Proceedings of the 4th Congrès International de Géotechnique - Ouvrages - Structures Hoang-Hung Tran-Nguyen, Henry Wong, Frederic Ragueneau, Cuong Ha-Minh, 2017-10-20 This proceedings volume for the 4th international conference CIGOS 2017 (Congrès International de Géotechnique - Ouvrages - Structures) presents novel technologies, solutions and research advances, making it an excellent guide in civil engineering for researchers, students, and professional engineers alike. Since 2010, CIGOS has become a vital forum for international scientific exchange on civil engineering. It aims to promote beneficial economic partnerships and technology exchanges between enterprises, worldwide institutions and universities. Following the success of the last three CIGOS conferences (2010, 2013 and 2015), the 4th conference was held at Ho Chi Minh City University of Technology, Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon), Vietnam on 26 to 27 October 2017. The main scientific themes of CIGOS 2017 were focused on 'New Challenges in Civil Engineering'.

Circulating Culture Jennifer Cearn, 2023-08-15 Tracing the flows of people, material items, and digital content between Havana and Miami, as well as between Cuba and Panama, Guyana, and Mexico, this book demonstrates the worldmaking of marginalized Cuban communities in a transnational setting.

Cooperation Networks and Economic Development Andrés Cárdenas O'Farrill, 2021-02-11 For most Western audiences, Cuba is a touristic paradise stuck in time and virtually detached from world technology networks by the US embargo – anything but a hub of industrial innovation and high value-added biotechnology. However, a closer look reveals more subtle but equally powerful stories that challenge the homogenizing assumptions of conventional economics and open up scope for more sophisticated reflections on Cuban economy and industry. From this kind of enquiry emerges the case of the internationally respected Cuban biotech industry as the most successful case of science and technology policy in the country's economic history. The book takes an interdisciplinary approach, exploring issues such as interdependency, purpose and history as natural constituencies of the innovation process. It also examines the dynamic and crucial role played by the state in the formation of innovative business enterprises. This book will be of interest to academic researchers in the fields of innovation and economic development.

Undrained seismic response of underground structures Eimar Andrés Sandoval,2020-09-25 Underground structures must be able to support static overburden loads, as well as to accommodate additional deformations imposed by seismic motions. It seems well established that the most critical demand to the structure is caused by shear waves traveling perpendicular to the tunnel axis, which cause distortions of the cross section (ovaling for a circular tunnel, and racking for a rectangular tunnel) that result in axial forces (thrusts) and bending moments. While all this has been well-studied for structures placed in linear-elastic ground under drained loading conditions, there is little information regarding the behavior of buried structures placed in nonlinear ground, especially under undrained loading conditions, i.e., when excess pore pressures generate and accumulate during the earthquake. This book includes results of two-dimensional dynamic numerical analyses conducted to assess the seismic response of deep circular tunnels located far from the seismic source, under drained or undrained loading conditions. It is assumed that the liner remains elastic and that plane strain conditions apply. A new cyclic elastoplastic constitutive model is proposed to predict the nonlinear behavior and the excess pore pressures in the ground. The effect of the input frequency on the tunnel distortions of the cross section, and the effect of the relative stiffness between the liner and the ground on the distortions of the cross section, as well as, on the axial forces and bending moments of the liner are investigated. Excess pore pressures, shear stresses and plastic strains in the ground for different relative stiffness are also investigated.

Developmental Computer-Based Version of Asce 7-95 Standard Provisions for Wind Loads (Classic Reprint) M. M. Schechter,2018-09-24 Excerpt from Developmental Computer-Based Version of Asce 7-95 Standard Provisions for Wind Loads The power of desktop computers makes it practical to develop computer-based versions of standards allowing designers to use complex standards efficiently While significantly reducing the possibility of errors. Recognition of this fact led one of the authors (e. Simiu) to initiate, as a pilot project, the development of an interactive computer version of the asce 7 - 93 Standard provisions for wind loads. To keep software development costs low it was decided to use a commercial shell. The pilot project was supported by the Structures Division, National Institute of Standards and Technology (nist). The support included about half of the funds needed for software development. The balance of the software development costs was covered by a revenue - sharing grant from the American Society of Civil Engineers (asce) About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
