Industrial relations and financial globalization Ignasi Brunet,Alejandro Pizzi,David Moral,2019-03-04 Capitalism in its modern form has become universal and has a presence in practically every country in the world, including those which once called themselves Communist. This book studies its effects on different labor markets, from those linked to highly tertiary economies (EU-27, USA and Japan, to the most productive economies, such as China, and on to economic models that are in full transition from secondary to tertiary economies, as is the case in several Latin American countries.

Latin American Documentary Film in the New Millennium María Guadalupe Arenillas,Michael J. Lazzara,2016-06-23 Nearly two decades into the new millennium, Latin American documentary film is experiencing renewed vibrancy and visibility on the global stage. While elements of the combative, politicized cinema of the 1960s and 1970s remain, the region's production has become increasingly subjective, reflexive, and experimental, though perhaps no less political. At the same time, Latin American filmmakers both respond to and shape global tendencies in the genre. This book highlights the richness and heterogeneity of Latin American documentary film, surveys a broad range of national contexts, styles, and practices, and expands current debates on the genre. Thematic sections address the "subjective turn" of the 1990s and 2000s and the move beyond it; the ethics of the encounter between the filmmaker and the subject/object of his or her gaze; and the performance of truth and memory, a particularly urgent topic as Latin American countries have transitioned from dictatorship to democracy.

Working with Vulnerable Populations Susana Castaños-Cervantes,Angélica Ojeda García,Cristina L. Reitz-Krueger,2024-10-18 This book explores vulnerability in many forms and among diverse understudied vulnerable populations worldwide from different perspectives, particularly from non-western contexts. It examines characteristics and profiles of vulnerable populations, intervention strategies, and recommendations for public policy actions in developing and emerging countries. As the world becomes increasingly connected and localities become more diverse, researchers and practitioners working to ameliorate human suffering cannot rely on one-size-fits-all solutions, especially when it comes to the most vulnerable members of society. The book argues the need for interdisciplinary research and action, and it challenges popular discourse on vulnerable groups and intervention strategies in Western societies and developed countries. In particular, it includes a Latin American perspective seldom considered in research about vulnerability worldwide. With interdisciplinary contributors from four continents, working in diverse fields such as social psychology, pedagogy, community psychology, medicine, sociology, clinical psychology, anthropology, and social work, this edited collection brings together theoretical and applied research evidence on three vulnerable population categories: physical vulnerability, psychological vulnerability, and social vulnerability. The book not only presents exhaustive solutions to any of the problems discussed therein, but it also offers examples of the considerations that should be afforded when working with groups who have unique vulnerabilities. Among the topics covered in the chapters: Poor Doctor-Patient Communication: How Social Vulnerability Turns into Physical Vulnerability Art Therapy: Focus to Decrease Vulnerability Condition and Increase Sense of Community Pedagogical Guidelines for Vulnerability in Postmodernity Working with Vulnerable Populations: Final Reflections and Implications Working with Vulnerable Populations: A Multicultural Perspective presents case studies, original research, and literature reviews that would engage students and professionals interested in social work, psychology, community organizing, public health, allied health professions, and other helping professions. Readers will gain insight into how work being conducted in various localities speaks to the challenges they may face in their own work or research. By exploring the unique issues facing vulnerable populations around the globe, we can apply those same considerations in our own communities.

Documenting Cityscapes Iván Villarmea Álvarez, 2015-05-12 While film studies has traditionally treated the presence of the city in film as an urban text operating inside of a cinematic one, this approach has recently evolved into the study of cinema as a technology of place. From this perspective, Documenting Cityscapes explores the way the city has been depicted by nonfiction filmmakers since the late 1970s, paying particular attention to three aesthetic tendencies: documentary landscaping, urban self-portraits, and metafilmic strategies. Through the formal analysis of fifteen works from six different countries, this volume investigates how the rise of subjectivity has helped to develop a kind of gaze that is closer to citizens than to the institutions and corporations responsible for recent major transformations. Documenting Cityscapes therefore reveals the extent to which cinema has become an agent of urban change, in which certain films not only challenge the most controversial policies of late capitalism but also are able to produce spatiality themselves.

Debates contemporáneos el sobre turismo: Cine, lugares imaginados y turismo. Tomo IX Edna Rozo, Martha Lucía Vélez Rivas, 2022-01-01 El cine recrea el mundo, épocas históricas, sociedades, dramas y alegrías, crea lugares de artificio en los que el espectador hace una inmersión desde la emoción y el sentimiento. El cine hace soñar, fantasear e imaginar los lugares que inspiran a emprender el viaje. Esta relación entre cine y turismo, que se presenta desde los primeros fotogramas, impregnan el alma del viajero en ciernes. El análisis de esta relación es objeto de esta publicación, fruto del Simposio Cine, lugares imaginados y turismo, organizado por la Facultad de Administración de Empresas Turísticas y Hoteleras de la Universidad Externado de Colombia en octubre de 2019, cuyo objetivo se centró en dos ejes de reflexión: el primero, la construcción de los imaginarios y la proyección de la imagen turística de las ciudades a través del cine; y el segundo, los lugares míticos, mágicos y de fantasía y sus vínculos con el turismo, los cuales han sido recreados a través del séptimo arte, generando en los turistas profundos efectos de ensoñación y deseos de emprender el viaje. El libro invita a continuar profundizando en este campo de análisis, fértil en la era de la posmodernidad, en la que los límites difusos entre la realidad y la fantasía constituyen parte de la sociedad contemporánea y de la puesta en escena turística de los lugares, provocando también nuevas preguntas derivadas de estas narrativas.

Narrating War in Peace Katherine O. Stafford, 2015-09-01 Through case studies of prominent cultural products, this book takes a longitudinal approach to the influence and conceptualization of the Civil War in democratic Spain. Stafford explores the stories told about the war during the transition to democracy and how these narratives have morphed in light of the polemics about historical memory.

La pantalla global Gilles Lipovetsky, 2009

La pantalla global Gilles Lipovetsky, Jean Serroy, 2009-04-01 Pantallas de cine, de televisión, de ordenador, de videojuegos, de agenda electrónica, de teléfono móvil, de GPS, táctiles, de vigilancia, de Internet, y todas las pantallas del mundo en un mundo que filtra la realidad a través de las pantallas. La vida se ha convertido en espectáculo de consumo de masas y la realidad necesita ser filmada y verse en una pantalla para que se considere real. Lo prueban las nuevas formas de hacer cine (tecnología digital, caída de la primacía del argumento), las nuevas retóricas de la televisión (reality-shows, deportes con efectos especiales), el cine «anticanónico» de los países oprimidos, el meteórico ascenso de la publicidad, la aparición de los nuevos documentales. La pantalla global, que contextualiza alrededor de cuatrocientas películas y no desaprovecha los guiños cinéfilos ni los codazos anticinéfilos (algunos de los cuales podrían herir la sensibilidad del lector espectador), está hábilmente organizado para que se pueda leer como una historia compacta de las metamorfosis técnicas del cine, tal como lo inventaron los hermanos Lumière (cine realista de masas, cine tipificador) y Georges Méliès (cine fantástico, cine experimental), y al mismo tiempo como un ensayo de estética que sostiene que el cine, a diferencia de las artes de la época vanguardista, no entró en conflicto con la sociedad de consumo, sino que se adaptó a ella, influyó en ella, formateó su conducta diaria, sus fantasías y su concepción del mundo. Y mientras generaba en el plano de sus virtualidades y potencias un infinito linaje de pantallas que garantizaban la cuadratura de la realidad, se convirtió en hipercine, en todopantalla, en modelo artístico, social y antropológico (Homo pantalicus), y en principal punto de referencia de una sociedad que, como ha descrito Lipovetsky en obras anteriores, se caracteriza precisamente por haber destruido todos los grandes sistemas referenciales. El cine, con su parentela de miradas y pantallas, es la expresión por excelencia de la sensibilidad del mundo actual. El cine no está pues en decadencia, sino todo lo contrario; el cine está en una fase de transformación fructífera y con él todo el mundo audiovisual. «Un libro utilísimo que hace que nos demos cuenta del increíble camino que hemos recorrido en unos decenios» (Le Monde). Gilles Lipovetsky y Jean Serroy han sido los primeros en reconocer que la pantalla no materializará todas sus potencias sino con guías de sentido como la cultura del libro y las humanidades clásicas. Adelante con la pantalla-libertad, pero sin olvidar la pantalla asistida, «concienciada», sin la cual no sería más que humo» (Libération). Gilles Lipovetsky, sociólogo, es el autor de los celebrados ensayos La era del vacío, El imperio de lo efímero, El lujo eterno, El crepúsculo del deber, La tercera mujer, Metamorfosis de la cultura liberal, Los tiempos hipermodernos, La felicidad paradójica y La sociedad de la decepción.

Identité-altérité dans la culture hispanique au XXe-XXIe siècles Catherine Orsini-Saillet, Alexandra Palau, 2012 Interroger le concept d'identité en le mettant en rapport avec l'altérité renvoie à la célèbre formule de Rimbaud : Je est un autre qui, à la charnière des XXe et XXIe siècles, suscite toujours de nombreuses interrogations dans un monde où le moi est de plus en plus instable et en quête de repères, où l'identité se revendique le plus souvent au nom de la différence, que ce soit au niveau individuel ou communautaire. La culture hispanique de part et d'autre de l'Atlantique est particulièrement sensible à ces phénomènes et à l'évolution du rapport à l'autre qui peut créer des métissages culturels inédits. Ainsi, les nombreuses contributions du volume rendent-elles compte de la complexité et de l'intérêt d'un tel questionnement à travers une réflexion sur la langue, la littérature et les arts visuels sans oublier les bouleversements inter-relationnels générés par l'apparition d'Internet.

Arte y museos del siglo XXI Ma. Luisa Bellido Gant, 2013 Textos sobre las nuevas tipologías museísticas que se adaptan a colecciones alternativas, y sobre los avances que las TICs están aportando al museo y a la obra de creación. Se estructura en tres bloques : Nuevos ámbitos de musealización donde se recogen ejemplos de museos y exposiciones de fotografía, cine, arquitectura, patrimonio inmaterial y musealización del territorio con el caso de las ciudades mineras de Latinoamérica; Museos y TIC, donde se reflexiona sobre el genoma digital del museo y su problemática, las relaciones entre lo tecnológico y la educación, temas de propiedad intelectual y museos, TICs y discapacidad; y Arte y TIC donde se analizan los cambios y las nuevas prácticas artísticas, como el computer art, el video mapping o el videojuego, así como las transformaciones que la realidad aumentada está otorgando a dichas manifestaciones y al modo de tratar los nuevos proyectos curatoriales.
