How Do They Make That? 6-Pack Lori Barker, 2012-01-13 Practice working with fractions, decimals, and percentages while learning how popular food items are made! This title encourages readers to practice operations, teaching them how to compare and combine fractions using the greatest and least common denominator. With exciting images, easy-to-read text, engaging practice problems, clear mathematical diagrams, and STEM themes, this fun book will leave readers feeling more confident about their mathematical skills, encouraging them to practice outside of the classroom too! This 6-Pack includes six copies of this title and a lesson plan.

How Do They Make That? Lori Barker, 2012-01-27 Uses fractions, decimals, and percentages to explain how such food products as orange juice, pasta, and fortune cookies, are made.

Pasta and Semolina Technology Ron Kill, K. Turnbull, 2008-04-15 Over the last few years the technologies employed in the production of dry pasta and semolina have changed dramatically. This highly practical book examines these changes and gives commercially relevant information to the reader in the areas of durum wheat, semolina production, pasta mixing and extrusion, shape design and quality assurance. Written principally for food technologists working with pasta as an end product or as an ingredient, this book is also an essential reference source for academic, research and teaching institutions.

How Products are Made Kyung-Sun Lim, 1994 This title seeks to answer the question how do they make that? with approximately 100 in-depth, illustrated articles covering a wide variety of products. Each entry offers a straightforward, step-by-step description of the manufacturing and assembly process. There is also coverage of related issues: historical background on the product; raw materials used; by-products generated during manufacture; quality control procedures; future applications and sources for more information. Vintage product photographs and side bars relating historical trivia are provided by William Pretzer, a manufacturing historian at the Henry Ford Museum.
