Teaching Science Through Trade Books Christine Anne Royce, Karen Rohrich Ansberry, Emily Rachel Morgan, 2012 If you like the popular?Teaching Science Through Trade Books? columns in NSTA's journal Science and Children, or if you've become enamored of the award-winning Picture-Perfect Science Lessons series, you'll love this new collection. It's based on the same time-saving concept: By using children's books to pique students' interest, you can combine science teaching with reading instruction in an engaging and effective way.

Everyday Discoveries Sharon MacDonald, 1998 Science and math concepts are embedded in the things children do every day. With this book, children learn the how, the why and the what happens next with these open-ended, self-directed activities. Everyday Discoveries shows how easily and naturally children can learn science and math in preschool programs, early primary classrooms, child care centers, and home care settings.

Apples, Pumpkins, and Harvest Ann Flagg, 1998 Activities and lesson plans for units on autumn, fall season, or fruits and vegetables for children in grades K-1. Includes poster on the growth of an apple.

Even More Everyday Science Mysteries Richard Konicek-Moran, 2010 What are the odds of a meteor hitting your house? What are warm clothes anyway? Do you get more sunlight from Daylight Saving Time? Everyone loves a good mystery and these unfold in the 15 stories presented in Even More Everyday Science Mysteries, the third volume in author Richard Konicek-Moran's award-winning series. Again, the author uses stories without endings to teach a science principle, allowing the students to investigate how each story can be resolved. All the stories relate to the world around us and encourage students to take ownership of their learning. In Here's the Crusher, family members ponder what could have crushed a plastic soda bottle sitting on a table. By exploring each family member's idea, common misconceptions are uncovered and discussed. In Florida Cars? Amber seeks out the causes of rust on cars from Florida. She experiments with nails to try to discover what ingredients produce rust. Your students will tackle Amber's problem and reach their own conclusions. Science topics explored include evaporation, erosion, thermal energy, atmospheric pressure, buoyancy, and density. These stories are bound to reveal the wonderful ideas all students have, give them the confidence to explore their own thinking, and provide opportunities for them to 'do' science rather than have science 'done' to them. --Page Keeley, NSTA President 2008-09
