Lyman Abbott

When Stars Are Scattered Victoria Jamieson, Omar Mohamed, 2020-04-14 A National Book Award Finalist, this remarkable graphic novel is about growing up in a refugee camp, as told by a former Somali refugee to the Newbery Honor-winning creator of Roller Girl. Omar and his younger brother, Hassan, have spent most of their lives in Dadaab, a refugee camp in Kenya. Life is hard there: never enough food, achingly dull, and without access to the medical care Omar knows his nonverbal brother needs. So when Omar has the opportunity to go to school, he knows it might be a chance to change their future . . . but it would also mean leaving his brother, the only family member he has left, every day. Heartbreak, hope, and gentle humor exist together in this graphic novel about a childhood spent waiting, and a young man who is able to create a sense of family and home in the most difficult of settings. It's an intimate, important, unforgettable look at the day-to-day life of a refugee, as told to New York Times Bestselling author/artist Victoria Jamieson by Omar Mohamed, the Somali man who lived the story.

[...] Remember not to judge their responses and to listen thoughtfully and engage in a conversation that helps them expand upon their understanding of the book and its themes. [...] What happens in the book? How thoughts and feelings came to mind while you read the book? What did you learn about refugees and the refugee experience from Omar and Hassan's life? Where is home for Omar? How does his idea of home change throughout the book? What does a social worker do? (If needed, share that social workers help people cope with and solve their problems in their everyday lives,. [...] For stories will lead us home. What does that part of the poem mean to you? What did you learn that you didn't know before? What more do you want to know? How did you feel when the book ended and what do you think will happen next for Omar and Hassan? What do you think the book is called When Stars are Scattered? What message is the author trying to communicate through the story? Talking Points B. [...] Explain that the refugee experience means moving homes and all the feelings that go along with those moves, from being displaced from your original home to coming to live in a new and often temporary home to hopefully finding a permanent home, but one that is a new and unfamiliar (and sometimes unwelcoming) place.
