The Elementary Course in English James Fleming Hoscic,2015-07-13 Excerpt from The Elementary Course in English: A Syllabus With Graded Lists and References This syllabus grew out of the needs of a particular group of schools. It was found that in order to co-operate intelligently, a body of teachers requires something more explicit and, at the same time, more general than the brief outline courses of study which boards of education usually provide. Hence the working principles which had proved most important in actual practice were compiled, and to these were added suggestions for the various grades, brief bibliographies, and a series of graded and annotated lists of poems, stories, and other material. The work represents, therefore, experience of a comprehensive and varied character, and is offered with some confidence as a working guide for teachers of elementary English. The book is intended primarily as a manual for the teacher's desk. An effort has been made to indicate definitely the character of the activities to be carried on in the several grades, and to arrange a collection of material sufficiently varied to meet changing conditions and so selected and listed as to be readily accessible. The Elementary Course in English Hosic James Fleming,2013-01 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts (1) We have not used OCR(Optical Character Recognition), as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos. (2) In books where there are images such as portraits, maps, sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images, so they represent accurately the original artefact. Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts, we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy.

Course of Study and Syllabus for the Elementary Schools (Classic Reprint) Louisiana Department of Education,2016-08-30 Excerpt from Course of Study and Syllabus for the Elementary Schools In the advanced grades the 'library should be freely used to enrich and supplement the various subjects in the course, such as geography, science, history and literature. The children of these grades should be encouraged to take library books for home reading, and a given amount of such reading should be required throughout the session. To use the library effectively it must contain the classics adapted to the grade, and the teacher must be familiar with its contents, in order to direct the efforts of the children along the proper channels.
