Nuclear Physics - Proceedings Of The 15th Workshop Jorge Fernandez Niello, Leszek Szybisz, Claudia Patricia Massolo, 1993-06-28 The XV Workshop on Nuclear Physics was devoted to the study of nucleon models, nuclear structure, nuclear reactions as well as exotic forms of nuclear matter. In particular, studies of the link between gauge theories and nuclear decay were presented. Nuclear reactions at intermediate energies, highly excited nuclear states, high spin and statistical features of the nucleus were also issues of interest which were analyzed during the Workshop. Avid researchers in this field will find this collection of papers enlightening in the analyses made and almost all-encompassing in its wide exploration of the many pertinent issues which stand at the core of nuclear physics today.

The Rio de la Plata (El Rio de la Plata) Graham Richard Daborn, P. G. Wells, 1997 The book is a product of the Ecoplata Project, a joint Canada-Uruguay project initiated by and coordinated through the Ocean Studies Program of Dalhousie University. This book is the most recent attempt to summarize the oceanography of the Rio de la Plata, the condition of its environment and the status of the white croaker fishery. The book contains current knowledge of its geology, hydrology and climate, oceanography, environmental quality, plankton and benthos, fish and fisheries biology, the artisanal croaker fishery, and prospects for its future integrated coastal management. The chapters are based on information provided by a team of 30 expert contributors from Uruguay and Canada. There are extensive bibliographies and an index. The book will be a valuable reference source for the Uruguay-Canada Ecoplata Project and for the many public, governmental, educational, scientific and private sector groups interested in integrated coastal management for Uruguay and its coastal neighbours. It should also be of interest to many persons working globally in coastal oceanography and integrated coastal management.

Current Research in Archaeology of South American Pampas Gustavo Federico Bonnat, María Clara Álvarez, Diana Leonis Mazzanti, María Paula Barros, Mariano Bonomo, Verónica Puente, 2024-05-16 This volume includes a selection of papers derived from the IX Conference of the Pampas region of Argentina, held virtually in 2021 in Mar del Plata (Buenos Aires, Argentina) and organized by the National University of Mar del Plata. Located in the southern cone of South America, the Pampas are vast plain grasslands that range across central Argentina and are one of the largest prairies of the world. The early traces of humans date back to ca. 12,200 14C years BP. From the Late Pleistocene up to the Spanish Conquest in the sixteenth century, hunter-gatherer groups occupied the Pampas. Archaeological research in the region has been focused on fascinating topics such as the early peopling, the mobility circuits in the past, the interaction between indigenous and colonial societies, and the perception of this complex past by the modern Pampean society, mainly integrated by European immigrants and indigenous descendants. This book gathers these themes and includes a selection of a conference of one of the keynote speakers and 18 papers that represent diverse topics on the current Pampean research. The book is structured in two main axes: 1) prehispanic studies using different lines of evidence; 2) historical archaeology and cultural heritage.

Ancient Hunting Strategies in Southern South America Juan Bautista Belardi, Damián Leandro Bozzuto, Pablo Marcelo Fernández, Enrique Alejandro Moreno, Gustavo Adolfo Neme, 2021-01-28 This book presents the state of the art for the studies of strategies and tactics for the procurement of preys in Argentina in different regions and chronologies (from the end of the Pleistocene until historic moments). The chapters are related to the performance of these practices in hunter-gatherer, shepherd and farmer societies. From the environmental point of view, they show cases in diverse areas such as plains, mountains, forests, sea coast, steppes and puna. Likewise, the range of preys considered includes ungulates (camelids and deer), runner birds (Rhea pennata) and minor prey (mammals and fish). The book is aimed at professionals and students of archaeology interested in the analysis of tactics and strategies for prey capture. Every chapter offers an important contribution in theoretical, methodological and technical terms. In addition, these works possess a high comparative value on study cases of very different chronologies and environments of the Southern hemisphere. This book is a result of the 1st Workshop Strategies and tactics in order to obtain preys in the past: its discussion from the integration of different lines of evidence which was conducted in San Rafael, Mendoza, Argentina, between the 8th and 10th of August, 2018.
