Organic Chemistry Education Research into Practice Jay Wackerly,Sarah Zingales,Michael Wentzel,Gautam Bhattacharyya,Brett McCollum,2025-03-25 This Research Topic has three main goals: (1) provide a platform for instructors of organic chemistry to showcase evidence-based methods and educational theories they have utilized in their classrooms, (2) build new and strengthen existing connections between educational researchers and practitioners, and (3) highlight how people have used chemical education-based research in their teaching practice. There are places in the literature dedicated for chemical education research (CER); however, there is not a clear avenue for those that have changed their teaching methods based on published CER and report their experiences. Creating this article collection will foster collaboration between chemical education researchers and teachers of organic chemistry. This opportunity allows these instructors to share evidence-based practices, experiences, challenges, and innovative approaches from CER literature and beyond. This Research Topic bridges discipline-based education research and the scholarship of teaching and learning, which will help advance organic chemistry education and improve student outcomes.

With Eyes of Flesh Carole R. Fontaine, 2008 Carole Fontaine, well known among biblical scholars for her feminist studies in the biblical wisdom traditions and the ancient Near East, is also a human rights and interfaith activist working on issues of violence against Muslim women in the Middle East and Southern Asia and a board member of many agencies such as the International Network for the Rights of Female Victims of Violence in Pakistan, and the Women's Forum against Fundamentalism in Iran. In this collection of her essays, mostly previously unpublished, she brings together these two concerns, distilling from the scriptures of Judaism, Christianity and Islam valuable insights into current questions of human rights. Unlike many writers, Fontaine recognizes the critical role of gender in the fundamental concept of the 'Other', so determinative for our view of humanity. In our days, Fontaine argues, human rights issues have taken on a new dimension in political discourse about war, peace and terror, where often an appeal is made to religious and scriptural justifications for the violation or preservation of rights. Fontaine urges attention to the priority of the sufferer in adjudicating meaning, and turns to the 'little texts' of daily ethics rather than grand theological abstractions in order to place 'scriptures' in meaningful conversation with the concrete realities of our world.
