Acting for Virtue Thomas M. Edwards, Cosimo Chiera, 2025-05-20 From time immemorial, those who have had the greatest impact on helping people to live well have, themselves, sought a particular way of being, lived artfully, or developed an aesthetic of life. Be it Marcus Aurelius, Confucius, Wilberforce, Rumi, or Sojourner Truth, such people have spoken about the pragmatics of the world from a place of deep authenticity and congruence. They share common virtues. Virtues are, put simply, humanity's greatest good. They resonate deeply within us all and inspire the most extraordinary change. The practitioners, scholars, and advocates who have generously contributed to this book have each wondered if virtue is the missing link in successful counselling. From different perspectives, considering both clients and counsellors, looking at various therapeutic problems, and using numerous client stories alongside lived experience, they have successfully shown that virtue not only demonstrates how to intervene successfully but also why many interventions are successful.

Art Therapy in Australia Andrea J. Gilroy, Sheridan Linnell, Tarquam McKenna, Jill Westwood, 2019-01-28 Art Therapy in Australia: Taking a Postcolonial, Aesthetic Turn explores and enacts established and emergent art therapy histories, narratives and practices in the specific postcolonial context of contemporary Australia. It is the first published book to attempt to map this terrain. In doing so, the book aims to document important aspects of art therapy in Australia, including how Australian approaches both reiterate and challenge the dominant discourse of art therapy. This book is as much a performance as an account of the potential of art therapy to honour alterity, illuminate possibilities and bear witness to the intrapsychic, relational and social realms. The book offers a selective window into the rambling assemblage that is art therapy in the 'Great Southern Land'. Contributors are: Jan Allen, Bronwyn Davies, Claire Edwards, Nicolette Eisdell, Patricia Fenner, John Henzell, Pam Johnston, Lynn Kapitan, Carmen Lawson, Sheridan Linnell, Tarquam McKenna, Michelle Moss, Suzanne Perry, Josephine Pretorius, Jean Rumbold, Victoria Schnaedelbach, Lilian Tan, Jody Thomson, Jill Westwood, Amanda Woodford, and Davina Woods.

Hearing Impairment and Hearing Disability Anthony Hogan, Rebecca Phillips, 2016-03-09 The purpose of this book is to challenge people (service providers, people with a hearing disability and those who advocate for them) to reconsider the way western society thinks about hearing disability and the way it seeks to 'include them'. It highlights the concern that the design of hearing services is so historically marinated in ableist culture that service users often do not realise they may be participating in their own oppression within a phono-centric society. With stigma and marginalisation being the two most critical issues impacting on people with hearing disability, Hogan and Phillips document both the collective and personal impacts of such marginality. In so doing, the book brings forward an argument for a paradigm shift in hearing services. Drawing upon the latest research and policy work, the book opens up a conceptual framework for a new approach to hearing services and looks at the kinds of personal and systemic changes a paradigm shift would entail.

Trauma-Informed Teaching in Your Elementary Classroom Lori Brown, Alison Bartlett, 2024-10-16 Research has proven that childhood trauma affects school engagement and success while at the same time recognizing that the majority of students have experienced it. This book offers simple strategies, based on evidence-based studies, that elementary educators can use to effectively recognize trauma, teach resilience, and support their students in being ready to learn. The book covers all the tenets of trauma-informed teaching, including understanding the effects of trauma, creating safety and predictability, fostering healthy attachments, and modeling resilience as part of social emotional learning, all of which are framed within cultural humility and competence. Designed for all teachers, professionals, and school administrators working with elementary students, this practical guide is key reading for creating a safe classroom and school environment that is inclusive of all learners and conducive for learning.

The Consideration of Personal Qualities in Admissions for Canadian Master's Counselling and Counselling Psychology Programs Heather K. Gower,2017 Research demonstrates the need for counsellors and psychologists to possess certain personal qualities to be effective practitioners (e.g., Jennings & Skovholt, 1999). However, the degree to which some of these characteristics can be taught during graduate school is questionable (Pope & Kline, 1999), and, thus, some researchers argue that personal qualities are an important factor to assess during the admissions process (Halinski, 2009; McCaughan & Hill, 2015). However, little is known about how personal quality considerations are incorporated into the admissions process for Canadian master's programs in counselling and counselling psychology. This study serves as a preliminary exploration of how a subset of Canadian faculty consider and assess personal qualities during admissions reviews for said programs. Participants were interviewed to explore the counsellor personal qualities deemed important by each individual as well as how such considerations currently, and might ideally, play into admissions decisions. Themes arising from these semi-structured interviews and their implications for future research and practice are explored.
