Nobel Laureates In Search Of Identity And Integrity: Voices Of Different Cultures Anders Hallengren, 2005-01-24 In this collection of essays, biographies and Nobel lectures, ten Nobel Laureates from five continents give various and startling perspectives on current questions about modernity and tradition, unity and diversity, integration, identity, integrity, gender and sexual roles in a multicultural world of change. It is also a book on self-confidence and presents different ways to self-knowledge and cultural individuality. Published in print for the first time, these studies and penetrating observations on topical issues, written by leading authors and intellectuals from many distant countries, make up one of the most intriguing and engaging avowals of our time. The Nobel Laureates are: Sir V S Naipaul (United Kingdom, born in Trinidad) Nadine Gordimer (South Africa) Derek Walcott (St Lucia) Naguib Mahfouz (Egypt) Patrick White (Australia) Ernest Hemingway (USA) Grazia Deledda (Sardinia, Italy) Amartya Sen (United Kingdom and the USA, born in India) Rabindranath Tagore (India) Nelson Mandela (South Africa)

In Search of Self in India and Japan Alan Roland, 2021-04-13 Drawing on work with Indian and Japanese patients, a prominent American psychoanalyst explores inner worlds that are markedly different from the Western psyche. A series of fascinating case studies illustrates Alan Roland's argument: the familial self, rooted in the subtle emotional hierarchical relationships of the family and group, predominates in Indian and Japanese psyches and contrasts strongly with the Western individualized self. In perceptive and sympathetic terms Roland describes the emotional problems that occur when Indians and Japanese encounter Western culture and the resulting successful integration of new patterns that he calls the expanding self. Of particular interest are descriptions of the special problems of women in changing society and of the paradoxical relationship of the spiritual self of Indians and Japanese to the familial self.² Also described is Roland's own response to the broadening of his emotional and intellectual horizons as he talked to patients and supervised therapists in India and Japan. As we were coming in for a landing to Bombay, he writes, the plane banked so sharply that when I supposedly looked down all I could see were the stars, while if I looked up, there were the lights of the city. This is the world turned upside down that he describes so eloquently in this book. What he has learned will fascinate those who wish to deepen their understanding of a different way of being.

Experimentation and the Autobiographical Search for Identity in the Projects of Michel Leiris and Hubert Fichte Thomas Wilks, 2006 This study compares the substantial literary projects of Michel Leiris and Hubert Fichte, and examines how they overstep theoretical prescriptions in their explorations of the self. Throughout the book, the author contends that for Leiris and Fichte alike, life and writing become mutually defining over the protracted progressions of their self-scrutiny.

The Search for Identity in the Narrative of Rosa Montero Vanessa Knights, 1999 Rosa Montero is one of a group of women writers who came to prominence during the late 1970s and early 1980s, a period often referred to as the boom of women's writing in Spain. This study traces the socio- historical conditions which led to the boom, addresses the Spanish ambivalence towards the mother figure within the Spanish feminist movement, and discusses the use of metafiction on the creation of life narrative for women. Deals with the alternative figure of the spinster, examines the fantastic as a mode of discourse, and discusses the increasing focus on discourse with Montero's narrative. The author teaches contemporary Hispanic literary and cultural studies at the University of Newcastle upon Tyne. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR

The New York Times Book Review, 1978 Presents extended reviews of noteworthy books, short reviews, essays and articles on topics and trends in publishing, literature, culture and the arts. Includes lists of best sellers (hardcover and paperback).

Identity and Civilization Mordechai Nisan, 1999 Based on the premise that politics is not primary but rather based on religion, philosophy, and culture, treats these topics in relation to the three religions. Ch. 5 (pp. 127-162), War: The Islamic Assault on the West and Israel, concludes that the Muslims have a natural lust for power and that from the mid-20th century there has been a clash between the Arab world, which is seeking hegemony, and the West in general and Israel in particular. Focuses on the jihad, or religious war, of Islamic fundamentalism and of the PLO. Notes the desire of Muslim fundamentalists to eliminate the last Jew and to deJudaize Jerusalem so that it will become the world capital of militant Islam.
