Patrick Prill

Darwin on Trial Phillip E. Johnson, 2015-12-01 Darwin's theory of evolution is accepted by most educated Americans as simple fact. This easy acceptance, however, hides from us the many ways in which evolution—as an idea—shapes our thinking about a great many things. What if this idea is wrong? Berkeley law professor Phillip E. Johnson looks at the evidence for Darwinistic evolution the way a lawyer would—with a cold dispassionate eye for logic and proof. His discovery is that scientists have put the cart before the horse. They prematurely accepted Darwin's theory as fact and have been scrambling to find evidence for it. Darwin on Trial is a cogent and stunning tour de force that not only rattles the cages of conventional wisdom, but could provide the basis for a fundamental change in the way educated Americans regard themselves, their origins, and their fate.

Defeating Darwinism by Opening Minds Phillip E. Johnson, 1997-07-07 Phillip E. Johnson provides an easy-to-understand guide on how to effectively engage the debate over creation and evolution.

Darwin's Nemesis William A. Dembski, 2006-02-22 Eighteen essays review and celebrate the life and thought of Phillip Johnson, the Cal Berkeley legal scholar who became a leading figure in the intelligent design movement.

The Wedge of Truth Phillip E. Johnson, 2002-08-02 Phillip E. Johnson highlights the deficiencies in science and the philosophy (naturalism) that undergirds and outlines a cognitive revolution.

Testing Darwinism Phillip E. Johnson, 1997 With all of the complicated scientific debate swirling around the topic of evolution, is there an easy way to understand the basic issues without over-simplifying? Phillip Johnson says there is: the key is to adopt good thinking habits. Here is first-rate advice on avoiding common mistakes in discussions about evolution, spotting deceptive arguments, and grasping the basic scientific issues without getting bogged down in unnecessary details. In the bestselling and critically acclaimed 'Darwin on Trial' and 'Reason in the Balance', Phillip Johnson exposed the misleading claims of evolutionary naturalism. 'Testing Darwinism' provides a new and powerful treatment of these issues for students, parents, teachers, pastors, youth advisors and ordinary readers. Johnson aims not just to expose a bad theory, but to do so in the right way - by opening our minds to the truth.

Loving Science - but Not the Empire Jay Sonstroem, 2023-02-27 For decades the world has been telling us that God is dead and science has proven it, but is that really true? As the evidence has continued to accumulate, the tide has turned. God is back to full health and not only that, but He is far more awesome and ingenious than we ever imagined. Now it is the scientific establishment that is on the ropes as a century of errors and deception has been unearthed. In Loving Science - But Not the Empire, experimental scientist Jay Sonstroem helps readers discern between the findings of real science and fables, which have been pushed by an entity he calls The Empire. Jay provides short, readable chapters to reveal both the wonders of creation and the schemes and blunders of The Empire, which have resulted from its hijacked version of science. Topics include the hidden truth of DNA, the wonders of biology, the fine-tuning of the universe, and evolution and Darwinism debunked. Is it possible to love science but not worship it? You bet. Does a person who believes in God have to give up Reason? No. Come along and piece together the puzzle of life, the universe, and everything in between. What you believe about your origins has everything to do with what you believe about your destiny. Follow the light, find the Truth, and together, let's free science from a Godless agenda.

Unintelligent Design Mark Perakh, 2009-12-02 Physicist Perakh critically reviews recent trends towards harmonizing religion and science, and shows that all such approaches are little more than tailoring evidence to fit the desired theory.

Memory, Amnesia, and the Hippocampal System Neal J. Cohen, Howard Eichenbaum, 1993 In this sweeping synthesis, Neal J. Cohen and Howard Eichenbaum bring together converging findings from neuropsychology, neuroscience, and cognitive science that provide the critical clues and constraints for developing a more comprehensive understanding of memory. Specifically, they offer a cognitive neuroscience theory of memory that accounts for the nature of memory impairment exhibited in human amnesia and animal models of amnesia, that specifies the functional role played by the hippocampal system in memory, and that provides further understanding of the componential structure of memory. The authors' central thesis is that the hippocampal system mediates a capacity for declarative memory, the kind of memory that in humans supports conscious recollection and the explicit and flexible expression of memories. They argue that this capacity emerges from a representation of critical relations among items in memory, and that such a relational representation supports the ability to make inferences and generalizations from memory, and to manipulate and flexibly express memory in countless ways. In articulating such a description of the fundamental nature of declarative representation and of the mnemonic capabilities to which it gives rise, the authors' theory constitutes a major extension and elaboration of the earlier procedural-declarative account of memory. Support for this view is taken from a variety of experimental studies of amnesia in humans, nonhuman primates, and rodents. Additional support is drawn from observations concerning the neuroanatomy and neurophysiology of the hippocampal system. The data taken from divergent literatures are shown to converge on the central theme of hippocampal involvement in declarative memory across species and across behavioral paradigms.

Christian Home Educators' Curriculum Manual Cathy Duffy, 1997-11

The Great American Dichotomy Richard F. McMahon, 2001

Alters, Sandra Alters, 2001 Defending Evolution is a novel handbook that explains why so many secondary and college students reject evolution and are antagonistic toward its teaching.
