Química orgánica experimental H. Dupont Durst, George W. Gokel, 1985 El objetivo principal y último fin de este libro estriba en proporcionar un amplio y básico bagaje experimental de Química orgánica con la mayor garantía de seguridad posible, mediante el método especulativo de la investigación. Este libro está concebido para el laboratorio que corresponde a un curso completo de Química orgánica. Este curso lo reciben dos clases diferenciadas de estudiantes, la de los que seguirán estudios de Química y los que se dirigen hacia una Escuela profesional (Medicina, Odontología, etc.) o se graduarán en una Facultad de Biología. Se tiende a considerar las metas de la educación química de un modo ligeramente distinto para los que tienen la Química como objeto principal frente a los que cursan como disciplina complementaria.

Experimentos para el Laboratorio de Química Inorgánica Verde Francisco Javier Arnaiz García, 2014-03-25 Este libro, dedicado a presentar síntesis para cursos prácticos de Química Inorgánica, es bastante singular: el introito es atrevido, salpicando la obra se incluye una veintena larga de sucesos potencialmente de interés para alguno de los lectores, contiene experimentos con un variable pero deliberado grado de desarrollo por entender que así se facilita la selección. Finalmente, el libro se halla descompensado en el sentido de que no se han incluido muchos experimentos relevantes inicialmente previstos; la descompensación afecta sobre todo a la segunda mitad. Sin embargo, considerando la importancia de la Química Verde, he decidido presentarlo en su actual forma en vez de aplazar sine die la publicación de una versión más completa. A pesar de sus limitaciones el libro es bastante bueno, va más allá de la simple repetición de experimentos conocidos y no debería de faltar en los laboratorios de Química Inorgánica.

Toxicología alimentaria Ana María CAMEAN FERNÁNDEZ, Manuel REPETTO JIMÉNEZ, 2012-05-31 La toxicología alimentaria es una disciplina que reclama, cada vez más, la atención de investigadores y autoridades académicas, legislativas y gubernativas. El hombre ha debido aprender por experiencia propia, a veces dolorosa, a distinguir entre alimentos saludables y nocivos y, a lo largo de los siglos, a producir, conservar y preparar sus alimentos de la forma más beneficiosa. Pero el crecimiento de la población, la industrialización, la comercialización a gran escala, el mercantilismo, la no observancia de las legislaciones, etc., ha permitido la aparición de brotes e incluso de epidemias tóxicas de origen alimentario con cientos y hasta miles de intoxicados agudos, además de los incontables de carácter crónico, que son los que los alimentos pueden producir en mayor cantidad y de forma más solapada. INDICE: Introducción y conceptos. Principales mecanismos de absorción de tóxicos presentes en los alimentos. Importancia de la microbiótica del tracto gastrointestinal en toxicología. Biodisponibilidad de sustancias tóxicas en los alimentos. Evolución de la toxicidad de aditivos y contaminantes presentes en alimentos. La aplicación de procedimientos in vitro en la evaluación toxicológica. Evaluación de riesgos. Biotoxinas marinas. Toxinas de cianofíceas. Alimentos con sustancias tóxicas de origen natural: plantas superiores. Intoxicaciones por plantas medicinales. Intoxicaciones por setas. Contaminantes biológicos. La calidad como prevención de las intoxicaciones alimentarias. Micotoxinas. Riesgo tóxico por metales presentes en alimentos. Residuos de plaguicidas en alimentos.
