Humankind Cannot Bear Very Much Reality

Roger Ball

The New Testament as True Fiction Douglas Templeton,2004-11-24 An original, provocative and thoughtful series of readings of the New Testament and extra-biblical texts. Making forays into literary criticism, philosophy, and theology, Templeton draws upon a rich diversity of sources. He proposes that we read the New Testament not as history (true or false) - in what is still the dominant hermeneutic - but rather as true fiction.

Hegel versus 'Inter-Faith Dialogue' Andrew Shanks,2015-02-26 The term 'inter-faith' is a recent innovation in English that has gained significant traction in the discussion of religious diversity. This volume argues that the concept of faiths in the plural is deeply problematic for Christian theology and proposes a Hegelian alternative to the conventional bureaucratic notion of inter-faith dialogue. Hegel pioneered the systematic study of comparative religion. In line with Hegelian principle, Andrew Shanks identifies faith as an inflection of the will towards perfect truth-as-openness. In relation to other religious traditions, this must involve the practice of a maximum xenophilia, or love for the unfamiliar, understood as a core Christian virtue. Shanks's neo-Hegelian theory recognises the potential for God's work in all religious traditions, which may be seen as divine experiments with human nature. This timely book discusses a wide range of interreligious encounters and will be an essential resource for studies in comparative theology and philosophy of religion.

Mindshifts: Rewire Your Reality – A Philosophical and Spiritual Guide to Transforming Your Thought Life Roger Ball,2025-08-01 The deepest human longings never change—for purpose, transformation, and transcendence. Across every culture and era, we've asked the same questions: Why do we suffer? What makes life meaningful? Is there more than this? Today's self-help industry dresses these ancient yearnings in modern jargon like "authentic living," "life hacks," and "self-actualization"—but the hunger beneath remains. We don't just want better habits; we want genuine transformation. Not just productivity, but meaning and purpose. Not superficial self-improvement, but true deliverance. Mindshifts reveals how humanity's greatest insights point beyond themselves to the God who designed us for more. Consider how Nietzsche's call to "become who you are" echoes the divine call to become who we were made to be (Ephesians 2:10). The Phoenix's cyclical rebirth whispers of Christ's resurrection. Orwell's warning about the "happiness trap" reflects Jesus' teaching that "life does not consist in an abundance of possessions" (Luke 12:15). These patterns are not accidental—they are fragments of the truth that God has woven into history—not as rivals to His revelation, but as signposts pointing back to Him. And they all find their fulfillment in the One who declared, "I AM the truth you've been chasing" (John 14:6).

Transmodern Literatures in the 21st Century Claus-Peter Neumann,Pilar Royo-Grasa,2025-09-30 Transmodern Literatures in the 21st Century: Of(f) Limits offers an in-depth examination of how transmodern literatures in English over the last two decades have addressed the phenomenon of the limit. The 14 chapters that make up the volume examine how geographical, racial, ethnical, sociocultural, generical, ontological, epistemological, and other limits are articulated, transgressed, and reconfigured in recent narratives by authors writing in a wide variety of transmodern trends such as Afro- and Africanfuturism, Young Adult feminist science fiction, food fiction, air travel fiction, the networked novel, and future narratives amongst others. They thereby expose and challenge hierarchised binary dichotomies as Euro- and Anthropocentric exclusionary discursive constructs that have kept non-hegemonic voices off limits. To counter the detrimental effects of the neoliberal grand narrative of globalisation, the chapters as well as the narratives of the limit they analyse emphasise an urgent need for inclusiveness, relationality, and communality.

Today, She Is Molly Miltenberger Murray,2014-01-21 In the summer of Molly's fifteenth year, a speedboat landed on her head. She suffered a horrendously severe brain injury and experienced a miraculous and unprecedented survival. She woke up to the realization that she had to relearn everything, and she had the next three tenuous, painful years to figure out how far she would recover. That was high school. During those three years, she would have given anything to talk to someone who had undergone a similar recovery and who had come out the other side. This book is the story that she wanted to read. This is how it feels to recover.

Humorous Wit Djamel Ouis,2020-01-17 Humorous Wit is a new compilation of quotations in their most humoristic form. There are over 15,000 of these taken from various parts of the world, with over 1,200 of them translated into English for the first time. This book features 5,000 authors from every corner of the globe, covering a period starting before classical antiquity, when man first started to record his thoughts, to modern times, enriching the cultural heritage. This does not in any way mean that the caveman was less humorous, but the richness of the environment we live in today and the variety of subject matter contribute considerably to a refined sense of humour. Moreover, considering that chimps and other primates also possess the ability to laugh, humour may have been around longer than the human race :)

Yeats Eliot Review ,1994

Marx and We Sun Zhengyu,2024-08-01 Marxist ideology is the only fully scientific ideology, the only one able to guide mankind toward the settlement of fundamental social problems and to point out the royal road for the proletariat to take in its march toward socialism and communism. Without Marxism, modern people cannot establish true social ideals, nor can they engage in the rational pursuit of values. Without Marxism, modern people cannot choose the correct path of development, nor can they build up new forms of civilizations. Without Marxism, modern people would never base their commitments to schedule the consensus-building effort and support the consensus-building process on any irrefutably and sufficiently sound theoretical foundations.

Saturday Review ,1964

The Age of Extremism James Gardner,1997 The Age of Extremism, with its combination of exact journalism and lively criticism, is the first book to define the culture and evolution of extremism, from art and science to politics and religion.

Renewing the Vision Jonathan A. Romain,1996 n a disbelieving world, what do Jews today believe? Where is God in a post-Holocaust world? How does Judaism tackle practical concerns, such as mental illness, euthanasia, the ecology and new sexual mores? Does it need to be repackaged for a media world of God-slots and religious sound-bites? What is the relationship between Jews and their non-Jewish neighbours? Is British Jewry about to disappear or will its fortunes revive? Revewing the Vision is a remarkable collection of essays by twenty-four rabbis which celebrates the fortieth anniversary of the Leo Baeck College. The wide-ranging essays illustrate how they seek both to transmit the Judaism of the past yet reinterpret it daringly for new situations. This major new publication is essential reading for anyone interested in the challenges facing Jewish life today. Renewing the Vision is edited by Rabbi Dr Jonathan Romain and contains essays by Tony Bayfield, Lionel Blue, Jonathan Magonet, Julia Neuberger and many other leading rabbis. Jonathan Romain is a rabbi, broadcaster and writer. He serves as the minister of Maidenhead Synagogue.

The Construction of Pakistani Christian Identity John O'Brien,2006

Understanding and Influencing Human Behavior George Hugh Russell,Kenneth Black,1981

Mirror on the Stage Thomas P. Adler,1987 Adler's intent here is not to read the American experience through its theatre, but to approach American drama through a considerable body of representative, and oftentimes critically acclaimed, popular plays. He analyzes each of these plays-including such classics as O'Neill's Long Day's Journey into Night, Wilder's Our Town, Miller's Death of a Salesman, and Williams's Streetcar Named Desire-in a brief interpretive essay, focusing on themes and theatrical techniques.

In Bed with Madness Yannis Andricopoulos,2008 Globalism endowed us with McDonald's, 'the world's local bank', English football teams without English players and an irrepressible desire for more as enough is never good enough - the blanket is always too short. Our personal world as much as our social and political realities seem to have blithely surrendered to the madness of a civilization which views anything from corporate greed and global warming to military adventures and religious fundamentalism as normal as a door banging in the wind. The destructive capabilities of our age have run too far ahead of our wisdom. However, the process is not irreversible if our thinking can postpone its retirement. In Bed with Madness is 'a well-argued, powerful and profound indictment of contemporary culture', stylishly written - a reviewer said he would have bought it just for its humour!

Metaphors of Evil Hamida Bosmajian,1979 Analyzes the intellectual and emotional defensiveness of contemporary German culture as revealed in the form and content of literary works written in the wake of the Holocaust. Examines autobiographies, novels, and poems in terms of their images of defensive rigidity and chaos; states that no literary form can possibly contain the lived experience. Discusses Siegfried Lenz's Deutschstunde, Günter Grass' Hundejahre, Uwe Johnson's Jahrestage, Rolf Hochhuth's Der Stellvertreter, Peter Weiss' Die Ermittlung, Nelly Sachs' Landscape of Screams, and Paul Celan's Engführung.

Journey Into Joy Brendan Kennelly,1994 In his essay on Patrick Kavanagh, Brendan Kennelly writes: 'A poet's critical judgements are always, at bottom, necessary justifications of his own most dearly held aesthetic.' This selection of his critical writing is as illuminating in what it says about his own ideas and methods as it is about the writers whose work he discusses. The book contains his essays on the major Irish writers of the 20th century: Yeats, Joyce, O'Casey, MacNeice, Kavanagh, Austin Clarke, Frank O'Connor, Flann O'Brien and Liam O'Flaherty. It brings together his writings on Derek Mahon, Joseph Plunkett and George Moore. Taken together they present his view that literature should be lucidly expressed, rooted in the real world, and true to the writer's experience, and to the world's sufferings and joy. Kennelly believes that 'the light of poetry often finds its origins in the darkness of our natures', and shares Yeats's belief that poetry comes from exploring and struggling with the self.
