity. Large-scale synthesis and application of plastics only began after 1950. Hence, the time span of plastic exposure in the environment has been too short for the adaptive evolution of natural microorganisms. Indeed, natural microorganisms showing high specificity for plastics and a high degradation efficiency are extremely scarce. Because of the inability of most natural microorganisms to recognize and degrade plastics, enzymes that can specifically degrade plastics are also scarce. Many of the enzymes which are known have either an unclear mechanism of the action on the polymer, a poor affinity for their substrates, a low efficiency, or enzyme production yield is currently low. To address these problems, new biotechnology strategies need to be implemented. In particular, new microorganisms and their enzymes need to be identified, and pathways for plastic degradation and molecular modification need to be clarified to enhance the activity and stability of the degrading enzymes. The current Research Topic aims to cover the recent and novel research trends in the development of plastics biodegradation (including petroleum-based plastics and bio-based plastics) under soil, composted, microbial and enzymatic conditions. The recycling technology of degraded products is also of interest.
