Tim Vivian

Women's Religions in the Greco-Roman World Ross Shepard Kraemer, 2004 This text is a collection of translations of primary texts relevant to women's religion in Western antiquity, from the 4th century BCE to the 5th century CE.

Forgotten Desert Mothers, The Swan, Laura, 2022 In The Forgotten Desert Mothers, Laura Swan introduces readers to the sayings, lives, stories, and spirituality of women in the early Christian desert and monastic movement, from the third century on. In doing so, she finally sets the record straight that women played an important and influential role in early Christianity, indeed a role that has been long overshadowed by men. She begins with an exploration of the historical context and spirituality of the desert ascetics. Then she weaves together the sayings of the major desert ammas, or mothers, along with commentary that invites readers to reflect on their own spiritual journey as they share their wisdom. The book then journeys between desert, monastery and city to reveal the stories of ascetics and solitaries whose stories are rarely heard, organized in the author's own alphabetical collection. The Forgotten Desert Mothers demonstrates, like no other work, that women have long had a history of leadership in Christianity. This engaging, eye-opening, and insightful work targets all faith seekers looking to reclaim the history and spirituality of the women who came before them, as well as to understand their own inner journey. It will be a welcome addition to courses on early church history, women's studies, and religious studies.

Praying with the Desert Mothers Mary Forman, 2005 Introduces the reader to the lives, sayings, and stories of the fourth- and fifth-century women who were foundational members of the early Christian community in the Mediterranean region; invites readers to explore their own spiritual journeys--Provided by publisher.

The Sayings of the Desert Fathers, 2023-12-15 'Give me a word, Father', visitors to early desert monks asked. The responses of these pioneer ascetics were remembered and in the fourth century written down in Coptic, Syriac, Greek, and later Latin. Their Sayings were collected, in this case in the alphabetical order of the monks and nuns who uttered them, and read by generations of Christians as life-giving words that would help readers along the path to salvation.

The Living God Thomas C. Oden, 1992-08-14 Required, indispensable, and edifying reading. This book and books like it help us in the believing and living of these days.....The Circuit Rider

Maenads, Martyrs, Matrons, Monastics Ross Shepard Kraemer, 1988

The Language of Silence Peter-Damian Belisle, 2003 The quest for solitude with God runs through the entire Christian tradition. Peter-Damian Belisle shows us its biblical origins, through the age of the early desert monastics and the rise of monastic orders. He surveys those orders, like the Camaldolese, Carthusians, and Cistercians who maintained the hermit ideal. He continues on to examine such twentieth-century figures as Charles de Foucauld, Dorothy Day, and the Trappist martyrs of Algeria.

Classic Christianity Thomas C. Oden, 2009-08-04 In the three volumes of his famous Systematic Theology, Thomas Oden delves deeply into ancient Christian tradition and brings to the contemporary church the best wisdom from the past. Now, for the first time, these rich resources are available in one complete volume. Written for clergy, Christian educators, religious scholars, and lay readers alike, Classic Christianity is a dazzling synthesis of the history of Christian thought. In this masterly work, Oden tackles the central questions of Christian belief and the nature of the trinity. Classic Christianity examines the traditional elements of systematic theology, covering the ecumenical councils and early synods; the great teachers of the Eastern Church tradition, including Athanasius and John Chrysostom; and prominent Western figures like Augustine, Ambrose, Thomas Aquinas, Martin Luther, and John Calvin. This book offers the reader the fullest understanding of the Christian faith available. Thomas C. Oden is the Henry Anson Buttz Emeritus Professor of Theology and Ethics at Drew University and the author of more than twenty widely read books, including Pastoral Theology, Agenda for Theology, and Kerygma and Counseling. He is also the general editor of the 28-volume series Ancient Christian Commentary on Scripture.

Handmaids of the Lord Joan Margaret Petersen, 1996 Throughout the Christian world, women have chosen to lead disciplined lives of prayer and asceticism. Descriptions of early role-models 'Macrina, the two Palas and Melanias, Radagunde' and others by contemporaries, usually men, provide details of their austerities, their aspirations, and their relationship with the Church and the world, not least with male authority figures.

Journeying Into God Tim Vivian, 1996 Saint Antony, Abba Pambo, Syncletica of Palestine, Saint George of Choziba, Abba Aaron, Saint Theognius, Saint Omnophrius come to life through translations of biographical documents from Greek and Coptic. Discussion of women, the structure of a monastery, miracles and relics, and the cult of the saints illuminates the text.

The American Benedictine Review, 2020

The Formulation of Christianity by Conflict Through the Ages Katharine B. Free, 1995

The Celtic Soul Friend Edward Cletus Sellner, 2002 Edward Sellner describes the history of the anamchara or soul friend and the early Celtic Church out of which it arose. He offers a portrait of the Celtic spirituality, spirituality with a deep appreciation of nature, a respect for women's gifts and leadership, and a holistic perspective on the relationship of the mind and the body.

Making Women Visible Church of England. Liturgical Commission, 1989

No More Mr. Nice Guy! Stephen W. Brown,1986

Invisible People and Processes Jenny Moore,Eleanor Scott,1997 Invisible People and Processes focuses on issues of gender and childhood in European archaeology. It presents a range of themes and periods, covering Britain, the Mediterranean and Eastern Europe, with contributions by scholars from the UK, USA, Canada and Europe. The authors not only examine the archaeological record for these two structuring principles of human society, but also consider cultural variability and discuss related theoretical problems. The structure of the book is thematic. The first part concentrates on theory and reviews the available evidence. The second part includes case studies of critical research relating particularly to gender, while the last part contains case studies relating especially to children and childhood. Each part is concluded by a commentary from an expert in the field. This book is the first archaeological work on gender to focus exclusively on the European archaeological record, and to combine this with a coherent discussion of childhood and concepts of childhood. It will be essential reading for all those working in gender and related studies, especially in an archaeological context.

The First Christian Centuries Paul McKechnie,2001

A History of Celibacy Elizabeth Abbott,1999 Celibacy is a worldwide practice that is often adopted, rarely discussed. Now, in Elizabeth Abbott's fascinating and wide-ranging history, it is examined in all its various forms: shaping religious lives, conditioning athletes and shamans, surfacing in classical poetry and camp literature, resonating in the voices of castrati, and permeating ancient mythology. Found in every society of the past, practiced by both the anonymous and the legendary (St. Catherine, Joan of Arc, Leonardo da Vinci, Elizabeth I, Gandhi), celibacy has as many stories as adherents, and Abbott weaves them into a provocative, seamless tapestry that brings history alive.
