Locality, Memory, Reconstruction Jopi Nyman,Risto Turunen,2011-11-15 This interdisciplinary volume explores the role of culture in single-industry communities facing the loss of their major industry. In a series of innovative case studies extending from New Zealand and Slovenia to the contemporary Nordic and Baltic States, the contributors address a wide range of topical issues. These include the role of the community's past as a marker of its newly reconstructed identity and the importance of local traditions, landscapes, and place-related memories in post-industrial communities formerly dependent on one single employer or industry. The empirical case studies emphasise the role of cultural memory and local identity as communal strategies of survival and perseverance in such places and provide fresh perspectives into this turn to culture. The four parts of the book address such topics as the symbolic governance of change, tradition as capital, narratives as collective memories, and post-Soviet transition in comparative perspective. The team of international contributors hails from Australia, Estonia, Finland, Germany, and Slovenia and represents the fields of sociology, cultural policy, cultural history, landscape studies, and geography.

Glory Roslyn and the Heart of Universe Tushar,2020-12-26 Glory is an eleven-year-old orphan who has a beautiful heart that never allows hate and anger to step in. Her adoptive mother, Myrtle Willis, died when she was six. Glory lives in painful conditions with her adoptive father who keeps himself drown in liquor all the time, and with his cruel son who never misses a chance to torture her. In these painful conditions, she has a mysterious companion—a tiny dragon-faced, red snake that has bat-like wings and green pointed horns. It appears from nowhere on her palm and absorbs all her pain whenever she mourns. And one day, she finds another mysterious companion who leads her to the hidden worlds.... This is a legend of war between Gods and Ill Dwellers to control the greatest power of the hidden worlds, the Heart of Universe. This is a legend of ambitions and conspiracies. This is a legend of those whose hearts are filled with sacred feelings. This is a legend of hope.

Āina Hanau / Birth Land Brandy Nalani McDougall,2023-06-13 'Āina Hānau / Birth Land is a powerful collection of new poems by Kanaka 'Ōiwi (Native Hawaiian) poet Brandy Nālani McDougall. 'Āina hānau—or the land of one's birth—signifies identity through intimate and familial connections to place and creates a profound bond between the people in a community. McDougall's poems flow seamlessly between 'Ōlelo Hawai'i and English, forming rhythms and patterns that impress on the reader a deep understanding of the land. Tracing flows from the mountains to the ocean, from the sky to the earth, and from ancestor to mother to child, these poems are rooted in the rich ancestral and contemporary literature of Hawai'i —mo'olelo, mo'okū'auhau, and mele —honoring Hawaiian 'āina, culture, language, histories, aesthetics, and futures. The poems in Āina Hānau / Birth Land cycle through sacred and personal narratives while exposing and fighting ongoing American imperialism, settler colonialism, militarism, and social and environmental injustice to protect the 'āina and its people. The ongoing environmental crisis in Hawai'i, inextricably linked to colonialism and tourism, is captured with stark intensity as McDougall writes, Violence is what we settle for / because we've been led to believe / green paper can feed us / more than green land. The experiences of birth, motherhood, miscarriage, and the power of Native Hawaiian traditions and self-advocacy in an often dismissive medical system is powerfully narrated by the speaker of the titular poem, written for McDougall's daughters. 'Āina Hānau reflects on what it means to be from and belong to an 'āina hānau, as well as what it means to be an 'āina hānau, as all mothers serve as the first birth lands for their children.
