Ready to Play? Pieterjan Declerck, 2025-08-05 This book approaches 'gambling-like elements' such as lootboxes and social casino games from a children's rights perspective, focusing on the applicable existing legal framework and providing recommendations for future regulation. Analysed legal domains include gambling regulation, consumer protection and data protection regulation, as well as videogame industry self-regulation. An interdisciplinary approach serves as the foundation of the text; insights from non-legal disciplines such as psychology and media studies are integrated into the legal analysis. The book is aimed at readers with different levels of prior knowledge and experience regarding the topic, by providing both step-by-step explanations of videogame-related concepts and in-depth legal discussions within the various legal domains at different levels. It examines the recent evolution where children are increasingly engaging with a changing videogame environment in which the lines between videogames and gambling are blurred. By adopting a children's rights perspective, the book aims to add a fresh perspective to the legal debate related to the interacting worlds of videogames and gambling. As the book was written based on the doctoral research of the author, one especially relevant aspect is the inclusion of recommendations and wider suggestions directed at a variety of stakeholders in the field, ranging from policymakers at different levels, to industry representatives, legal scholars, parents and carers. Pieterjan Declerck is a Doctor in Law and is affiliated to the Department of Law and Technology at the Faculty of Law and Criminology at Ghent University in Belgium.

Reviews in Veterinary Neurology and Neurosurgery Andrea Tipold, John Henry Rossmeisl, 2025-04-07 In recent years, research in the field of veterinary neurology and neurosurgery has experienced exponential growth, although the resultant expansion of knowledge has not been equally parsed across the various sub-disciplines comprising our specialty nor focused on some of the most critical issues facing our profession today. For example, studies of neurological diseases affecting dogs and cats substantially outnumber those concerning farm, wildlife, and exotic animal species. There also remains many timely and important unanswered questions related to how climate-induced changes in ecosystems may directly or indirectly alter the incidence, distribution, or risks factors of infectious, nutritional, or toxicologic diseases affecting the nervous system of animals, or best practices that promote environmental sustainability within veterinary clinical neurology. In addition, while new and potentially transformative technologies, such as generative artificial intelligence, have gained worldwide attention and been implemented resulting in improvements in several aspects of human neurological practice, there have been very few specific investigations delving into the utility and validity of these tools in veterinary neurology.
