The Emergence of China's Smart State Rogier Creemers, Straton Papagianneas, Adam Knight, 2023-10-16 This volume covers Chinese technology policy, key emerging technologies, international engagement, and central-local relations--

China in European Narratives Li Zhang, 2023-09-25 This book explores how China, and especially China's Belt and Road Initiative, is viewed in European media and by European think tanks, thereby uncovering European elites' views of China. Looking across Europe—the European Union, Western Europe (including the United Kingdom), Central Europe, and Eastern Europe—the book reveals a complex picture, with different views in different places, and with different aspects of China disproportionately emphasized in some places. As China's importance in the world continues to grow, it is crucial to understand how distorted views of China are shaping international relations.

The Political Economy of China's Belt and Road Initiative in East Africa Simon Züfle, 2023-03-25 This book examines the implementation of the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) in East Africa. The BRI is considered China's central geopolitical and geo-economic project in the era of President Xi Jinping. Through this work, the author aims to contribute to filling some research gaps, such as the lack of depth in studies of individual BRI projects and the underconsideration of processing narratives in participating countries. The guiding question is the extent to which the BRI is a political or hegemonic project of the CCP-directed state-civil society complex in East Africa. To answer these questions, databases of international organizations and policy documents are analyzed. In addition, the author conducts a qualitative content analysis of newspaper articles from local media houses in the countries of Ethiopia, Kenya, and Tanzania to examine three infrastructure projects. The work illustrates that the BRI contributes to increasing connectivity in East Africa. At the same time, the compression of economic relations and the implementation of infrastructure projects in East Africa lead to numerous consequences and contour a hegemonic project.

Challenges to China's Economic Statecraft Yi Edward Yang, 2019-08-09 Fueled by its surging economic strength, China has been increasingly utilizing economic tools such as trade, foreign aid, foreign direct investment, and sanctions to pursue strategic and security interests on the world stage. This approach, known as economic statecraft, has thus far received mixed policy results and ambivalent reactions from the international community. This book presents a collection of global assessments of China's economic statecraft. The contributors to this volume answer three key questions: What are the challenges faced by China's economic statecraft? Why is China sometimes able to achieve its foreign policy objectives via economic statecraft and sometimes not? How do foreign countries, particularly the targets of China's economic statecraft, respond to China's strategies? This comprehensive study examines economic statecraft in the context of more than a dozen nations and international organizations across four continents, thus providing a truly global perspective.

Research Handbook on the Arms Trade Andrew T.H. Tan, 2020-12-25 This comprehensive Research Handbook examines the key drivers of the arms trade, mapping the main trends in Asia, Europe, the Middle East, Africa and Latin America. It also explores the principal defence markets internationally, including the US, China, India, Russia and the UK in greater detail.

You Will Own Nothing Carol Roth, 2023-07-18 AN INSTANT NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER A NEXT BIG IDEA CLUB MUST-READ The bestselling author and entrepreneur investigates what would happen if a new financial world order took hold, one in which global elites own everything and you own nothing—and yet you are somehow happy. When Carol Roth first heard that one of the World Economic Forum's predictions for 2030 was “You will own nothing, and be happy,” she thought it was an outlandish fantasy. Then, she researched it. What she found was that a number of businesses, governments, and global elites share a vision of a future that sounds utopian: Everyone will have everything they need, and no one will own anything. From declines in home and vehicle ownership to global inflation and government spending, many of the trends of modern life reveal that a new world that is emerging—one in which Western citizens, by choice or by circumstance, increasingly do not own possessions or accumulate wealth. It's the perfect economic environment for the rich and powerful to solidify their positions and prevent anyone else from getting ahead. In You Will Own Nothing, Roth reveals how the agendas of Wall Street, world governments, international organizations, socialist activists, and multinational corporations like Blackrock all work together to reduce the power of the dollar and prevent millions of Americans from taking control of their wealth. She shows why owning fewer assets makes you poorer and less free. This book is essential guide to protecting your hard-earned wealth for the coming generations.

Foreign Direct Investment in Latin America and the Caribbean 2017 United Nations. Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean, 2018-01-15 This publication sets out and analyses the main foreign direct investment (FDI) trends in the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean. The 2017 edition shows that the region is at a difficult juncture. FDI inflows declined by 7.9% in 2016, to US$ 167.043 billion, representing a cumulative fall of 17.0% since the peak in 2011. The fall in commodity prices continues to affect investments in natural resources, sluggish economic growth in several countries has slowed the flow of market-seeking capital, and the global backdrop of technological sophistication and expansion of the digital economy has concentrated transnational investments in developed economies.

Akademische Arbeit aus dem Jahr 2021 im Fachbereich Politik - Region: Ferner Osten, Note: 2.0, Universität Regensburg (Politikwissenschaft), Veranstaltung: Einführung in die Regierungssystem Mittel- und Osteuropas, Sprache: Deutsch, Abstract: Die nach der Machtergreifung der Kommunisten Ende der 40er-Jahre eingetretene Mao-Verfassung in 1945 führte ein neues System ein, welches mit denen westlicher Systemen nicht zu vergleichen ist. Mit der Zeit sind westliche Einflüsse erkennbar geworden, wie z. B. die Aufteilung der Judikative in drei Teile. In der Selbstwahrnehmung vieler Chinesen ist die VR China eine Demokratie. Dabei muss jedoch beachtet werden, dass sich der Demokratiebegriff in Asien, sich von dem der westlichen Welt unterscheidet. Der westlichen Demokratie wird das liberale Demokratieverständnis von z. B. Robert Alan Dahl zugeschrieben. Statt der Freiheit des Individuums, freie Wahlen und Gewaltenteilung, wird in dem asiatischen Demokratieverständnis die Schutzfunktion der Regierenden in den Vordergrund gestellt. Eine sog. Schutzherrschaft ist somit häufig in Gesellschaften vorzufinden, welche seit Generationen eine starke und autoritäre Führung haben, so wie hier im Falle Chinas (unter Mao Zedong, Deng Xiaoping, Xi Jinping). Es stellt sich folgende Frage: Inwiefern ist China eine Autokratie oder ist sie "noch" eine defekte Demokratie? Der Economist publiziert jährlich seine nach dem Demokratie-Index bewerteten, Ländertabellen. Bei einem durchschnittlichen Wert von 2.26/2.27 (Stand 2020 und 2021), fällt China unter die Kategorie der autoritären Regime. Es wird davon ausgegangen, dass am Ende dieser Hausarbeit die Volksrepublik keine defekte Demokratie, sondern ein autoritäres Regierungssystem ist. Um die leitende Fragestellung dieser Hausarbeit zu analysieren wird der Autoritarismus nach J. Juan Linz vorgestellt und anschließend von der defekten Demokratie nach Wolfgang Merkel abgegrenzt. Es wird zudem auf die bestehende Begriffsproblematik des Autoritarismus eingegangen. Die Kriterien autoritärer Systeme nach Linz werden durch die von Jerzy Maćków publizierten Erläuterungen ergänzt. Anschließend wird das chinesische Regierungssystem nach den vorliegenden Kriterien analysiert. J. Juan Linz bietet vier Kriterien autoritärer Regierungssysteme. Die Punkte "Führer" oder kleine Gruppe an der Macht, keine allumfassende Ideologie/Mentalität und schließlich keine extensive oder intensive Mobilisierung der Massen werden unter dem Hauptpunkt des eingeschränkten Pluralismus analysiert.

China's Foreign Political and Economic Relations Sebastian Heilmann, Dirk H. Schmidt, 2014-01-09 This balanced and thoughtful book presents a thorough analysis of the dynamics of China's foreign relations. Sebastian Heilmann and Dirk H. Schmidt provide a comprehensive and discriminating view of the complex, often competing factors (domestic influences, regional tensions, global uncertainties) that shape Chinese foreign policy. They portray the PRC as a land of multiple identities—a nation that is becoming more assertive in East Asia as it explores novel approaches to its foreign economic policies, while simultaneously displaying thin-skinned sensitivities when confronted with international criticism. The authors argue that unconventional approaches to foreign relations—in particular a unique combination of long-term strategies with multilevel policy experiments—are driving Chinese global expansion. The provocative and challenging final chapter, designed to spur discussion, considers China's imperial identity warring against the decentralized activities conducted in the "shadow of the empire." Illicit transnational "guerilla-like" networks have thus become powerful driving forces behind the continued development of China's foreign policy as well as its foreign-trade relations. The authors contend that the activities of these "niche nomads," with their largely invisible or chameleon-like presence, constitute the most alarming dimension of China's foreign relations as they gain ground and resources in many parts of the world with the potential to shake the very foundations of other societies.

Towards a "principles First Approach" in Europe's China Policy Mikko Huotari, 2020

Red Swan Sebastian Heilmann, 2018-07-15 The resilience of the Communist party-state, in combination with a rapidly expanding economy, represents a significant deviant case for the debate about models of development. This book focuses on the manner in which China's governmental system can be developed, formulated, implemented, adjusted, and revised. Policy-making is seen as an open ended process with an uncertain outcome, driven by conflicting interests, recurrent interactions, and continuous feedback, rather than determined by history, regime type, or institutions. Key to this are the capacity to deal with both existing and emerging challenges, correction mechanisms when conflicts arise, and adaptive capabilities in a changing economic or international context.

Social Credit Vincent Brussee, 2023 Vincent Brussee is one of the very few scholars who I regularly recommend as essential reading on China's social credit system. For years, he has remained consistently abreast of the latest developments in this complicated and evolving area, and his writing has helped to dispel the fog of misinformation that surrounds the subject in popular media. --Jeremy Daum, Senior Research Fellow, Paul Tsai China Center, Yale University School of Law China's Social Credit System has been a source for fanciful speculation and gratuitous mythmaking. How does it actually work in practice? This book provides a rigorous and detailed review of the system's historical evolution, its structuring, and its functionality and dysfunctionality. It provides a useful corrective to dominant narratives, as well as a fascinating insight into governance reform in China. - Rogier Creemers, Assistant Professor at Leiden University China's Social Credit System has fundamentally re-shaped of surveillance worldwide, with discussions of it making it into hundreds of media headlines and all the way into European Union legislation and the United Nations. Social Credit offers one of the first comprehensive assessments of this infamous system. It is aimed at the many experts and professionals - both scholarly and more broadly - that have to deal with its fallout on a regular basis. In a concise format, it covers the questions that have garnered the most attention worldwide: from social credit scoring and blacklists to its history and theoretical foundation. Throughout, its core thesis is that more often than not, even China's government is at a loss what to do with this messy and complex initiative. This has caused fragmented and low-tech implementation, but where insufficient legal safeguards can have far-reaching implications for the normal market order and for human rights. Vincent Brussee is an Analyst at the Mercator Institute for China Studies, Europe's largest think tank and research institute on contemporary China. He is the institute's lead researcher on the Social Credit System. In addition to publishing extensively for MERICS, his work has been featured in Foreign Policy, the Diplomat, and various national outlets in Europe. He holds a graduate degree with the highest distinction in Asian Studies from Leiden University (the Netherlands), focusing on China's domestic governance.
