Remedies from the Holy Qur'an Fisabilillah Organization, 2016-01-19 INTRODUCTION It is natural in this life that people will suffer worries and stress, because this world is a place of disease, hardship and suffering. It is also natural in this life that people have to put up with suffering and hardship for various reasons, as is indicated in the Qur'an: Man has been created weak. An-Nisa 28 The Prophet [PBUH] said: Whatever the disease, Allah Ta'ala has created a medication for it, regardless of the fact that some men may come to know what this medication is and others may not. It is also natural that people have their own problems, worries and diseases in this life, but what should count is how one deals with all of them. The believer will seek solutions to such worries in the Holy Qur'an and Sunnah where there is the true remedy. This book contains prescriptions for problems, worries, disease and much more; the sources being the Holy Qur'an and Sunnah, as well as the experiences of the pious, as long as they are in accordance to the Qur'an and Sunnah.

The Anthropology of Infectious Disease Peter J. Brown,Marcia C. Inhorn,2013-11-05 Anthropological contributions to the study of infectious disease and to the study of actual infectious disease eradication programmes have rarely been collected in one volume. In the era of AIDS and the global resurgence of infectious diseases such as tuberculosis and malaria, there is widespread interest and concern about the cultural, ecological and political factors that are directly related to the increased prevalence of infectious disease. In this book, the authors have assembled the growing scholarship in one volume. Chapters explore the coevolution of genes and cultural traits; the cultural construction of 'disease' and how these models influence health-seeking behaviour; cultural adaptive strategies to infectious disease problems; the ways in which ethnography sheds light on epidemiological patterns of infectious disease; the practical and ethical dilemmas that anthropologists face by participating in infectious disease programmes; and the political ecology of infectious disease.

Entangled Itineraries Pamela H. Smith,2019-05-22 Trade flowed across Eurasia, around the Indian Ocean, and over the Mediterranean for millennia, but in the early modern period, larger parts of the globe became connected through these established trade routes. Knowledge, embodied in various people, materials, texts, objects, and practices, also moved and came together along these routes in hubs of exchange where different social and cultural groups intersected and interacted. Entangled Itineraries traces this movement of knowledge across the Eurasian continent from the early years of the Common Era to the nineteenth century, following local goods, techniques, tools, and writings as they traveled and transformed into new material and intellectual objects and ways of knowing. Focusing on nonlinear trajectories of knowledge in motion, this volume follows itineraries that weaved in and out of busy, crowded cosmopolitan cities in China; in the trade hubs of Kucha and Malacca; and in centers of Arabic scholarship, such as Rey and Baghdad, which resonated in Bursa, Assam, and even as far as southern France. Contributors explore the many ways in which materials, practices, and knowledge systems were transformed and codified as they converged, swelled, at times disappeared, and often reemerged anew.
