Energy Law in Venezuela Henry Jiménez Guanipa, 2025-09-26 Derived from the renowned multi-volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws, this book provides a systematic approach to legislation and legal practice concerning energy resources and production in Venezuela. The book describes the administrative organization, regulatory framework, and relevant case law pertaining to the development, application, and use of such forms of energy as electricity, gas, petroleum, and coal, with attention as needed to the pervasive legal effects of competition law, environmental law, and tax law. A general introduction covers the geography of energy resources, sources and basic principles of energy law, and the relevant governmental institutions. Then follows a detailed description of specific legislation and regulation affecting such factors as documentation, undertakings, facilities, storage, pricing, procurement and sales, transportation, transmission, distribution, and supply of each form of energy. Case law, intergovernmental cooperation agreements, and interactions with environmental, tax, and competition law are explained. Its succinct yet scholarly nature, as well as the practical quality of the information it provides, make this book a valuable resource for energy sector policymakers and energy firm counsel handling cases affecting Venezuela. It will also be welcomed by researchers and academics for its contribution to the study of a complex field that today stands at the foreground of comparative law.

Regional and International Cooperation in South America After COVID Melisa Deciancio, Cintia Quiliconi, 2022-07-22 This volume analyses South American regional and international cooperation during the COVID19 crisis started in 2020. Across thirteen chapters a collection of leading experts address how regional collaboration has developed, evolved, and recoiled. The chapters explore the state of regionalism at the pandemic surge and the challenges and opportunities this situation has opened for regional and international cooperation. Authors analyze the role of extra-regional powers and traditional regional leaders during the pandemic, identifying the extent to which regional cooperation has been possible across several policy agendas. They argue that fragmented visions of regionalism, ideological polarization, and weak leadership, has prevailed from before the pandemic which, accompanied by adverse interactions among major powers, has ensured that cooperation has remained bilateral rather than regional. Ultimately all these factors have created a complex scenario in which disintegration dynamics have emerged, darkening, even more, the South American regional panorama. Regional and International Cooperation in South America After COVID will be an invaluable resource for students, scholars and policy specialists of regionalism and regional integration, Latin American studies, international relations and international political economy.

Chapters and sections of the book are structured to identify major areas of minority articulation of their condition and strategies deployed against the repression, persecution, oppression, suppression, domination, and tyranny of the majority or dominant group. Bringing together diverse perspectives to give a holistic representation of the African reality, this handbook is an important read for scholars and students of comparative and postcolonial literature and African studies.

Toward Uniformly Accepted Principles for Interpreting MFN Clauses Nudrat Ejaz Piracha, 2021-06-07 siness models adopted by insurance companies; and comparative analysis of double tax treaty policies adopted in a number of countries with respect to the permanent establishment provision in the insurance business, highlighting Switzerland for comparative purposes. In a concluding chapter, the author proposes changes to the definition of the dependent agent permanent establishment currently enshrined in the model treaties and their respective commentaries, aligning such a definition to the regulatory framework in which insurance companies conduct their business in countries other than that of incorporation. As a highly significant and timely contribution to the study of the interplay between insurance regulation and tax implications, this very original work will prove of especial value to practitioners in international tax and insurance law, as well as professionals in the financial services sector and tax academics.

Migration, New Nationalisms and Populism Rada Ivekovic, 2022-01-20 This book examines the antagonistic relationship between new European nationalisms as these often go hand-in-hand with populism, and the phenomenon of migration. Migration has become a significant issue both in Europe and the whole world. Although it has always existed, much of public opinion sees it now as a problem. The latter has been exaggerated through a crisis in hospitality exacerbated by the relatively recently constructed and misplaced feeling of a civilisational threat from islam. Migration is then countered by the escalation of new nationalisms, at least some of which are supported by populism. This book offers an understanding of this conjunction of migration and nationalism in the post-cold war European context. More specifically, the book takes up how the end of the simplified cold war cognitive binary means an unprecedented epistemological confusion and depoliticisation which takes migration as its target, but could resort to other targets too. Discussing the postcolonial background to the new migrations, the book also considers womens' rights, postsocialism and the relevance of the current pandemic, as the issue of migration is addressed in the context of the European crisis-ridden present. This wide-ranging interrogation of how contemporary European migration is conceived and understood will appeal to students, academics, activists, policy makers, and others with interests in contemporary migration, new nationalisms, populism, feminism, colonial, postcolonial, and decolonial issues, as well as socialism and postsocialism.

Una pandemia de desinformación Christian Pérez, 2022-09-03 Cómo la desinformación y la difusión de fake news llegaron

a convertirse en otra peligrosa pandemia. — Prólogos de Amós García (Médico Epidemiólogo y Vacunólogo, Presidente de la Asociación Española de Vacunología), y Alejandro Pascual Iglesias (Experto en Coronavirus y desarrollo de vacunas). Epílogo de Miguel Marcos (Médico internista). — Aunque no fue hasta el 11 de marzo de 2020 cuando la Organización Mundial de la Salud (OMS) declaró oficialmente la existencia de una pandemia mundial, desde un principio la población —y las autoridades sanitarias— han tenido que enfrentarse a otra pandemia casi igual de peligrosa: la de la sobreabundancia informativa falsa y su rápida propagación entre las personas y los medios, lo que motivó que la propia OMS la bautizara con el nombre de «infodemia». Y realizó una advertencia: la difusión de fake news se ha convertido en una industria que mueve millones de euros cada año. De hecho, solo en los 3 primeros meses de 2020 (antes de la declaración de pandemia por parte de la OMS), al menos 800 personas fallecieron a consecuencia de la desinformación, y otras 2.000 fueron hospitalizadas. Después de dos años de trabajo, Una pandemia de desinformación se convierte en el primer ensayo que se ocupa exclusivamente de analizar la pandemia de desinformación en la que también se ha convertido la COVID-19 (con la abundante evidencia científica y académica existente hasta el momento), empezando por una cronología real de los hechos, descubriendo cuáles son las noticias y afirmaciones falsas más compartidas, respondiendo a preguntas sobre cómo y por qué una determinada persona puede crear una afirmación falsa o compartirla, y, sobre todo, proporcionando una guía válida para identificar, contrastar y denunciar posibles fake news. Algunas preguntas respondidas: □ ¿Cómo y cuándo empezó la desinformación? □ ¿Cuántas vidas se ha podido cobrar? □ ¿Cómo se han desarrollado las vacunas? □ ¿Quiénes son los principales responsables de la difusión de fake news? □ ¿Cuáles son las noticias falsas más difundidas hasta el momento? □ ¿Cuáles son los riesgos de la desinformación? □ ¿Es la difusión de noticias falsas un delito? □ ¿Qué ocurrió con Didier Raoult en Francia? □ ¿Por qué Jair Bolsonaro, presidente de Brasil, ha sido acusado de crímenes contra la humanidad por su gestión de la pandemia? □ ¿Son la ivermectina o la hidroxicloroquina tratamientos realmente útiles contra la COVID-19? ¿Qué dice realmente la ciencia al respecto? □ ¿Por qué creemos en teorías de conspiración? □ ¿Cómo podemos detectar y combatir las fake news?.
