Chinua Achebe's Legacy James Ogude,2015-12-01 Chinua Achebe's novels and essays have always drawn our attention to issues of memory, the story, history and our own obligation to history as Africans. Achebe constantly goes back to the authority of narrative - the story; and as the subsequent generations of African writers like Chimamanda Adichie keep returning to, to celebrate Africa's many stories, its moments of failure and triumph. Achebe, more than any other writer on this continent, has inspired many, and hopefully the African story tellers of the coming centuries, irrespective of their location will continue to be inspired by him. This collection of essays is an enduring tribute to this rich legacy of Achebe.

Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart David Whittaker,Mpalive-Hangson Msiska,2007-11-08 Offering an insight into African culture that had not been portrayed before, Things Fall Apart is the tragic story of an individual set in the wider context of colonialism, as well as a powerful and complex political statement of cross-cultural encounters. This guide offers an accessible introduction to the text and contexts of Things Fall Apart, surveying the many interpretations of the text from publication to the present and the critical material that surrounds it.

Stay with Me Garret Freymann-Weyr,2007-09-10 When her sister kills herself, sixteen-year-old Leila goes looking for a reason and, instead, discovers great love, her family's true history, and what her own place in it is.

The Breakup Book Lesley Robins,2014-10-21 "This book is written in a funny, straightforward, no B.S. kind of way and reminds me how delicate relationships and breakups really are" (Kevin Connolly, actor, Entourage). If you're struggling to get back on your feet and reclaim your life after a breakup, this book will give you a roadmap to finding yourself again—a stronger, wiser self. With wit and honesty, Lesley Robins shares her own experiences to show that she too has suffered the lack of self-worth many women experience after a difficult breakup. She shapes the lessons she learned into frank and practical advice, providing simple and effective ways to move on with your life. With time and the right approach, your heart will heal and you will be ready to face the world with new-found strength and wisdom. The Breakup Book will help thousands, perhaps millions, of women who are struggling to find their life, their path, their soul when it seems that all is lost forever. "Pure inspiration in a fresh voice that will make readers feel they have a smart and sassy new best friend." —Giuliana Rancic, anchor, E! News "Lesley Robins rocks and here's why: I have a beautiful, young daughter, and as a young father who knows what it's like out there in the world, what I fear most about her growing up is . . . boys. I look forward to passing on these words of wisdom to her. This book is awesome. Read it.” —Constantine Maroulis, American Idol finalist, Tony Nominee, Rock of Ages

Inhabit the Poem: Last Essays Helen Vendler, 2025-09-02 In 13 essays, the great poetry critic offers her final word on the poets who have meant the most to her, from Walt Whitman and Emily Dickinson to Wallace Stevens and Sylvia Plath. Helen Vendler was our greatest reader of poetry, a scholar who illuminated its inner mechanisms and emotional roots for a wide audience. Always attentive to the stylistic and imaginative features of a poem, Vendler addresses the work of a wide range of American, English, and Irish poets—both the canonical and the unexpected—in 13 essays: • Walt Whitman, author of the first PTSD poem • Sylvia Plath, and the lost poetry of motherhood • William Cowper, James Merrill, and A. R. Ammons on poetic charm • Emily Brontë and Emily Dickinson, linked by a poetic mystery • Ocean Vuong and the shaping imagination of poetry today • Wallace Stevens and the enigma of beauty. In these and other essays Vendler demonstrates once again why the Irish poet Seamus Heaney called her “the best close reader of poems to be found on the literary pages.” The thirteen poignant essays gathered here were all published in the last three years of Vendler's life, in the journal Liberties, and intended as her final book. The author's preface was completed only three days before her death, at age ninety.

Chinua Achebe and the Igbo-African World Chima J. Korieh, Ijeoma C. Nwajaku, 2022-04-12 Chinua Achebe and the Igbo-African World: Between Fiction, Fact, and Historical Representation explores Chinua Achebe's literary works and how they communicated the Igbo-African world to readers. Engaging in the politics of representation, Achebe sought to demystify deterministic views of race and cultural ethnocentrism. While his books and commentaries have been very influential in shaping a unique and multifaceted view of the African world, some scholars have challenged Achebe's representations of historical reality. Through in-depth analyses of his writing, contributors examine the interpretations Achebe imposed on African culture and history in his texts. The chapters cover Achebe's engagement with critical issues like historical representation, gender relations, and indigenous political institutions in a changing society. Throughout, contributors present new ways for understanding Achebe's literary works and show how his work draws from African historical reality and identity while challenging Western epistemological hegemony.

Julie Mehretu Julie Mehretu, Douglas Fogle, Olukemi Ilesanmi, Walker Art Center, 2003 Incorporating the dynamic visual vocabulary of maps, urban planning grids, and architectural forms, alternating between historical narratives and fictional landscapes, Julie Mehretu's beautifully layered paintings and drawings combine abstract forms with the familiar, pairing the Roman Coliseum with floor plans from international airports, Le Corbusier's unbuilt megacity with blueprints from Zaha Hadid and Tadao Ando, and dashing it all together with a color field full of abstract geometry. What does a city in motion look like? The closest picture of it exists in Mehretu's semiabstractions, their maelstroms of color and line, power, history, globalism and personal narrative frozen, swirled and encased in coats of accumulated resin.

The White Paper and Beyond Eduard J. Beck, Sheila A. Adam, 1990 Section one covers needs assessment, the role of the medical audit and resource management, and the commissioning process. Section two addresses the issues of funding within the NHS and the balance between purchaser and provider. The final section focuses on manager-clinician relations.

Achebe the Orator Chinwe Okechukwu, 2001-03-30 Taken together, Chinua Achebe's five novels encompass the entire social, historical, and political experiences of Nigeria, from precolonial times to the close of the 20th century. Central to these experiences is the clash of Igbo culture with the ways of the West. The novels show a society that has been fragmented and a people who are striving to reconstruct a world that they lost during their encounter with colonialism. Achebe has stated that his main purpose for writing is to reveal the truth about his people and their culture. This book examines his use of rhetoric to accomplish that objective. -- From product description.

A Mask Dancing Adewale Maja-Pearce, 1992 A BRILLIANT, PROVOCATIVE, OPINIONATED WORK..RECOMMENDED.-- CHOICE. Festus Iyayi, Ben Okri & Kole Omotoso represent what has come to be known as the second generation of Nigerian novelists. Emerging from the shadow of the 68-70 civil war, they were greatly influenced by the ensuing shifts in public & social life, especially the obscene levels of corruption which coincided with the country's second experiment in democracy under President Shagari. In the first examination of this group of writers, Adewale Maja-Pearce presents a detailed critique of the major figures-- Omotoso, Iyayi & Okri--while also touching upon lesser-known novelists such as Ifeoma Okoye, Lekan Oyegoke & Tony Marinho. Other forms of literary activity to blossom during the same period (poetry & drama) are discussed, along with background material on the modern Nigerian novel & an update of the current literary scene.
