Environmental Management of Air, Water, Agriculture, and Energy Ahmad Vassel-Be-Hagh, David S.K.

Ting, 2020-04-14 Environmental Management of Air, Water, Agriculture, and Energy brings together the most current state of knowledge on four major elements for sustaining life on planet Earth: air, water, food, and energy. It examines how green technology aids in mitigating the global water, energy, and climate change crises, including the use of electrostatic force and green infrastructure. The concepts of underwater vegetation and aquatic cultivation, as well as vertical farms, are presented to spark discussion on emerging water-energy-food nexus lessons, experiences, and opportunities. This book takes a comprehensive global-scale approach to examining potential future environmental scenarios and outcomes. Features: Analyzes the most recent research findings in each of the areas covered Synthesizes the state-of-the-art understanding Recommends ways to strive forward and to shape future research Serves as an educational tool for educators and students Supported by detailed examples and case studies, this book serves not only as an up-to-date source of information for environmental experts and researchers in the field, but also as an educational tool for relevant undergraduate and graduate courses. It is also suitable for industry professionals concerned with preserving planet Earth for generations to come.

The Challenges of the Digital Transformation in Education Michael E. Auer, Thrasyvoulos Tsiatsos, 2019-02-28 This book offers the latest research and new perspectives on Interactive Collaborative Learning and Engineering Pedagogy. We are currently witnessing a significant transformation in education, and in order to face today's real-world challenges, higher education has to find innovative ways to quickly respond to these new needs. Addressing these aspects was the chief aim of the 21st International Conference on Interactive Collaborative Learning (ICL2018), which was held on Kos Island, Greece from September 25 to 28, 2018. Since being founded in 1998, the conference has been devoted to new approaches in learning, with a special focus on collaborative learning. Today the ICL conferences offer a forum for exchanging information on relevant trends and research results, as well as sharing practical experiences in learning and engineering pedagogy. This book includes papers in the fields of: * New Learning Models and Applications * Pilot Projects: Applications * Project-based Learning * Real-world Experiences * Remote and Virtual Laboratories * Research in Engineering Pedagogy * Technical Teacher Training It will benefit a broad readership, including policymakers, educators, researchers in pedagogy and learning theory, school teachers, the learning industry, further education lecturers, etc.

Smart Village Technology Srikanta Patnaik, Siddhartha Sen, Magdi S. Mahmoud, 2020-02-07 This book offers a transdisciplinary perspective on the concept of smart villages. Written by an authoritative group of scholars, it discusses various aspects that are essential to fostering the development of successful smart villages. Presenting cutting-edge technologies, such as big data and the Internet-of-Things, and showing how they have been successfully applied to promote rural development, it also addresses important policy and sustainability issues. As such, this book offers a timely snapshot of the state-of-the-art in smart village research and practice.

Using Traditional Design Methods to Enhance AI-Driven Decision Making Nguyen, Tien V. T., Vo, Nhut T. M., 2024-01-10 In the rapidly evolving landscape of industrial activities, artificial intelligence (AI) has emerged as a powerful force driving transformative change. Among its many applications, AI has proven to be instrumental in reducing processing costs associated with optimization challenges. The intersection of AI with optimization and multi-criteria decision making (MCDM) techniques has led to practical solutions in diverse fields such as manufacturing, transportation, finance, economics, and artificial intelligence. Using Traditional Design Methods to Enhance AI-Driven Decision Making delves into a wide array of topics related to optimization, decision-making, and their applications. Drawing on foundational contributions, system developments, and innovative techniques, the book explores the synergy between traditional design methods and AI-driven decision-making approaches. The book is ideal for higher education faculty and administrators, students of higher education, librarians, researchers, graduate students, and academicians. Contributors are invited to explore a wide range of topics, including the role of AI-driven decision-making in leadership, trends in AI-driven decision-making in Industry 5.0, applications in various industries such as manufacturing, transportation, healthcare, and banking services, as well as AI-driven optimization in mechanical engineering and materials.

Urban Farming Basics Hannah Gray, AI, 2025-02-27 Urban Farming Basics explores the growing movement of cultivating food within cities, addressing food security and promoting sustainable lifestyles. The book delves into the significance of urban agriculture, highlighting its ability to combat food deserts and reduce carbon emissions from long-distance food transportation. Readers will discover how community gardens and rooftop farms can transform urban spaces, fostering community engagement and providing access to fresh, nutritious produce. The book systematically progresses through key elements, starting with the why — exploring the benefits and impacts of urban farming. It then moves to the what, detailing the diverse methods like hydroponics, aquaponics, and container gardening, each adapted to unique urban environments. Finally, the how section provides practical guidance on establishing and maintaining an urban farm, covering essential topics such as pest management, composting, and sustainable harvesting techniques. This guide stands out by balancing practical advice with broader environmental and social considerations. It emphasizes small to medium-scale operations, making urban farming accessible to individuals and communities. It provides a realistic view of the challenges and opportunities within urban agriculture, encouraging readers to actively participate in building more sustainable and resilient food systems.

Vertical Farming Gary Grending, 2019-10-12 As the world realises the benefits of education, more and more people move to cities; in search of a better future. A future which includes affordable housing, health-care, quality education and inexpensive food. However, while the other options are possible, the pressing question here is: if so many people relocate to the cities, who will work on the farms then? Historically, the farms; built in rural areas, have provided the city-dwellers with cheap food. However, times are changing now. Modern agriculturists believe that cities too can produce ample amounts of food. In this gripping book, we introduce you to modern agricultural technology, Vertical Farms. A state-of-the-art farm, built inside a skyscraper, which grows enough fruits and vegetables to feed the entire town. This book leads you on an adventure inside a vertical farm; explaining how they can be built inside an abandoned building, and produce enough fresh fruits and vegetables to feed every person in the city. In fact, not just the city dwellers, but vertical farms can actually feed the astronauts who live on the International Space Station, with produce grown on-site. Small countries like Singapore are already taking advantage of vertical farming. With little land, water and sunlight, they have managed to produce tons of food for its fast growing population. If the Singaporeans can do it, anyone can do it.

Models Jonathan D. Solomon, Emily Abruzzo, Eric Ellingsen, 2008-01-03 Models are an essential component of the architect's design process. As tools of translation, models assist the exploration of the possible and illustrate the actual. While models have traditionally served as representational and structural studies, they are increasingly being used to suggest and solve new spatial and structural configurations. Models, the eleventh volume of the highly regarded journal 306090, explores the role of the architectural model today in relation to the idea, the diagram, the technique, and the material. Models includes contributions from engineers, scientists, poets, painters, photographers, historians, urbanists, and architects both young and experienced.
