Paul F. Knitter

Mirror of God James W. Jones, 2015-01-06 What are the benefits of being a spiritual person? This is the question that James Jones explores in his newest book, The Mirror of God. Jones contends that true religious belief is not a passive process and that one must work hard towards believing in God through acts such as prayer, meditation and communal worship. He explores the boundaries between psychotherapy and religious practice, looks at what Christians might learn from Buddhists and shows their effects on the body and mind. Jones is a psychologist as well as a professor of religion and, ultimately, he provides a blueprint for worship that's smart, effective and grounded in the real lives we all live.

Catholicism and Buddhism Anthony E. Clark, 2018-04-03 The recent tide of books comparing Christianity and Buddhism has centered mostly on similarities. The Dalai Lama, for example, provided his opinions on Christianity in a popular book, The Good Heart: A Buddhist Perspective on the Teachings of Jesus (1996). Other writers have equally sought to describe these two traditions as "two paths to the same place." Finding these approaches overly simplified, Anthony Clark confronts the distinctions between Buddhism and Catholic Christianity, acknowledging areas of confluence, but also discerning areas of abiding difference. Clark provides here a Catholic view of Buddhism that avoids obfuscations, seeking clarity for the sake of more productive dialogue.

No Other Gods H. M. Vroom, 1996 Christianity is no longer the dominant belief system in today's pluralistic culture. Eastern religions, especially, have attracted wide interest. Pressing the theological and dialogical dimensions of religious pluralism, Vroom offers a broad study of the views of Christianity, Buddhism, Hinduism, and Islam, especially their views on truth.

Buddhism and Christianity Antony Fernando, 1983

Without Buddha I Could Not be a Christian Paul F. Knitter, 2013-01-01 An honest, unflinching tale of re-finding one's faith, from one of the world's most famous theologians Without Buddha I Could Not Be a Christian narrates how esteemed theologian, Paul F. Knitter overcame a crisis of faith by looking to Buddhism for inspiration. From prayer to how Christianity views life after death, Knitter argues that a Buddhist standpoint can encourage a more person-centred conception of Christianity, where individual religious experience comes first, and liturgy and tradition second. Moving and revolutionary, this book will inspire Christians everywhere.

Neo-Stalinism Irfan Saeed,2018-08-10 This book is a combination of Science, Philosophy, Politics and Religion. It is a highly blasphemous book disproving all religions as the fantasies of the false. Specially it is written against Islam, Koran and Mohammed. The name of the book is Neo Stalinism, as it proves that the Communism and Marxism is the only truth for the greatest cause to emancipate humans from the yoke of slavery, bondage and exploitation of man by man. It was the dream of Comrade Stalin to abolish religions from the face of this earth but he was not capable to do so. My pen is sharper than the sword of Stalin. On the basis of reason and logic I have left no ground under the feet of religious thinkers to argue against me. Thus the greatest goal of Communism is achieved by abolishing exploitation as well as the superstitions of religions. This combination of communism with abolition of religions is named as Neo Stalinism.

The Philosophy of Religion Arvind Sharma,1995 This important work does much to extend and redefine the ground of the philosophy of religion, from William James to Paul Tillich, has been conducted in a purely Western context. The discussion, whether it be the soteriological nature of religion, the grounds for belief in God, the problem of evil or the question of verifiability, takes on quite a different complexion in the context of eastern religions. Arvind Sharma seeks to place this debate, with particular reference to the work of such writers as William James, F.R. Tennant, Paul Tillich, Randall, Braithwaite, D.Z. Phillips, Rom Harré, Basil Mitchell, John Hick, W.A. Christian, and W.C. Smith, in the Buddhist context. At the same time he clarifies some of the possible misapprehensions which result from a commonality of religious language shared between Buddhism and Hinduism as regards the nature of religious revelation, immortality, karma and reincarnation.

Buddha, the Trimurti, and Modern Hinduism Anant Ramchandra Kulkarni,1980 Study of the life and teachings of Gautama Buddha and presentation of the thesis that Hinduism and Buddhism, in their original forms, are not much different.

All That We See and Do Nordia A. Dixon,2010-03 Each one of us is special and was appointed to be at the place and time we are in the history of the world. Each living person was brought into this world purposefully by our Creator. There truly are no accidents. We are here because our Creator orders us to be here in this world right now, right where we are. I have come to realize that there is more to our Creator than any of us can comprehend. He is wider than the widest ocean, taller than the tallest mountain, deeper than the deepest sea. He is bigger than the earth. The earth is His footstool (Isaiah 66:1). Our Creator loves variety. That is why there are so many shades and types of people, flowers, stars, animals, birds, experiences, colors, days, numbers, fish, creatures of the sea, planets, and so on and on. Yes, our Creator loves variety, which is why He creates the world as a flower garden of people, each one different, each one with a unique purpose to serve in the garden. Each flower has a special purpose in a little garden to provide beauty, fullness, order, scent, and so on. My encounter with our Creator inspires amazement and awe. ...the changing seasons...the beauty of a sunny day, snowy, rainy, and cloudy day...the fact the sun never sets though we see night. On a return flight from Kenya in 2007, I was seated where I could see through the windows on either side of the plane. I marveled at how outside one window I could see night falling while outside the other window the sun was shining brightly. How awesome to be in a position to see the sun setting on one side of the globe and rising on the other. What an amazing experience!
