Logical and Spiritual Reflections Avi Sion,2008-04-15 Logical and Spiritual Reflections is a collection of six shorter philosophical works, including: Hume's Problems with Induction; A Short Critique of Kant's Unreason; In Defense of Aristotle's Laws of Thought; More Meditations; Zen Judaism; No to Sodom.

Reading Khaled Hosseini Rebecca Stuhr,2009-09-03 Discusses Hosseini's fiction and its relation to current events and popular culture.

Change 1 Behavior Sharon W. Penn,2017-07-12 Change 1 Behavior, Improve Your Life is a guide you can use for the rest of your life. It can be like the friend you look to in times of need or it can be used as an aid when someone you know is requesting your help. Open it to any chapter and you will see hope, a way to change behavior patterns slowly, a way of life. The Reader of this book will learn that people can change and have a better life. Research done by individuals and groups, using various behavior changes to demonstrate the ability to modify their habits, was successful. Valuable knowledge was gained from both the successful subjects as well as the people who attempted but did not make the changes. You begin by working to change one behavior at a time, and you will see how great you feel and how positively people respond to you. There are tests and assessment tools in the book to give you insight on where you rate with the various behaviors. It is important to move slowly, at your own pace, to have a successful journey. Why not start now? LOOK IN THIS BOOK for help on: Physical Health, Mental Health, and Relationships.

More Meditations Avi Sion,2008-04-15 More Meditations is a sequel to the author's earlier work, Meditations. It proposes additional practical methods and theoretical insights relating to meditation and Buddhism. It also discusses certain often glossed over issues relating to Buddhism – notably, historicity, idolatry, messianism, importation to the West.

The Future Imaginary in Indigenous North American Arts and Literatures Kristina Baudemann,2021-12-30 This book examines the future in Indigenous North American speculative literature and digital arts. Asking how different Indigenous works imagine the future and how they negotiate settler colonial visions of what is to come, the chapters illustrate that the future is not an immutable entity but a malleable textual/digital product that can function as both a colonial tool and a catalyst for decolonization. Central to this study is the development of a methodology that helps unearth the signifying structures producing the future in selected works by Darcie Little Badger, Gerald Vizenor, Stephen Graham Jones, Skawennati, Danis Goulet, Scott Benesiinaabandan, Postcommodity, Kite, Jeff Barnaby, and Ryan Singer. Drawing on Jason Lewis's future imaginary as the theoretical core, the book describes the various forms of textual representation and virtual simulation through which notions of Indigenous continuation are expressed in literary and new media works. Arguing that Indigenous authors and artists apply the aesthetics of the future as a strategy in their works, the volume conceptualizes its multimedia corpus as a continuously growing archive of, and for, Indigenous futures.

Future-Focused Church Kara Powell, Jake Mulder, Raymond Chang, 2025-03-25 In the past few decades, the church has experienced rapid and distressing change. Hard-working pastors and leaders often know they need to embrace diversity, creatively engage younger generations, and equip their people to love their neighbors. But since they don't know how to make the changes needed, they feel stuck and wonder, What do I do now? What steps can I take to lead our church purposefully and prayerfully into a more hopeful future? For these dedicated yet drained church leaders, this research-informed resource from the team at the Fuller Youth Institute offers a clear roadmap to faithfully and effectively navigate change that will revitalize your church. Through extensive research, interviews, and case studies, you will learn how to see the big picture, activate a transformation team, know your why, discern where God is leading, communicate a compelling vision, maintain disciplined attention, and experiment toward a more fruitful, faithful, and lasting future. This hope-filled guide for building tomorrow's church today is the resource your church has been waiting for.

Rethinking America's Past Robert Cohen, Sonia E. Murrow, 2021-11-01 No introductory work of American history has had more influence over the past forty years than Howard Zinn's A People's History of the United States, which since its publication in 1980 has sold more than three million copies. Zinn's iconoclastic critique of American militarism, racism, and capitalism has drawn bitter criticism from the Right, most recently from President Donald Trump, who at his White House Conference on American History in 2020 denounced Zinn as a Left propagandist and accused teachers aligned with Zinn of indoctrinating students to hate America and be ashamed of its history. Rethinking America's Past is the first work to use archival and classroom evidence to assess the impact that Zinn's classic work has had on historical teaching and learning and on American culture. This evidence refutes Trump's charges, showing that rather than indoctrinating students, Zinn's book has been used by teachers to have students debate and rethink conventional versions of American history. Rethinking America's Past also explores the ways Zinn's work fostered deeper, more critical renderings of the American past in movies and on stage and television and traces the origins and assesses the strengths and weaknesses of A People's History in light of more recent historical scholarship.

American Orators Before 1900 Bernard K. Duffy, Halford Ross Ryan, 1987 The editors offer 55 case studies of orators, each chapter consisting of from three and one-half to more than nine pages of text followed by a brief section entitled 'Informational Source' that includes short bibliographic summaries and important research sources intended particularly 'for those beginning to investigate an orator's rhetoric.' Entries close with a short chronology of major speeches. . . . Duffy and Ryan's hope that their book will 'prove useful' should be fulfilled quickly, for American Orators Before 1900 is the most extensive reference collection on its topic. By introducing all 55 rhetors in situ and illuminating such an array of rhetorical peculiarities, universals, power, triumphs, and influences on the past and present, this book becomes indispensable to college and large municipal libraries. Quarterly Journal of Speech.

Knight's Treasury of 2000 Illustrations Walter B. Knight, 1995 This encyclopedia of pertinent illustrations and apt questions provides a handy reference for pastors, teachers, and other Christian workers. Arranged topically, the sections are divided into Short Quotes and longer Illustrations.

Peacebuilding and Transitional Justice in East Timor James DeShaw Rae, 2009 Did the United Nations successfully help to build a just, peaceful state and society in postconflict East Timor? Has transitional justice satisfied local demands for accountability and/or reconciliation? What lessons can be learned from the UN's efforts? Drawing on extensive field work, James DeShaw Rae offers a grassroots perspective on the relationship between peacebuilding and transitional justice. Rae traces the effects of the political violence perpetrated in East Timor during the Indonesian occupation, as well as the UN-authorized intervention and the ultimate formulation of the rebuilding effort. In the process, he explores the results of hybrid (mixed domestic-international) tribunals and the attempt to conduct war crimes tribunals and truth and reconciliation commissions in tandem. Not least, his account of the impact of international actors working with the East Timorese to construct a new nation from the ground up suggests important policy prescriptions for all postconflict societies.--Publisher description.

Moving Target Ron Arias, 2003 In this memoir, People magazine correspondent Ron Arias recounts his father's emotional distance after spending time as a prisoner of war in World War II and Korea, his eventual disappearance from their home, and Arias's fourteen-year search for him, during which he learned that his father might have been a spy. His father becomes an elusive moving target that he seems to chase throughout his life. Through his extensive research and his job as a reporter of death and destruction, Arias's connection to his parents intensifies and he begins to understand them in a way that he could not when they were alive.
