Germán Latorre

Planos de grandes ciudades Kevin J. Brown, Spencer D. Hunt, 2023-11-02 Conozca el desarrollo de distintas ciudades a lo largo del tiempo a través de una progresión de estilos cartográficos para obtener una visión sorprendente de nuestra propia evolución humana como seres sociales colectivos. Al reunir planos de varias culturas dispares, incluidas las de Asia Oriental y Oriente Medio, sigue el desarrollo de la urbe desde los centros europeos hasta las ciudades coloniales, y desde las capitales del Viejo Mundo, construidas orgánicamente, hasta las metrópolis del Nuevo Mundo, planificadas de una forma rígida. Cada plano va acompañado de una descripción que lo ubica en su contexto histórico, político, social y económico. Al igual que todos los aspectos de la sociedad humana, los planos de las ciudades han cambiado y evolucionado a lo largo del tiempo. Partiendo de los inicios de la Edad Moderna, este libro rastrea la conjunción de la planificación urbana y la cartografía hasta mediados del siglo xx. Al reunir planos de varias culturas dispares, incluidas las de Asia Oriental y Oriente Medio, sigue el desarrollo de la urbe desde los centros europeos hasta las ciudades coloniales, y desde las capitales del Viejo Mundo, construidas orgánicamente, hasta las metrópolis del Nuevo Mundo, planificadas de una forma rígida. En varios capítulos aparecen unas cuantas ciudades ancla, lo que permite realizar una comparación cartográfica directa de un espacio urbano específico en diferentes momentos históricos. También se incluyen breves biografías de los cartógrafos que produjeron cada plano, subrayando sus aportaciones a la cartografía.

Handbook of Middle American Indians, Volumes 14 and 15 Robert Wauchope, 2015-02-18 Volumes 14 and 15 of the Handbook of Middle American Indians, published in cooperation with the Middle American Research Institute of Tulane University under the general editorship of Robert Wauchope (1909-1979), constitute Parts 3 and 4 of the Guide to Ethnohistorical Sources. The Guide has been assembled under the volume editorship of the late Howard F. Cline, Director of the Hispanic Foundation in the Library of Congress, with Charles Gibson, John B. Glass, and H. B. Nicholson as associate volume editors. It covers geography and ethnogeography (Volume 12); sources in the European tradition (Volume 13); and sources in the native tradition: prose and pictorial materials, checklist of repositories, title and synonymy index, and annotated bibliography on native sources (Volumes 14 and 15). The present volumes contain the following studies on sources in the native tradition: "A Survey of Native Middle American Pictorial Manuscripts," by John B. Glass "A Census of Native Middle American Pictorial Manuscripts," by John B. Glass in collaboration with Donald Robertson "Techialoyan Manuscripts and Paintings, with a Catalog," by Donald Robertson "A Census of Middle American Testarian Manuscripts," by John B. Glass "A Catalog of Falsified Middle American Pictorial Manuscripts," by John B. Glass "Prose Sources in the Native Historical Tradition," by Charles Gibson and John B. Glass "A Checklist of Institutional Holdings of Middle American Manuscripts in the Native Historical Tradition," by John B. Glass "The Botutini Collection," by John B. Glass "Middle American Ethnohistory: An Overview" by H. B. Nicholson The Handbook of Middle American Indians was assembled and edited at the Middle American Research Institute of Tulane University with the assistance of grants from the National Science Foundation and under the sponsorship of the National Research Council Committee on Latin American Anthropology.

Vivienda y ciudad colonial Luis María Calvo, 2011 The author studies the importance of housing construction in the colonial city of Santa Fe (Argentina), and how these constructed spaces were fundamental in the historic transformations on a urban space that followed the model of the square grid urban design present in all the Hispano-American colonial cities (Latin America and the Caribbean). The urban importance of the constructed domestic spaces is generally ignored in the historiography of Colonial Hispanic architecture, and the earliest studies on colonial houses (Casa de los Azulejos in Mexico; Palacio de Torre-Tagle in Lima and Casa del Moral in Arequipa) are centered on their architectural and ornamentation characteristics. Architect Calvo presents a urban and architectural perspective and concludes that although the process of the construction of the city of Santa Fe required large civil and religious constructions, it was the sum of the individual acts of edification of housing that ultimately constituted the urban grid and landscape design.

Historic Cities of the Americas David F. Marley, 2005-09-12 With rare maps, prints, and photographs, this unique volume explores the dramatic history of the Americas through the birth and development of the hemisphere's great cities. Written by award-winning author David F. Marley, Historic Cities of the Americas covers the hard-to-find information of these cities' earliest years, including the unique aspects of each region's economy and demography, such as the growth of local mining, trade, or industry. The chronological layout, aided by the numerous maps and photographs, reveals the exceptional changes, relocations, destruction, and transformations these cities endured to become the metropolises they are today. Historic Cities of the Americas provides over 70 extensively detailed entries covering the foundation and evolution of the most significant urban areas in the western hemisphere. Critically researched, this work offers a rare look into the times prior to Christopher Columbus' arrival in 1492 and explores the common difficulties overcome by these European-conquered or -founded cities as they flourished into some of the most influential locations in the world.
