City Dreamers Graeme Davison,2016-08-01 I became an urban historian because I believed that our cities deserved more of our curiosity and idealism. In City Dreamers Graeme Davison restores Australian cities, and those who created them, to their rightful place in the national imagination. Building on a lifetime's work, Davison views Australian history, from 1788 to the present day, through the eyes of city dreamers – such as Henry Lawson, Charles Bean and Hugh Stretton – and others who have helped make the cities we inhabit. Davison looks at significant individuals or groups that he calls snobs, slummers, pessimists, exodists, suburbans and anti-suburbans – and argues that there's a particular twist to the ways in which Australians think about cities. And the ways we live in them. This extraordinary book excavates the cultural history of the Australian city by focusing on 'dreamers', those who battle to make and re-make our cities. It reminds us that for most of us the city is home, and it is there that we find belonging.

Australian Folklore ,1970 Who was 'Anzac mac'? 'Blue Bob of Borroloola'? 'Crooked Mick of the Speewah'? How did the terms pommy, jackeroo and 'cocky-farmer' originate? What is the meaning of phrases like 'Beyond the Black Stump', 'It's a find day for travelling' and 'To give someone the drum'? Australian folklore has all the answers. It is the most comprehensive collection of Australian lore, legends, traditions, ballads and popular sayings ever published.

Straw Polls, Paper Money David Love, 2001 Australia has ended the twentieth century confused about what is worth preserving out of a mass of complex financial and economic reforms introduced over the past thirty years. In Straw Polls, Paper Money highly respected David Love talks to some of Australia's key decision makers in order to analyse our financial revolution. Tracing the major changes from the Whitlam era through to the present and into the future, he assesses our ability to remain economically vigorous. Drawing on his conversations - straw polls - with eminent people, Love balances the story of Australia's economic success with its geopolitical precariousness in the Asian region. Looking in particular at relations with China, Indonesia and the US, and focusing on the ramifications of the national missile defence proposal, he addresses the all-important question, Where do our future interests lie - with the US or within Asia?
