Some Things Are Best Left Dead Charlotte Winstead, 2017-01-20 The story begins in 1906 as six-year-old Jacy is thrown out of the Cliff View Orphans Home by headmistress Mrs. Krault. Fast forward to 1989 and eighty-nine-year-old Susanna Brighton is celebrating her birthday in the Clover Hill Nursing Home. Among her cards is one that simply says, Don't forget and is signed Jacy. Susanna collapses with a heart attack and dies. Susanna's granddaughter Charlie begins a perilous journey to discover what it means. With the help of librarian Scoots Barker, Charlie investigates the house that was once Cliff View. They find clues, including an old suitcase in a wall and a bloody hair clip in a trunk. When they discover the house has been sold to Charlie's Uncle Darrin, Charlie confronts him and learns the whole story of her grandmother's life. Darrin pulls a gun and fires as Charlie dives out the door.

What is Living, what is Dead in Christianity Today? Charles Davis, 1986 That the entire reform and renewal movement in contemporary Catholicism is foredoomed is only one of the many controversial judgments in this highly controversial book. It is, however, much more than merely a book about current Catholic developments; it is a book that confronts the issue of Christianity's very survival as a religious force in the modern world. This is Charles Davis's most constructive and creative theological work to date. It critiques and demolishes only that it may redevelop and rebuild.
