Family and Succession Law in Nigeria Nwudego Nkemakonam Chinwuba, 2022-11-20 Derived from the renowned multi-volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws, this concise exposition and analysis of the essential elements of law with regard to family relations, marital property, and succession to estates in Nigeria covers the legal rules and customs pertaining to the intertwined civic status of persons, the family, and property. After an informative general introduction, the book proceeds to an in-depth discussion of the sources and instruments of family and succession law, the authorities that adjudicate and administer the laws, and issues surrounding the person as a legal entity and the legal disposition of property among family members. Such matters as nationality, domicile, and residence; marriage, divorce, and cohabitation; adoption and guardianship; succession and inter vivos arrangements; and the acquisition and administration of estates are all treated to a degree of depth that will prove useful in nearly any situation likely to arise in legal practice. The book is primarily designed to assist lawyers who find themselves having to apply rules of international private law or otherwise handling cases connected with Nigeria. It will also be of great value to students and practitioners as a quick guide and easy-to-use practical resource in the field, and especially to academicians and researchers engaged in comparative studies by providing the necessary, basic material of family and succession law.

Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Indonesia Robert W. Hefner, 2018-01-03 Few countries as culturally rich, politically pivotal, and naturally beautiful as Indonesia are as often misrepresented in global media and conversation.

Stretching 3,400 miles east to west along the equator, Indonesia is the fourth most populous country in the world and home to more than four hundred ethnic groups and several major world religions. This sprawling Southeast Asian nation is also the world's most populous Muslim-majority country and the third largest democracy. Although in recent years the country has experienced serious challenges with regard to religious harmony, its trillion-dollar economy is booming and its press and public sphere are among the most vibrant in Asia. A land of cultural contrasts, contests, and contradictions, this ever-evolving country is today rising to even greater global prominence, even as it redefines the terms of its national, religious, and civic identity. The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Indonesia offers an overview of the modern making and contemporary dynamics of culture, society, and politics in this powerful Asian nation. It provides a comprehensive survey of key issues in Indonesian politics, economics, religion, and society. It is divided into six sections, organized as follows: Cultural Legacies and Political Junctures Contemporary Politics and Plurality Markets and Economic Cultures Muslims and Religious Plurality Gender and Sexuality Indonesia in an Age of Multiple Globalizations Bringing together original contributions by leading scholars of Indonesia in law, political science, history, anthropology, sociology, religious studies, and gender studies this Handbook provides an up-to-date, interdisciplinary, and academically rigorous exploration of Indonesia. It will be of interest to students, academics, policymakers, and others in search of reliable information on Indonesian politics, economics, religion, and society in an accessible format.

A wife is needed Ravindra Singh, 2022-08-03 This book is a collection of 21 stories all in English. Out of these 21 stories, two are small stories, but they also point towards the poverty spread over in our rural areas. The very first story teaches us to live a normal life. The life pattern decided by our elders are quite good and we should go like that. Here a person neglects his mother's sincere advice and later on suffers for that. Second one is a small story uncovering the poverty in our rural areas. Another one speaks that sincerity and honesty never go waste. One other teaches us to be alert to our situations and we must attend to them in time or otherwise we shall have to repent for that slackness. One other story speaks - education is a paras stone. It turns all fools to wise person. Another one teaches us to adopt to remarriage of widows and widowers to make the rest of life comfortable. Then one will find in one story that we should not quarrel on flimsy matters. It makes our life painful. We should ignore them. There is one story which reflects humanity beyond the limit of caste and religion. In one story, there is a beautiful young prostitute who remains thinking about GOD, like wise all stories carry some moral.

Staff Management in Library and Information Work Peter Jordan, Noragh Jones, 1995 Recent research has been drawn upon throughout to fully revise this volume, especially in the areas of staff motivation, job satisfaction and workforce planning. Of particular note are the many new examples featured of documentation now used by libraries, particularly in the coverage of job descriptions, recruitment, staff selection and staff appraisal. All topics highlighted by the changed Library Association requirements for achievement of its qualifications are covered, and the chapter on staff appraisal has been completely re-written to take account of the great progress made in libraries and information units since the last edition. The section on staff supervision and interpersonal skills training has been reorganized and now encompasses time management, conflict management and the management of stress. With these new features bringing the book up to date, it remains an indispensable guide for all library and information centre professionals, and all those involved with the supervision and management of library and information staff.

Celebrating Dreams Vandana Bhandari, Ruby Kashyap, 1999 Details how in Hinduism man's life is categorized in four phases the young man [brahmacharya stage], the second phase marriage [grhasta], the third stage is the process of moving into ashrams and retreats [vanaprastha], and the last stage is of complete renunciation from this material world [sannyasa].
