Art and Soul: Flossie Peitsch Flossie Peitsch, 2006 Canadian-born and now New South Wales-based, Flossie Peitsch is both a noted visual artist and a mother of six. She is also an active community artist who has involved her family and hundreds of others in major art projects relating to Australia's history and current ways of life. Using performance and installation art techniques, as well as traditional painting and drawing - and also women's crafts of embroidery, tapestry and knitting - Flossie loses few opportunities to engage the imagination and creativity of those involved in the projects and also those who witness them. This is an intriguing and richly illustrated book focused on an extraordinarily vibrant and effective Australian artist who operates slightly outside the mainstream.

21st Century Modern Linda Michael, 2006 A new look at Modernism in this century. Demonstrates why Australian contemporary art is such an important component of the world scene.

The Italians in Australia David R. Marshall, 2004 This book celebrates research by Australian art historians into Italian art of the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. It was prompted by the exhibition The Italians: three centuries of Italian art, which opened at the National Gallery of Australia in Canberra in March 2002 before moving to Melbourne Museum where it closed in October. This exhibition brought to Australia a wide range of paintings, a few drawings, and one sculpture, drawn from museums in Rome, Florence, Milan, Genoa, and Naples, as well as works from private collections and with dealers.--Preface.

Wendy Stavrianos Laura Murray Cree,1996 During a life characterised by change, Wendy Stavrianos has developed a complex iconography relating to particular 'sites of meaning' within her physical and psychological landscape. Her ability to tap into the 'archaic dreaming soul' of earth has given her work a mythic potency that is consistent with Aboriginal art yet also reveals her Celtic-Spanish background and the influence of the European old masters.

Stewart MacFarlane Veronique Helmridge-Marsillian,Stewart MacFarlane,1996 Still in full development and likely to become one of the most typical representatives of Australian figurative painting, Stewart MacFarlane is a notable contributor to the creation of an Australian identity. Dramatic, colourful, and sometimes shocking, MacFarlane's paintings uncover the intense human dramas that run beneath the civilized order of society. In a framework of stark realism - a realism where recognizable Australian cityscapes, superbly evoked, sum up all Western urban life - the artist suddenly lets loose a surreality of human gesture and emotion, a cryptic enactment that seizes the viewer with its potency. Each of MacFarlane's canvases holds a self-contained design: a woman, or a man, or both together, at a moment in life when the dreams and desires of erotic love have sharply conflicted with reality. Each canvas thus highlights a typical problem of modern sexual relations. But assessed as a group, these pictures go even further, for they span the entire socio-psychology of contemporary life.
