

Art Nouveau Paintings Of Women

Marta Sylvestrová, Petr Štembera, Alphonse Mucha

Women in Art Nouveau Jo Anne Triplett, 1984

Mucha's Figures Decoratives Alphonse Mucha, 1981-10-01 Comprised of 40 full-page, two-color plates of finished drawings in several media, this new volume reproduces Mucha's extraordinary 1905 style book, Figures Décoratives, a summation of Art Nouveau art and design. New introduction.

A nő dícsérete Marta Sylvestrová, Petr Štembera, Alphonse Mucha, 2009 The exhibition of the works of Alphonse Mucha, the world-famous Czech painter; is one of the significant cultural events representing the Czech Republic at the 2009 Budapest Spring Festival. This festival traditionally embodies the highest standards; we are therefore delighted to take part in this year's program. While planning the Czech Republic's contribution to the program, our objective has been to acquaint people with those aspects of Czech culture in Budapest that are accessible, while also attempting to transcend the borders of what is known as the central European region. In this spirit, we believe that the Moravian-born Alphonse Mucha is an appropriate choice, as he was a subject of the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy. Since he spent his apprentice years in Munich and became a well-known artist in Paris, his career lives up to the cultural goals of the festival and his works will hopefully arouse interest in the Hungarian capital, the architecture of which was molded by the art nouveau.

Goddesses of Art Nouveau, 2020 The Allard Pierson, in partnership with two museums in Germany, is compiling an exhibition about the international art nouveau movement. Key features of this style, which held sway throughout Europe from 1890 to 1910, are flowing lines and floral motifs. Another characteristic is the frequent depiction of beautiful females. Many of them are divine figures taken from classical antiquity, Byzantine icons, medieval legends and contemporary muses.⁰⁰In Goddesses of Art Nouveau this fascination for female beauty is examined more closely in the context of the social developments of the period. What is particularly striking is that the women, with their luxuriant hair and transparent robes, not only looked like goddesses but also functioned as such. Almost invariably they symbolized something larger than themselves, lending designs a symbolic meaning and often embodying higher ideals, human feelings or timeless virtues.⁰⁰The exhibition and catalogue feature not only goddesses but also nymphs, angels and fairies in jewels, sculptures, drawings, magazines and advertising material, and on all sorts of decorative objects made of silver, glass or ceramics.⁰⁰Exhibition: Allard Pierson Museum, Amsterdam, The Netherlands (23.10.2020-21.03.2021).

Designs That Stand Up, Speak Out, and Can't Be Ignored Lisa Hickey, 2004

Contemporary Feminist Art by Women in North Africa Ramona Mielusel, 2024-08-06 Contemporary Feminist Art by Women in North Africa: Body Talks dissects the diverse perceptions of the body and how it becomes symbolically charged in the artwork of six contemporary Maghrebi female artists: Majida Khattari, Lalla Essaydi, Zoulikha Bouabdellah, Déborah Benzaquen, Fatima Mazmouz and Zainab Fasiki. With a focus on the French, Maghrebi, and North American market and examining artistic mediums ranging from painting and photography to videos and installations, Ramona Mielusel highlights how the body functions as both subject and object of aesthetic discourse. The author denotes these artistic works as the intersection of the intimate and the impersonal, of the individual perception and the communitarian and societal view, without promoting a fixed notion of the body in a specific spatiality and temporality. This book explores the work of female Maghrebi artists and their intentional framing of the body's duality between the symbolic and the real, between cultural interpretation of the body in literature and the actual perception of the body.

Redefining the Line, 2010 Published by Cal State Fullerton, the exhibition's fully illustrated 107-page catalog for Redefining the Line: Art Nouveau & the Female Figure is now available. The superb layouts in the catalog are filled with gorgeous images of the exhibited artworks, artist biographies, installation images, and scholarly essays by Annie Buckley and Joanna Roche. Also included are essays by Begovich Gallery Director Mike McGee and exhibition curators Alexandra Duron and Sarah Stozza. Designed by Paul Lam, Shana Lengyl, and Sawako Naganuma under the guidance of CSUF Graphic Design Professor Theron Moore, the catalog is a stunning record of the amazing artists and artworks from this well-received and highly lauded exhibition.
