Politics Peter Ferdinand, Robert Garner, Stephanie Lawson, 2018 An unrivalled combination of exceptional clarity and analysis

Identity Politics in the Age of Globalization Roger A. Coate, Markus Thiel, 2010 Despite the homogenizing effect of globalization, identity politics have gained significance—numerous groups have achieved political goals and gained recognition based on, for example, their common gender, religion, ethnicity, or disability. Are each of these groups unique, or can comparisons be drawn among them? What is the impact of globalization on identity politics? The authors of Identity Politics offer a comprehensive analytical framework and detailed case studies to explain how identity-based collectives both exploit and are shaped by the new realities of a globalized world.

Introduction to Politics Robert Garner, Peter Ferdinand, Stephanie Lawson, 2020 The only introductory textbook to bring together theory, comparative politics, and international relations, to provide the most comprehensive and global introduction to politics available.

Terrorism, Globalization & Mass Communication Center for Global Media Studies. Conference, 2003 Nineteen papers are drawn from the first conference sponsored by the Center for Global Media Studies, held in Spokane, Washington, in July of 2002. Only two of the contributions are directly related to questions of terrorism and the media, with one discussing mass-mediated violence as a form of terrorism and the other exploring the social control role of mass media after September 11th. The others examine such issues as the media companies and policies in Europe and Asia, the globalization of the public relations industry, transnational media management structures, the transformation and structural changes in the advertising industry, and the terminology of media consumed by the democratic globalization movement.

Charter School Movement Danny K. Weil, 2009 From zero in 1991 to 3,800 eighteen years later, charter schools (public schools under contract) today educate well over a million US students. This updated edition examines the unusual experiment that is charter education and the controversies that surround public choice and charter schools as a means of educational reform.

Justice by Means of Democracy Danielle Allen, 2023-04-28 From leading thinker Danielle Allen, a bold and urgent articulation of a new political philosophy: power-sharing liberalism. At a time of great social and political turmoil, when many residents of the leading democracies question the ability of their governments to deal fairly and competently with serious public issues, and when power seems more and more to rest with the wealthy few, this book reconsiders the very foundations of democracy and justice. Scholar and writer Danielle Allen argues that the surest path to a just society in which all are given the support necessary to flourish is the protection of political equality; that justice is best achieved by means of democracy; and that the social ideals and organizational design principles that flow from recognizing political equality and democracy as fundamental to human well-being provide an alternative framework not only for justice but also for political economy. Allen identifies this paradigm-changing new framework as “power-sharing liberalism.” Liberalism more broadly is the philosophical commitment to a government grounded in rights that both protect people in their private lives and empower them to help govern public life. Power-sharing liberalism offers an innovative reconstruction of liberalism based on the principle of full inclusion and non-domination—in which no group has a monopoly on power—in politics, economy, and society. By showing how we all might fully share power and responsibility across all three sectors, Allen advances a culture of civic engagement and empowerment, revealing the universal benefits of an effective government in which all participate on equal terms.

In Government We Trust Warwick Funnell, Robert Jupe, Jane Andrew, 2009-10-15 A gripping account of modern Italian politics that gets inside the Berlusconi phenomenon.

Power, Voting, and Voting Power: 30 Years After Manfred J Holler, Hannu Nurmi, 2013-03-19 The developments over a thirty-year time span in the study of power, especially voting power, are traced in this book, which provides an up-to-date overview of applications of n-person game theory to the study of power in multimember bodies. Other theories that shed light on power distribution (e.g. aggregation theory) are treated as well. The book revisits the themes discussed in the well-known 1982 publication Power, Voting and Voting Power (edited by Manfred J. Holler). Thirty years later this essential topic has been taken up again and many of the authors from its predecessor participate here again in discussing the state-of-the-art, demonstrating the achievements of three decades of intensive research, and pointing the way to key issues for future work.

Corporations and Responsibility Jessica Christie Ludescher, 2007

Meltdown Paul Mason, 2009 A gripping account of the global financial collapse by the BBC's economics editor.

Overcoming Economic Insecurity United Nations. Department of Economic and Social Affairs, 2008 The World Economic and Social Survey provides objective analysis of pressing long-term social and economic development issues, and discusses the positive and negative impact of corresponding policies. The analyses are supported by analytical research and data included in the annex. The World Economic and Social Survey 2007 analyses the challenges and opportunities associated with ageing populations and aims to facilitate discussions in furthering the Madrid International Plan of Action on Ageing which focuses on three sets of priorities: older people and development; advancing health and well-being into old age; and enabling and supportive environments for older persons. The Survey underscores the need to fully recognize and better harness the productive and social contributions to societies that older persons can make but are, in many instances, prevented from making.
