Mirrors of Self-Manifestation Mayur Deshpande, 2021-06-21 “Know your strengths and weakness first then fight hard until you succeed” William is an ordinary boy in this book, who is on his quest to self-revelation. The father helps him, know the mirrors that can help him achieve self-manifestation. Today, I think at every door step there is a William who is struggling to find a true version of himself. I have met many students and career aspirants who are unaware of how best they can be at their talent, intelligence, hobbies, motivation, moral values. In short, they don’t know about their strengths. When you stand in front of the mirror, it actually asks you questions. Which are these questions that are actually going to help you out? I am very glad to offer you this story of 10 mirrors. This is not just a fiction. The mirrors here challenge you with 50 different questions and if you are able to give correct answers to them, I definitely feel, it will help you see yourself with head upright in the same mirror and thus manifest yourself and face the world with definitely a makeover.

Story Work/Story Play Mary LaMont, 2023-05-02 A central assumption of narrative spirituality is that the act of retelling the story of episodes of our lives can help us better see the larger Guiding Story that God dreams for us. When I can see my Guiding Story more clearly, I am better able to handle crisis and transition and better able to see my true purpose. Story Work/Story Play lays out a four-door method of spirituality that invites participants to explore their Guiding Story through four doors that correspond to the four parts of any story—a main character, a problem to solve, the power needed to solve it, and the action taken by the main character. The chapter for each of these four “doors” provides theological, psychological, and scriptural foundations for the narrative method and includes up to ten to fifteen “story work/story play” exercises the reader can use to practice the method. Each chapter also includes profile stories of real people who have discovered layers of their own Guiding Stories. The book ends each chapter with a Guided Visualization. The book’s final chapter explains how members of a “narrative circle” can use the narrative spirituality tools of this book to discern each one’s own unique Guiding Story.

Exploring the Planets Fred Taylor,2016-02-25 The planets fascinate us, and naturally we care about our own Earth, and things like how well we can forecast the weather and whether climate is really changing. Exploring the Planets offers a personal account on how the space programme evolved. It begins in the era of the first blurry views of our Earth as seen from space, and ends with current plans for sophisticated robots on places as near as our neighbours Venus and Mars and as far away as the rainy lakelands of Saturn's planet-sized moon Titan. Examining the scientific goals of these complex voyages of discovery, and the joys and hardships of working to achieve them. The Space Age is now about 50 years old and for those lucky enough to be part of it at its inception, it's filled a worklong lifetime. Today, several satellites around the Earth have studied the atmosphere and the climate using instruments on board that the author helped design and build. 'Deep space' missions were embarked upon to visit the planets: all of the major bodies (six planets, the Moon and minor bodies, asteroids and comets) of the classical Solar System have been scrutinised close-up by experiments built in various laboratories worldwide. Most of the narrative is based on the author's experiences at the world's space agencies, research labs, and conferences, and at other places as diverse as Cape Canaveral and No. 10 Downing Street.

This book teaches you how to weed negative attitude out of your life and demonstrate positive attitude always. When you do this, the positive change you desire will manifest. You will surmount all challenges, experience abundant life and fulfill your destiny.
