

Faavae I Le Atua Samoa

Vincent F. Biondo, Richard D. Hecht

A Theological Interrogation of the Motto : Faavae i Le Atua Samoa Faala Sam Amosa, 2014 This thesis consists of a theological interrogation of the motto Faavae i le Atua Samoa (Samoa is founded on God). This thesis proposes two viewpoints: the first argues the case that the motto Faavae i le Atua Samoa can be understood as anti-traditional Samoan culture; while the second argues the case that there is room in the motto to accommodate both God and Atua. The thesis will demonstrate this through a critical analysis of the motto by asking key questions such as: how did the concepts of Atua and God find their way into Samoan society; to which deity is the motto referring and why; who coined the phrase Faavae i le Atua Samoa and how did it become the nation's motto. The thesis concludes by arguing that there is room in the motto to see God and Atua co-exist as Samoa's foundation. The significance of having Samoa founded on both God and Atua ensures that Samoa continues to keep its culture, especially for those living outside of Samoa. In other words, it serves as a reminder for those living in Samoa and in diaspora to not forget their identity as Samoans.

Bordered Bodies, Bothered Voices Jione Havea, 2022-04-29 Theologies are constructed in and from lived contexts, and contexts are shaped by borders. While borders are barriers, they are also steppingstones for crossing over and invitations for moving further. This book offers theological and cultural reflections from the intersections of borders (real and imagined), bodies (physical, cultural, religious, ideological, political), and voices (that endorse as well as talk back). With and in the interests of natives and migrants, the authors of this book embrace bordered bodies and stir bothered voices. The essays are divided into four overlapping clusters that express the shared drives between the authors—Noble borders: some borders are not experienced as constricting because they are seen as noble; Negotiating bodies: bodies constantly negotiate and relocate borders; Troubling voices: bothered voices cannot be muted or silenced; Riotous bodies: embracing the wisdom in and of rejected and wounded bodies is a riot that this book invites. The authors engage their subjects out of their experiences as migrants and natives. This book is thus a step toward—and an invitation for more work on—migrant and native theologies.

Religion and Everyday Life and Culture Vincent F. Biondo,Richard D. Hecht,2010-03-25 This intriguing three-volume set explores the ways in which religion is bound to the practice of daily life and how daily life is bound to religion. In Religion and Everyday Life and Culture, 36 international scholars describe the impact of religious practices around the world, using rich examples drawn from personal observation. Instead of repeating generalizations about what religion should mean, these volumes examine how religions actually influence our public and private lives on the ground, on a day-to-day basis. Volume one introduces regional histories of the world's religions and discusses major ritual practices, such as the Catholic Mass and the Islamic pilgrimage to Mecca. Volume two examines themes that will help readers understand how religions interact with the practices of public life, describing the ways religions influence government, education, criminal justice, economy, technology, and the environment. Volume three takes up themes that are central to how religions are realized in the practices of individuals. In these essays, readers meet a shaman healer in South Africa, laugh with Buddhist monks, sing with Bob Dylan, cheer for Australian rugby, and explore Chicana and Iranian art. Includes contributions from 36 scholars from a dozen countries around the globe
