Margaret Mark,Carol S. Pearson

The Power of Persistence Alstria L. Compton,2021-03-17 What is success to you? At age sixty-five what will be the deciding factor to your success? What if I told you that all your dreams and all your wishes were at your fingertips! The answer to achieving your most precious desire lies within you. This book will provide a blueprint on unlocking your best you. Within these pages are the hidden/ unhidden secrets to happiness and reaching that state of euphoria. In order to obtain that greatness, we must die inside to live inside and out. Some may read this book straight through, but others will use it as an interactive tool in which I intend it to be. However, as we progress to a greater self with the assistance of this book, we will define what is a heart's desire, how we navigate through the Storm, the great thing about the trials and tribulations, and how they empower us. We will learn what is power, the truth about self-assessment, and how it provides the gateway to be the pinnacle of what we determine success to be.

Listening Christian Olsen,2019-02-08 Become better at communicating by enhancing your listening skills. Do you listen to others? Yes? No, I mean, do you really listen to others? If there is room for improvement, then download this relatively low-priced book and become more loved in relationships and by co-workers, or become more effective at what you do and how much information you absorb. This book talks about passive listening, active listening, tips to improve, and thoughts that will help you show more interest in others, something that is much needed in today's fast-paced, digital society.

Care of Older Persons Mala Kapur Shankardass,2024-10-23 This book explores the implications and significant ethical, social, economic and health challenges that an ageing world population presents. It provides valuable insights on concerns related to providing, organizing, planning and managing care for older persons in both formal and informal settings. As the number of older persons increases rapidly around the globe, caring for them is a very important aspect of all ageing and aged societies. While in most countries the care of older persons is provided informally by family members, the changing social scene, family structures and work and employment patterns are leading many nations to create provisions for formal care through institutions or paid services of caregivers. This book offers perspectives on formal and informal care from countries such as Japan, the Netherlands, the USA, India, South Africa and Poland, among others. The essays in this book underline a rights-based approach and focus on ethical, social, economic, health and legal aspects of care as they pertain to the universal phenomena of ageing as well as the specific demographic and epidemiological realities of the selected countries. They discuss concerns such as long-term care provisions, catering to the needs of people affected by dementia, providing residential care, taking the needs of family care providers into account, the growing requirement for paid care workers and channelizing training of both skilled and semi-skilled care providers to suit the needs of older people. This volume would be of interest to scholars and those working in the fields of sociology, health studies, age and ageing, psychology, social work, medical sciences, nursing and public policy. It will also be useful to NGO sector workers, administrators, as well as grassroots workers involved with the care of older persons.

The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature Jay Parini, 2004 The Encyclopedia of American Literature gathers together 350 essays from over 190 leading scholars on the whole of American literature, from European discovery to the present. At the core of the Encyclopedia lie 250 essays on poets, playwrights, essayists, and novelists. Figures such as Whitman, Melville, Faulkner, Frost, and Morrison are discussed in detail with each examined in the context of his or her times, an assessment of the writer's current reputation, a bibliography of major works, and a list of major critical and biographical works about the writer. Fifty entries on major works such as Moby Dick, Song of Myself, Walden, The Great Gatsby, The Waste Land, Their Eyes Were Watching God, Death of a Salesman, and Beloved place the work in its historical context and offer a range of possibilities with regard to critical approach. The Encyclopedia also contains essays on literary movements, periods, and themes, pulling together a broad range of information and making connections between them. Each entry has its own primary and annotated secondary bibliography, and a system of cross-references helps readers locate information with ease. The Encyclopedia of American Literature is an outstanding reference source for students studying authors, or particular pieces of literature; libraries looking for one comprehensive source; and readers interested in American literature, its authors, and its connection with various areas of study.

Right to the Juke Joint Patrick B Mullen, 2018-05-04 The cowboy songs and dusty Texas car rides of his youth set Patrick B. Mullen on a lifelong journey into the sprawling Arcadia of American music. That music fused so-called civilized elements with native forms to produce everything from Zydeco to Conjunto to jazz to Woody Guthrie. The civilized/native idea, meanwhile, helped develop Mullen's critical perspective, guide his love of music, and steer his life's work. Part scholar's musings and part fan's memoir, Right to the Juke Joint follows Mullen from his early embrace of country and folk to the full flowering of an idiosyncratic, omnivorous interest in music. Personal memory merges with a lifetime of fieldwork in folklore and anthropology to provide readers with a deeply informed analysis of American roots music. Mullen opens up on the world of ideas and his own tireless fandom to explore how his cultural identity--and ours--relates to concepts like authenticity and folkness. The result is a charming musical map drawn by a gifted storyteller whose boots have traveled a thousand tuneful roads.

Fatal Obsession Michael Pakenham, 2018-01-25 Jack Carpenter has come a long way since he was born in the East End of London, the son of a docker and his wife. Now, according to The Times rich list, he is one of the richest men in England. His generosity is well-known and when he steps in to stop a development outside Winchester and turns it into park land, cricket pitches and football ground, he is widely praised by the local community. But underneath his confident persona lies a troubled man. Locked into an unhappy marriage with his wife Sophie and two children, Harry and Jenny, he is shocked to find that he has a daughter from a relationship in the past. Her name is Francine and Jack hopes that she will bring him the happiness he so longs for. But there is jealousy fermenting in someone's soul and one by one his family is destroyed. Detective Chief Inspector Daniel Appleman of the Hampshire police is assigned to the case along with his old colleague, Sergeant Paul Flower. It soon becomes obvious that the killer is obsessed with a shocking motive. The two detectives fear they are up against a very unhinged and clever killer who is running rings around them. The final murder leaves Jack a broken man and a daughter fighting to keep him alive. Author Michael Pakenham lives in Owslebury, Hants and comes from a well known literary Irish family. After Michael's father died at Dunkirk, he, his mother and sister moved to the USA and lived in Arizona until the war was over, before returning to England and settling in Hampshire. This is Michael's 7th published book.

Advanced Social Work Practice Joan Ellen Dworkin,2005 Dr. Joan Dworkin has been a Professor in the Division of Social Work, California State University, Sacramento since 1994. She teaches advanced social work practice and social work practice with HIV and AIDS in the graduate program. Her primary specialty areas are mental health, public health, HIV and AIDS, professional education and divorce mediation, and she has experience in provision of clinical services in community mental health and in development of primary prevention programs. Multilevel Social Work Practice: A Case Study Manual features over 20 cases, addressing diverse and ethnic clients and groups, so that introductory practitioners can understand the close relationship between their clinical work, which is client-focused, and working for social justice, which most frequently is population-focused. Through the cases, content, and accompanying activities and resources for further research, social workers will develop the ability to fully address the concerns and problems of the people they work with and will be able to act on them simultaneously.

Aesthetics in Feminist Perspective Hilde S. Hein,Carolyn Korsmeyer,1993 A first-rate introduction to the field, accessible to scholarsworking from a variety of disciplinary and theoretical perspectives. Highlyrecommended... -- Choice ... offers both broadtheoretical considerations and applications to specific art forms, diversemethodological perspectives, and healthy debate among the contributors.... [an]outstanding volume. -- Philosophy and Literature ...this volume represents an eloquent and enlightened attempt to reconceptualize thefield of aesthetic theory by encouraging its tendencies toward openness, self-reflexivity and plurality. -- Discourse &Society All of the authors challenge the traditional notionof a pure and disinterested observer that does not allow for questions ofrace/ethnicity, class, sexual preference, or gender. --Signs These essays examine the intellectual traditions of thephilosophy of art and aesthetics. Containing essays by scholars and by the writerMarilyn French, the collection ranges from the history of aesthetic theory to aphilosophical reflection on fashion. The contributions are unified by a sustainedscrutiny of the nature of feminist, feminine, orfemale art, creativity, and interpretation.
