Philosophy and Pedagogy of Early Childhood Sandy Farquhar,E. White,2018-02-02 In recent years, new discourses have emerged to inform the philosophy and pedagogy of early childhood. This collection brings together contributions from leading scholars in early childhood education, and each chapter engages with the critical task of reformulating early childhood education and the philosophy of the child with a specific focus on pedagogy. The contributors to Philosophy and Pedagogy of Early Childhood explore pedagogy through a philosophical lens, and discuss themes including intersubjectivity, alterity, ethics, and creative experience. Although these themes are addressed in very different ways, each invokes a call to teachers to consider their own position in the dialogical process of learning, and suggests that pedagogy is necessarily situated, provisional, compositional, and discursive. Such critical and philosophical inquiry is a welcome antidote in an era of pedagogical certainty and standards-based agendas. This book was originally published as a special issue of Educational Philosophy and Theory.

Teaching: Early Childhood, Primary and Secondary 1e Diana Whitton,Dona Martin,Denise Wood,Nina Maadad,Sheelagh Daniels-Mayes,2021-11-01 'Teaching' uses the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers (APST) as a guide to develop a comprehensive text for beginning teachers giving the best teacher practice. The text draws together research to identify the knowledge and skills of the teaching and learning process of the planning, teaching and assessing cycle. Linking case studies, vignettes and visuals with current and established research developments in teaching and learning for early childhood, primary and secondary student teachers, 'Teaching' addresses the processes of how to become a confident and competent practitioner in a diverse and changing world. The Decommodification of Early Childhood Education and Care Michel Vandenbroeck,Joanne Lehrer,Linda Mitchell,2022-12-30 The Decommodification of Early Childhood Education and Care: Resisting Neoliberalism explores how processes of marketisation and privatisation of ECEC have impacted understandings of children, childcare, parents, and the workforce, providing concrete examples of resistance to commodification from diverse contexts. Through processes of marketisation and privatisation, neoliberal discourses have turned ECEC into a commodity whereby economic principles of competition and choice have replaced the purpose of education. The Decommodification of Early Childhood Education and Care: Resisting Neoliberalism offers new and alternative understandings of policy and practice. Written with co-authors from diverse countries, case studies vividly portray resistance to children as human capital, to the consumentality of parents, and to the alienation of the early childhood workforce. Ending with messages of hope, the authors discuss the demise of neoliberalism and offer new ways forward. As an international book with global messages contributing to theory, policy, and practice regarding alternatives to a neoliberal and commodified vision of ECEC, this book offers inspiration for policy makers and practitioners to develop local resistance solutions. It will also be of interest to post-graduate students, researchers, educators, and pre-service educators with an interest in critical pedagogy, ECEC policy, and ECEC practice.

Empowering Teachers through Environmental and Sustainability Education Melissa Barnes, Deborah Moore, Sylvia Christine Almeida, 2021-05-23 Empowering Teachers through Environmental and Sustainability Education draws inspiration from an empirical study exploring early career teachers' attempts at enacting Environmental and Sustainability Education (ESE) in their everyday teaching practices. It showcases how a confluence of personal, professional and environmental identities supports implementation of ESE. Additionally, this book discusses key concepts and issues surrounding ESE and the ways in which teachers may claim agency and power to create change in their classroom practices. Drawing from theoretical perspectives, such as Bourdieu's 'thinking tools' habitus and capital, theories of identity, and Foucault's concept of power and knowledge relations, this book explores how teachers negotiate policies, curriculum and institutional norms to further theoretical and practical understanding of ESE. The use of personal narratives offers new insights into teachers' agency in creating localised yet powerful change through small and meaningful actions. The purpose of this book, therefore, is to explore ways in which meaningful change can be made in educational settings through these small agentive and yet empowering steps. This book reveals that teachers can enact agency and navigate the power structures that exist within educational settings in order to make ESE meaningful within their classrooms.

Early Childhood Intervention Hanan Sukkar, Carl J. Dunst, Jane Kirkby, 2016-12-01 Early childhood is considered a critical but often vulnerable period in a child's development where early identification and intervention can be crucial for improving children's developmental outcomes. Systems and family-centred perspectives are vital to support families and build their capacities to lead normalized lives with improved family quality of life. This book explores the family-centred practices and systems factors which influence families' experiences raising children with complex needs. It also considers the ways in which professionals can work with families to build and support parent and child competence. Conceptual and practical work from Australia, Canada, Europe and the United States present descriptions of and implications for different family system frameworks and early-childhood programs. Contributors in this edited volume bring together contemporary information that bridges the research to practice gap in supporting families of young children with disabilities or delays. Chapters include: Early Intervention for Young Children with Developmental Delays: Contributions of the Developmental Systems Approach Family Composition and Family Needs in Australia: What Makes a Family? Working with Families in Early Childhood Intervention: Family-Centred Practices in an Individualised Funding Landscape Family Systems and Family-Centred Intervention Practices in Portugal and Spain: Iberian Reflections on Early Childhood Intervention This book will attract the attention scholars of Parenting and Families; Child Development and Childcare.

Principles and Practice for Driving the EYLF Kay Margetts,Bridie Raban-Bisby,2011

The Early Years Learning Framework in Practice Bridie Raban-Bisby,2010 This book provides early childhood professionals with a practical guide for interpreting and implementing Belonging, Being and Becoming - The Early Years Framework for Australia. The information is of value to anyone who is concerned about early childhood education and learning - educator, manager, student or parent. -- cover.

The Early Years Learning Framework Sandra Cheeseman,Marianne Fenech,2012 Publisher's description: The new national standards require educators to show evidence of their practice and philosophies, and has been developed based on the ideas of the EYLF (Belonging, being and becoming). As such, the EYLF is an excellent way to approach the new NQS. The Early years learning framework : essential reading for the National Quality Standard outlines each of the seven NQS quality areas.

EYLF Brenda Abbey,2014 EYLF answers the many questions educators have about the EYLF and how to put it into practice. It provides an overview of Belonging, Being & Becoming before focusing on what is different about the EYLF and how these differences will affect what we do in our services every day. It addresses: terminology; reflective practice; environment; intentional teaching; documentation; and, accountability. EYLF uses colourful photographs, videos and examples of documentation to illustrate these differences. It is almost wholly Australian content. It is especially designed: to use during staff meetings; to introduce new staff to the EYLF; and, for individuals to refer to as required. Services find it an easy way to inform parents about the EYLF and to motivate them to be involved in the program.

The Early Childhood Educator for Diploma Lorraine Walker,2024 Continuing alignment with CHC50121 - Diploma of Early Childhood Education and Care, this edition has been revised and updated to incorporate the latest changes in key aspects of the National Quality Framework, namely: Belonging, being and becoming: The early years learning framework for Australia (EYLF), V2.0, 2022; My time, Our place: framework for school age care in Australia (MTOP), V2.0, 2022; Guide to the National Quality Framework (NQF) (February 2024); Education and Care Services National Regulations (2011 SI 653) (current version 10 May 2024 [accessed 6 June 2024]; The revised edition provide deeper insights and practical strategies that reflect the latest research and best practices in early childhood education.

The Early Childhood Educator for Certificate III Lorraine Walker,2024 Continuing to align with CHC30121 Certificate III in Early Childhood Education and Care, this edition has been revised and updated to incorporate the latest changes in key aspects of the National Quality Framework, namely: Belonging, being and becoming: the early years learning framework for Australia (EYLF), V2.0, 2022; My time, our place: framework for school age care in Australia (MTOF), V2.0, 2022; Guide to the National Quality Framework (NQF) (February 2024); the National Quality Standards (NQS); the Education and Care Services National Law (National Law); and Education and Care Services National Regulations (National Regulations).

Social Inclusion and the Early Years Learning Framework Margaret Sims, 2011 The first national framework for Australian early years professionals. The framework emphasises being, belonging and becoming. It argues that belonging, having relationships and a place in people's lives is essential for wellbeing.
