The Princess Protection Program #2: After Ever After Alex London,2025-02-11 What happens when a princess accidentally fractures her fairy tale by fleeing to the real world? Bestselling author Alex London turns classic fairy tales on their heads in this fast-paced, funny fantasy about friendship and facing your fears. For fans of The School for Good and Evil and the Never Afters series. Princess Rana loves her friends (all fellow fairy tale escapees), loves her school (the HEA, an academy for fairy tale royalty), and loves punk rock (the best music genre). But she does not love frogs . . . especially demanding frog princes who follow her home. Rana fled her story because of one frog prince in particular, and she has no plans of ever going back to that stuffy place full of rules. But then her frog prince shows up at the academy’s gate. And he’s not alone. Dozens of duplicate frog princes have followed him to the real world. Worse still, a shadowy monster is in hot pursuit, one that dissolves fairy tale characters into nothing, erasing their stories. To save everyone she cares about, Rana will have to do the one thing she vowed she'd never to do—return to her Once Upon Time. Acclaimed and bestselling author Alex London weaves together several beloved fairy tales in this fast-paced, funny, and slyly subversive adventure about figuring out who you want to be. The daring escapes, sinister monsters, familiar friends, and surprise twists will keep even reluctant readers glued to the pages. The Princess Protection Program is for fans of the Never Afters and the Descendants series, The School for Good and Evil, and the Fairly True Tales series.

Tweenhood Melanie Kennedy, 2018-10-30 A powerful female, pre-adolescent, consumer demographic has emerged in tandem with girls becoming more visible in popular culture since the 1990s. Yet the cultural anxiety that this has caused has received scant academic attention. In Tweenhood, Melanie Kennedy rectifies this and examines mainstream, pre-adolescent girls' films, television programmes and celebrities from 2004 onwards, including A Cinderella Story (2004), Hannah Montana (2006) and Camp Rock (2008). Her book forges a dialogue between post-feminism, film and television, celebrity and most importantly; the figure of the tween. Kennedy examines how these media texts, which are so key to tween culture, address and construct their target audience by helping them to 'choose' an appropriately feminine identity. Tweenhood then, she argues, is transient and a discursive construct whose unpacking highlights the deification of celebrity and femininity within its culture.

Friends, Lovers, Co-Workers, and Community Mary Erickson, Kathleen M. Ryan, Noah J. Springer, Deborah A. Macey, 2016-05-26 Friends, Lovers, Co-Workers, and Community analyzes how television narratives from the first decade of the twenty-first century are powerful socializing agents which both define and limit the types of acceptable interpersonal relationships between co-workers, friends, romantic partners, family members, communities, and nations. This book is written by a diverse group of scholars who used a variety of methodological and theoretical approaches to interrogate the ways through which television molds our vision of ourselves as individuals, ourselves as in relationships with others, and ourselves as a part of the world. This book will appeal to scholars of communication studies, cultural studies, media studies, and popular culture studies.

Assessment of Stream Protection Practices in the Interior of the Prince Rupert Forest Region David R. Bustard,1986 The analysis presented in this report provides a preliminary review of the measures presently incorporated into forestry operations for stream protection in the interior sections of the Prince Rupert Forest Region of British Columbia. It also attempts to evaluate the effectiveness of these measures and to identify their weaknesses. The analysis is based on interviews & field examinations undertaken in summer & fall 1985. Introductory sections describe the research methods used, summarize the historical development of stream protection measures in the province, and reviews studies on the effects of forest harvesting on British Columbia interior streams. Section 5 summarizes in two parts the results of the interviews & field inspections. The first part discusses those measures taken in the immediate streamside zone, especially techniques for timber removal at the forest & stream interface. The second part discusses upslope measures such as road construction & maintenance, silvicultural prescriptions, and rate-of-cut considerations that influence stream systems. The final sections synthesize overall conclusions and make recommendations for further research.
