Exploring Bacterial Colonies in Solid Foods or Model Foods Using Non-Destructive Techniques Sophie Jeanson, Sylvie Lortal, Anne Thierry, 2016-02-18 Bacteria are always present in foods, either as initial contamination or as technological agents. In solid foods, they are immobilized and develop as colonies. So far, there is a lack of knowledge about the bacteria in colonies, growth and physiology. Non-destructive and resolute techniques, such as fluorescent microscopy, now allow investigating the world of bacteria in colonies and their surroundings in food, at the microscopic scale.

Rapid Detection and Characterization of Foodborne Pathogens by Molecular Techniques Robert E. Levin, 2009-10-26 Written by one of the most prolific and respected researchers in food safety, this volume describes molecular techniques for the detection and discrimination of major infectious bacteria associated with foods. Each chapter deals with a specific organism and techniques applied to that organism. Particular focus is placed on genes associated with pathogenicity used in the polymerase chain reaction (PCR) including real-time PCR for specific detection of pathogenic bacteria and the inherent limitations of such methodology with certain pathogens. Methods for extracting microorganisms from complex food matrices and DNA purification techniques are also emphasized.
