Sue Chance

All These Monsters Amy Tintera, 2020 Seventeen-year-old Clara runs away from home to join a vigilante monster-fighting squad, only to discover that sometimes the most dangerous monsters are where you least expect them.

Fangoria's 101 Best Horror Movies You've Never Seen Adam Lukeman, 2003 Since 1979, Fangoria magazine has been a leading name on the horror scene, covering feature films, video games, comic books, and all aspects of horror entertainment. This selection of lesser known horror gems are divided into three categories: Killers and Slashers; Supernatural and Haunters; and, of course, Monsters. Each of the 101 entries reveals the year of release, director, screenwriter, country of origin, plus little-known facts about the film. Here are more than 101 reasons to look beyond the Hollywood hype-fests when you need something to make your skin crawl.

Fighting Monsters Richard Wallace Braithwaite, 2016 Only six escapees survived the Sandakan death marches of 1945 in North Borneo, the worst atrocity ever inflicted on Australian soldiers. 1787 Australian and 641 British POWs perished. Previous descriptions of the numerous violent acts have yielded little understanding of a situation where the real struggle was to keep one's humanity when so many were losing theirs, whether Allied POWs, local residents of Borneo, Javanese slave labourers, or Japanese soldiers. Understanding this extraordinary story is aided by reference to a wide range of sources in different countries and disciplines, and by examining the perspectives of all players in this terrible game of survival. An unusual and extreme POW story, the Sandakan tragedy had four stages: active resistance in 1942-3, stubborn endurance in 1943-4, the collapse of civilized existence in 1945 and, finally, the postwar decades of torment for the six damaged survivors, the gradual assimilation of the story, the healing of the damage and the commemoration of the tragedy by the families and communities involved. Richard Wallace Braithwaite's father was one of the six survivors of the Sandakan death marches of 1945. He died in 1986, still wanting the story to be properly told. This led to a project that has lasted for much of the last forty years of the author's life, culminating in this book. With a scientific background, Richard worked for many years with CSIRO and universities in the biological and social sciences and in historical research. His extensive and diverse research history and lifelong personal immersion in the story has given him a unique perspective in exploring the complexities of the Sandakan tragedy.

A Voice of My Own Sue Chance, 1993 It's time the secret was out! For almost eight years, Sue Chance has written a monthly column for THE PSYCHIATRIC TIMES, a newspaper that goes to all psychiatrists in the U.S. (who've become accustomed to being shouldered aside by their secretaries & spouses, anxious to read Sue's column first since she's plainly speaking to them in her jargon-free, poetic & humorous style). In the words of Roy Menninger, Chairman of the Menninger Foundation, The rare clarity of Sue's writing makes her work fascinating reading whatever the subject...In some quite remarkable way, she intimately engages the reader, sharing her understanding, an illuminating perspective, & an abundance of pithy thoughts that are genuinely wise. A VOICE OF MY OWN is a collection of 35 of her best columns, in which she talks about grief, humor, motherhood, spiritual issues, love & the sexes, anger, etc.--everything from abandonment to Yeats as per the index. As Harriet Lerner, author of THE DANCE OF ANGER, says, This book is quite simply, wonderful reading. Sue Chance is a witty, honest, occasionally outrageous woman. She...also...speaks so plainly of the human heart that you'll find yourself responding, 'Yes! That's JUST what I would have said.' To order call 1-800-484-2099 (4545) or contact Baker & Taylor.

Jungian Crime Scene Analysis Aaron B. Daniels,2018-05-01 This book presents the serial killer as having 'imagopathy' - that is, a disorder of the imagination - manifested through such deficiencies as failure of empathy, rigid fantasies, and unresolved projections. The author argues that this disorder is a form of failed alchemy. His study challenges long-held assumptions that the Jungian concept of individuation is a purely healthful drive. Serial killers are unable to form insight after projecting untenable material onto their victims. Criminal profilers must therefore effect that insight informed by their own reactions to violent crime scene imagery, using what the author asserts is a form of Jung's 'active imagination'. This book posits sexual homicides as irrational shadow images in our rationalistic modern culture. Consequently, profilers bridge conscious and unconscious for the inexorably splintered killer as well as the culture at large.
